Three Car Looter Suspects Captured In Mt. Tam Chase

Marin Coast Screened By Sheriff's Stakeout

Three men from the East Bay, suspected of being members of a car-looting ring operating along the Marin-Sonoma Coast, were nabbed at gunpoint atop Mount Tamalpais Saturday in a sheriff's stakeout net.

Two rookie deputies, members of an 18-man stakeout, caught the suspects after a down-mountain chase from the summit parking area.

Suspects are John Howard Noland, 38, San Pablo musician-bartender; Harold Glen Martin, 33, Richmond laborer, and Clarence Edward Greenlee, 22, San Pablo service station operator.

Noland, bailed out for $1,575, is scheduled to appear in court Wednesday. The other two remained in custody.

Their captors were Martin Colin, who had just joined the sheriff's regulars about a month ago, and Reserve Deputy Michael Craig, a volunteer.

Deputies Conlin and Craig, driving an undercover car, chased the suspects into an embankment about a mile below the summit, then called for reinforcements.

When veteran deputies sped to the scene, they found the three suspects lying face down in the middle of the roadway with the two rookie officers standing over them with revolvers drawn.

WELL DONE

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos commended his entire stakeout crew, especially Deputy Conlin and Reserve Deputy Craig, for "a job well done."

Capt. Sidney Stinson, who organized the stakeout, estimated that $6,000 in goods and cash had been stolen from parked cars along the Marin coast during the past five weeks. A group of deputies under Sgt. Kenneth Irving, wearing civilian clothes and driving old cars, were strung out from Muir Woods to Tomales Saturday in a determined effort to stop the car burglaries.

The capture came earlier than expected.

LIKE TOURISTS

Deputy Conlin and Craig, assigned to Mount Tamalpais, pulled into the summit parking area about 2:45 p.m.

"We wandered around, using binoculars and trying to look like tourists," Craig reported. He wore an old pair of trousers, blue sweater and red baseball cap. Conlin had khaki trousers and sport shirt.

A few minutes later, the three suspects pulled up alongside the undercover car and began wandering around the parked cars. The officers watched until the suspects had

SAUSALITO HEARING

Principal Tells Of Finding Pupils Out Of Control

Robert D. Thompson, Richardson Bay School principal, presented evidence this morning as hearing opened in Sausalito on the ouster of one of his teachers. He said he visited her classroom on several occasions to find the pupils out of control and in some cases hiding.

The hearing is for dismissed teacher Evelyn J. Schoenfeld, before Coleman Stuart, hearing officer for the California Office of Administrative Procedure in Sacramento, in the district office at Bayside School.

Miss Schoenfeld was given dismissal notice March 25, charged with failure to control her classes. Another teacher, Donald Venturini, was also given notice but he subsequently resigned.

Thompson, principal at the school for eight years and a teacher in the district for four prior years, cited an incident March 13 when he came to Miss Schoenfeld's class and found it "extremely noisy."

"I opened the door and five boys were running around the center of the room," he said. "One boy had a counting bead toy in his hand and was throwing it in people's faces."

Douglas J. Maloney, attorney for the administration, asked, "When you entered, what was Miss Schoenfeld doing to quell the disturbance?"

"Nothing," said Thompson.

He also said that on March 8 he observed pupils in her class yelling across the room, and the class seemed restless. Again, on Nov. 2, 1962, he had observed her class at an assembly where it was "extremely noisy—I had to talk to them myself to quiet them down."

Thompson said pupils had run out of the room for protection. Quite a few students had hit each other in the room, he said, adding:

"I think if they had been properly motivated this could have been prevented."

Thompson said Miss Schoenfeld had sent 67 discipline referral slips to the principal's office during the current year. By comparison, the seventh and eighth grade mentally retarded class, which has more difficult problems to cope with, had 20 discipline referral slips, he said.

He said the referrals take up class time and humiliate the pupils.

Thompson testified he had given Miss Schoenfeld satisfactory report for her first two years.

This afternoon, Maloney was to call Irene Duro, secretary of the Richardson Bay Schools, and Marcus F. Davis, district superintendent.

Miss Schoenfeld is special education teacher in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. She has only 14 pupils in one class.

6 Teeners, Man, 30, In Drink Party

A Kentfield man and six teen-agers, arrested early Saturday at a Tamalpais Valley drinking party, are scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday afternoon.

Ten were arrested in all, at a home at 387 Woodside Avenue. Deputy Sheriff Joseph G. Kelly said he knocked, and a girl opened the door slightly, then tried to slam it. Kelly blocked it with his foot, and entered.

Booked in county jail were: Melvin Allen Dunlap, 30, of 825 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield; Francis Mitchell Orella, 19, of 153 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley; Lee Allen Daniels, 19, of 10½ Locust Avenue, Mill Valley; Richard Woodley Smith, 18, of 389 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley; Carol Wooten, 19, of 316 Third Street, Sausalito; Shirley Johnstone, 20, of 411 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, and Eleanor Karin Lem, 18, of 29 Charles Lane, Mill Valley.

Two other girls, aged 16, were taken to Juvenile Hall, and a 17-year-old girl was turned over to her parents.

Dunlap was booked on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of minors. The The others were booked on suspicion of illegal liquor possession and delinquency.

Budget Cutters Annoy Brown

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown told a meeting of his department heads today that he gets "constantly annoyed at general calls for cutting down our budget.

"They don't know where to cut down," Brown said, "just cut down."

He was apparently referring to criticism by Republicans and some key Democrats.

Brown told the department heads that he hoped "the next time you hear this criticism, you'll call them in and talk to them."

Births Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Births continued to decline during February, but the death rate was up under the impact of the winter's influenza.

Vets Have Week To Seek Property Tax Exemptions

Veterans have only one week in which to file for property tax exemptions for 1963-64, Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel reminded today.

Deadline for filing is May 6 at 5 p.m.

Broemmel said all applications must be in his office by the 5 p.m. deadline to be considered.

Applications are lagging so far this year, partly, Broemmel believes, because of last year's grand jury investigation of veterans' tax exemptions.

About 7,000 veterans have filed this year, compared to more than 9,000 at this time last year. Broemmel said some 10,000 exemptions were granted last year of a total 10,500 filed.

OAS Watching War Threat In Hispaniola

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — An armed clash between the two neighbors of the Caribbean island of Hispaniola threatened today. The Dominican Republic accused Haiti of invading its embassy, and Haiti broke diplomatic relations between the two countries.

President Juan Bosch gave Haitian President Francois Duvalier 24 hours to withdraw troops surrounding the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince. The Embassy is sheltering 22 foes of Duvalier.

LEAVES CANCELED

The Dominican deadline was originally set for 6 a.m., EST. But the government said it had extended the ultimatum until 8 p.m. because of an inpeace.

"Unless the outrages against the Dominican Republic in Haiti end within 24 hours, we will put an end to them by all means within our power," Bosch said.

The Dominican armed forces Elvis Vinas Roman, announced all troop leaves had been canceled. But he said there was no military movement toward the Haitian border.

The Organization of American States ordered a five-nation fact-finding team to fly to both countries to investigate the crisis next door to Cuba. The OAS appealed to both governments to keep the peace.

The dispute with the Dominicans flared as a result of Duvalaier's attempt to crush rising opposition to his regime.

TENSION MOUNTS

Tension began mounting a week ago when leaflets warned Duvalier that an attempt would be made to overthrow him May 15—the end of his first term as president.

Suspicious that opposition to him centered in the regular army, Duvalier last week fired 64 officers, the bulk of the army's leadership. The dictator has built up a personal militia and presidential guard that outnumber the army and are better armed.

On Friday, occupants of a speeding car opened fire on Duvalier's two children, Jan Claude, 12, and Simone, 14, as they were being driven home from school. Three of the children's guards were slain but the children were not hurt.

The attack triggered weekend violence in which 15 persons were reported killed and at least 68 Haitians, including former army officers and their families, took haven in Latin-American embassies.

'Tropic Of Cancer' Seller Due Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Los Angeles book dealer arrested for exhibiting and selling the book "Tropic of Cancer" was granted today a Supreme Court hearing.

The dealer, Bradley Reed Smith, was convicted by a jury that found the book by Henry Miller to be obscene. He was put on probation for one year, but the first 30 days of the probationary term were to be served in the city jail.

675 Cubans Arrive

PORT EVERGLADES, Fla. (UPI)—The U. S. ship American Surveyor brought 675 refugees from Cuba to freedom today, most of them seasick from a stormy overnight voyage. They brought new confirmation of a one-plane attack on Havana last week.

Two Non-Swimmers Rescued In Bay After Man Dived To Save Woman

A San Quentin Prison accountant, himself no swimmer, leaped into San Francisco Bay yesterday to save the life of a woman boating companion who was swept overboard, and both were saved in the nick of time by a Greenbrae boatman.

Carl Spector, 24, or Quarters 116, San Quentin Village, took Mrs. Linda Berney, 23, of 147 Pine Street, San Anselmo, on a ride on the bay to show off his new 14-foot outboard motorboat. They left the prison launching ramp at 2 p.m.

A half hour later, as they cruised on the bay, the steering jammed as Spector attempted to maneuver the craft. The boat made a sharp turn, spilling Mrs. Berney into the water.

Aware she could not swim, Spector grabbed a buoyant cushion that was close at hand and tossed it to her for a life preserver.

The cushion dropped upon the water out of reach of the struggling Mrs. Berney. As she floundered, she later related, Spector leaped into the bay and pushed the cushion toward her.

Meantime, the boat had traveled considerable distance before its motor failed. Spector and Mrs. Berney found themselves both in the tossing bay, a half mile offshore, with no rescue in sight.

Harry Joseph of Greenbrae, parts manager for Jack L. Hunt Motors of San Rafael, was cruising in his own 14-foot outboard motorboat.

"I saw the two people in the water, and thought they were just swimming," he related. "As I got closer, I could faintly hear cries for help."

Both were near drowning when Joseph arrived to pull them aboard his boat. He later placed Spector on his own boat and took Mrs. Barney to the San Quentin ramp. Neither of the dunked pair required hospitalization.

Mrs. Berney's husband, Officer Michael Berney of San Anselmo police, was high in praise of his longtime friend, Spector.

"He was safe on the boat, but he jumped in to try to save my wife although he was no swimmer himself," said Berney.

"You don't find many people like that."

Marin Believed At Crossroad Of 3 Ways To Government

By RICHARD LYTTLE

County government in Marin was seen at the crossroads Saturday with three roads ahead —three roads leading in different directions.

The county could increase its city-like services and become an urban agency. It could go the other direction and encourage more cities to incorporate with the offer of contracted services. Or it could join other counties of the Bay Area and become only a fragment of a huge metropolitan agency.

These choices were described by Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon, a member of a panel on county government, at the Citizens Forum on Marin and Its Governments, held before 130 at the Civic Center. She saw no clear prediction of the county future.

"Right now, I see trends in all three directions," she said.

A former member of the county planning commission, Mrs. Azevedo said the county government is becoming more and more urban. As one example, she cited the Civic Center as an urban facility.

Gov. Rockefeller Just Smiling

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller smiled and declined comment today on a published report that he will marry recently divorced Margaretta Fitler Murphy May 18 or 19.

A copyright story in today's New York Mirror quoted an unidentified friend of the Rockefeller family as saying:

"The date will be Saturday, May 18, or Sunday, May 19. The ceremony will be performed at a Protestant Episcopal church—but not the one where Rockefeller usually worships," the interdenominational Riverside church on Riverside Drive.

License Bill Vetoed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today vetoed a bill to exempt marriage license applicants over 65 from taking a premarital blood test.

Daylight Brings Out Everybody

It was a really big spring weekend all over Marin County with lovers of the open spaces making up for lost time after the rains.

Parks, beaches and bird refuges came in for major attention. Both highways and byways were thronged with cars with the first day of daylight saving time keeping people out later.

Swim devotees continued a trifle shy as far as the seashore was concerned, but many took a dip in streams of Samuel P. Taylor State Park, according to Frank Ballinghausen, assistant park supervisor.

His figures showed 1,092 Sunday visitors with 267 cars of picnickers counted over the weekend.

Between Taylor and Tamalpais State Parks 60-odd horseback riders and hikers were counted yesterday.

"We were mobbed" said Mrs. Thelma McLaren at the Audubon Society's Canyon Ranch bird refuge on Bolinas Lagoon. She said on Saturday more than 200 appeared and many couldn't find room to park their cars because of sudden incursion of Park School parents, a garden club and Camp Fire Girls.

Mrs. McLaren said this is an ideal time for a visit. The herons have hatched their young but the white egrets are just hatching, she reported.

Attendance at Tomales Bay State Park was "very good both days," it was reported. But the water is still chilly in the bay and few swimmers have been in evidence so far.

Good clam tides were reported both Saturday and yesterday.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Record Turnout In Italy Vote

ROME (AP)—A record voter turnout was indicated today as Italy wound up nationwide elections to pick a new Parliament and pass judgment on government cooperation with the left.

Voters who didn't cast ballots on the first day of polling yesterday had a final seven hours today.

In 14 hours of polling yesterday 80 per cent of the 34 million eligible voters went to the polls. This compared with 77 per cent for the first day of balloting in 1958, when the election ended with a record turnout of 93.8 per cent.

Six persons were injured in a series of pre-dawn bombings Sunday in Milan's central railway station. Police blamed agitators for greater local autonomy in the Alto Adige (South Tyrol), a north Italian area that once belonged to Austria.

Hoffa Wins In Key Election

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—International Teamster President James R. Hoffa has won a two-to-one victory over the AFL-CIO in a key representation election—one of the stiffest challenges to his leadership in the nation's largest union.

Hoffa

The official count in the National Labor Relations Board election was 4,893 for the Teamsters, 2,550 for an insurgent group known as the "Voice of the Teamsters," which had the public support of AFL-CIO President George Meany.

At stake in the four-day election which ended last night was the right to represent 8,200 over-the-road truckers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, members of four Teamsters locals.

A jubilant Hoffa, in Philadelphia for much of the past 15 weeks directing his campaign, received the news of his victory by thrusting two figures downward.

"The Voice down," he said. "Down the Voice."

Criminals Executed In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—Firing squads killed three Cubans during the weekend in the first application of a new law authorizing the death penalty for common criminals.

The government announced the executions yesterday and said the men had been convicted of posing as state security police to carry out a series of house robberies and holdups.

'Mrs. America' Still In A Daze

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Mrs. Marilyn Mitchell of San Diego, a 35-year-old mother of three, was crowned Mrs. America here Saturday night.

Mrs. America

"I'm still in a daze," said Mrs. Mitchell. "I had the winner all picked out and it wasn't me."

Mrs. Mitchell, who was the California entrant, will receive $30,000 in prizes, including a personal appearance tour.

Her husband, R. Lyle Mitchell said, "I guess I'll be a baby sitter for the next year, but I don't mind because she is doing what she wants to do."

Runnerup in the field of 51, was Mrs. Minnesota, 36-year-old Virginia Firnschold of Rochester.

Artificial Grinners For Bossy

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP)—There's an 8-year-old cow down Tombstone way that can flash a shiny set of choppers with every moo.

Dr. Charles Behney, a Bisbee, Ariz., veterinarian, fitted the cow with a set of stainless steel teeth Sunday in an effort to prove his claim that cows will be healthier, happier and more productive of calves if they have dentures to replace teeth worn down and decayed after years of grazing.

The dentures cost $20 a set and are expected to last from three to five years. The experiment is being conducted on the Jack Duran ranch near here.

Missile Success

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — A mighty Titan 2 missile—the most powerful in the nation's arsenal—was right on target after a 4,000-mile flight over the Pacific Ocean, the Air Force says.

Officers described Saturday's launching as the first successful West Coast firing of the giant 103-foot missile from its underground silo.

Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths the first three months this year — 8,460, including a record toll for March —was the third highest ever reported for the period by the National Safety Council.

The council said the record January-March toll was 8,615 in 1937 and the second highest was 8,546 in 1956. Traffic fatalities in March totaled 3,120, topping the old March record toll of 2,940 in 1956.

The council reported 300,000 persons suffered injuries in traffic accidents from Jan. 1 to April 1.

Boardwalk Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — A wind-whipped fire roared out of control last night along two blocks of Coney Island's boardwalk.

The fire, of undetermined cause, broke out in an unoccupied restaurant at 20th Street and the Boardwalk and spread quickly.

A bathhouse and swimming pool and eight Boardwalk stores and concessions were destroyed.

Smoke, rising in columns as high as 150 feet, was visible for miles, drawing thousands of curious to the scene.

The cost of a loaf of bread went from 13.5 cents in 1947 to 20.9 cents in 1962.

Tornado Lifts Car Carrying Nine, Girl Dies

AUBURN, Neb. (UPI) — Mrs. Fred Schilling, 37, was driving with her eight children yesterday when a tornado swooped down and lifted her car from the highway.

The swirling funnel hurled the auto through power lines and bounced it across an open field, dumping its occupants at intervals of 400 to 500 feet.

One child, Diane, 14, died. The mother and her other seven sons and daughters today fought for their lives.

The car was demolished.

Diane died on an operating table in an Auburn hospital last night four hours after the mishap. Mrs. Shilling was hospitalized in Lincoln, and her seven other children were in hospitals in Auburn and Nebraska City.

Cal Gamboni, motor company operator from Nebraska City, said he was driving a short distance ahead of the Shilling car. He and his wife, Esther, said they saw the car hurled off the highway and through the power lines.

The force of the twister turned over the Gamboni vehicle but Gamboni and his wife escaped serious injury.

Gamboni notified authorities and helped with the rescue work.

"The car popped over a hill and there it was—they didn't have a chance," Gamboni said.

All the victims were unconscious when they were admitted to hospitals.

At Fort Worth, Tex., damage today was estimated at more than 1.5 milloin dollars in the wake of a small tornado and 92- mile an hour winds that struck yesterday.

A flood watch was being kept on lowlands of the Trinity River, swollen by heavy rains the last four days.

Dozens of persons were injured, none seriously.

The tornado ripped through a five-mile stretch of the city, tearing up trees and sections of street pavement. Electric wires from uprooted utility poles snapped and crackled in the streets.

40,000 Greet Castro In Moscow But Big Show Not Enthusiastic

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev led 40,000 Russians through a Red Square welcome to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro yesterday, but the elaborate show failed to whip up the frenzied enthusiasm Westerners had expected.

The bearded Cuban leader proclaimed that, except for the Soviet Union, his revolutionary regime could not exist. He heaped praise on Soviet economic and military aid.

Castro, wearing a fur hat against the chilly winds, was relatively restrained in manner.

Khrushchev opened the proceedings from the reviewing stand atop Lenin's tomb and set the tone.

He donned steel-rimmed spectacles and slowly and dryly read a welcoming speech which —one more time—said the Soviet Union was lined up shoulder - to - shoulder with Cuba against the United States.

Castro, who towered over his host, read a Spanish translation while Khrushchev spoke.

The crowds, conveyed to the square in army trucks, applauded mostly on signal from Khrushchev.

Khrushchev claimed that Soviet support for Cuba during last Autumn's crisis had avoided a clash with the United States that could have touched off World War III. Saying that the Soviet Union would stick by Cuba, he added, "it is not Cuba that threatens the United States but the United States that wishes to take away the freedom the Cuban people won for themselves."

Castro did not refer to the Soviet missile withdrawal and brushed over the crisis with the brief statement that "the imperialists would not have stopped short of an open invasion of our country if it were not for the Soviet Union."

Khrushchev was out at blustery Vnukova Airport when Castro arrived by plane from the arctic port of Murmansk where he spent yesterday morning inspecting the northern sea fleet.

Castro and Khrushchev, who Assembly in New York in October 1960, embraced but did not kiss as they greeted one another.

They drove into the gaily decorated city in a motorcade through lines of schoolchildren waving Soviet and Cuban flags.

College Y.R. Group Finally Splits Open

SANTA ROSA (AP) — The threatened split of the California Young Republican College Federation into moderate and right wing units finally appears to have happened.

Randolf Seifkin, moderates' choice for president of the federation, said he was pulling out of the organization and taking 1,500 of the 2,800 members with him.

He made the announcement at the close of the California Young Republicans executive board meeting in Santa Rosa.

Seifkin, a student at University of California at Santa Barbara, said the moderates would meet in Sacramento June 14 to establish their group as the California College Republicans.

The Y.R. executive board on Saturday voided Seifkin's election by the college federation's moderates during the recent state convention in Fresno.

The board ratified by 53-20 vote the election of Trent DeVenny, a Pepperdine student, who was chosen by the right wing faction in Fresno. DeVenny had support from Robert Gaston, right wing La Canada attorney who heads the Y.R. state organization.

Seifkin said the executive board "denied the majority ... the right to freely elect their leaders," thereby destroying the federation's effectiveness.

He said the new group would work for election of all Republican candidates and that members of the group would remain Y.R. members on an individual basis. Seifkin added that the moderately controlled Republican State Central Committee would be asked to sanction his group.

A plea by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael), that the Young Republicans sight their guns at the Democrats instead of fighting each other, got a cool reception at the group's luncheon session.

At its dinner meeting, the convention had as principal speaker Slobodan M. Draskovich, a member of the national council of the John Birch Society.

Legislature Has Eight Weeks To Go—Governor's In Trouble

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Mounting criticism by leaders of both parties pointed up Gov. Brown's second-term woes in the legislature today.

With only eight weeks of the session left, much of the governor's program is stalled, his "tax reform" plan jeopardized and his budget under steady fire.

What's behind it?

The reasons aren't hard to find:

The Democratic chief executive has lost the close tie-in he had with majority Democrats during his high-riding 1959-62 period. The honeymoon is definitely over.

Many Democrats feel that with so much accomplished in the two previous sessions, it's time to coast and to avoid any big new undertakings. A don't-rock-the-boat" mood prevails.

Senat Majority Leader Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) Brown's strong right arm before, has broken bitterly with him on budget policies and other issues.

Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) is exercising strong control over the Assembly—and it doesn't always go Brown's way. Unruh has shown lukewarm support for the administration's 1963 goals.

Business lobbyists, who didn't buck Brown too hard the first time around, are out to scuttle his proposed tax revisions, primarily a withholding system on income taxes.

The governor's own staff has lacked the experienced hands and the drive that marked the Democrats' return to political power in 1959. His office has gone through several complete turnovers of key personnel.

Senator Burns dramatized Brown's troubles last week by turning against his requests for new or increased services and accusing the administration of "political dishonesty" in its budget practices.

The Assembly's two Republicans kept up the barrage in weekend statements.

Don Mulford (R-Piedmont) accused Brown of basing revenue estimates on nine assumptions which the Assembly Republican caucus chairman called "either vague, unsound or over-optimistic."

The minority floor leader, Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks) assailed new programs proposed by the governor. He said they may involve modest costs at the outset but eventually will run into millions of dollars.

Additional taxation becomes inevitable. The initial appropriation is just a foot in the door.

LAOS FIGHTING LULL IN ITS FOURTH DAY

VIETIANE, Laos (AP) — The lull in the Laotian fighting went into its fourth day today with neutralists and pro-Communists apparently biding their time during diplomatic negotiations.

The Communist - controlled Pathet Lao held fast to the territory it seized from the neutralists on the strategic Plaine des Jarres but made no new advances.

Leaders of the two factions were scheduled to meet again tomorrow to renew peace talks which have so far been unsuccessful. Pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong has demanded they be broadened to include such topics as neutralization of Vietiane and not be limited to the Plaine des Jarres crisis.

Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma has not indicated whether he would agree.

Souphanouvong enlarged the scope of the conflict Saturday by charging that the United States had flown 500 Laotian right-wing troops to reinforce the neutralists. The U.S. Embassy and neutralist Gen. Kong Le denied this. The charter company Air America was alleged to have done the transporting.

Watching closely were representatives of the International Control Commission for Laos, made up of India, Canada and Poland. They make periodic trips to the Plaine des Jarres, 120 miles northeast of Vietiane, because the Pathet Lao has refused to let them be stationed permanently in the area.

PROPOSED SHOPPING CENTER — Ground will be broken tomorrow noon for this three-million-dollar Value World Center at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive in Larkspur. The center is designed by and will be constructed by Stolte, Inc. Oakland contractors. Completion is expected by Sept. 1.

Value World Shops Groundbreaking Set

Ground will be broken tomorrow noon for the long-awaited Larkspur Plaza shopping center at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive.

The three-million-dollar, all-under-one-roof center will be known as Value World. It will be built and operated by Value World, Inc., a new corporation headed by William S. Lee of Ignacio, executive of the Lee Brothers supermarket chain.

Lee and other officers of the corporation will host city and county officials at an informal lunch at the Blue Rock Inn following brief groundbreaking ceremonies.

Value World will, of course, include a Lee Brothers Market. Under the same roof on the four one-half acre site will be camera, hardware and paint, jewelry, liquor, candy, drugs, snack bar, shoes, sporting goods, sundries, women's and infant wear shops.

The same conception of one-roof shopping center will be used by Lee Brothers in the Crossroads Center in Novato.

Construction plan encompasses 60,000 square feet over-all, with 48,000 square feet of selling space. Work will begin immediately following ground breaking, with completion scheduled for Sept. 1. Stolte Inc. of Oakland is contractor for the project.

The building will be contemporary modern with exposed aggregate exterior panels featuring "Pacific gold" rock. The window wall entry overlooks the parking area with 300 stalls. The building will be completely air-conditioned. Interior decoration will feature vinyl asbestos flooring and an "acoustic spray texture" ceiling.

There will be automatic check stands, four-decker upright frozen food cases, and the latest in refrigeration equipment — dairy cases with air-curtain doors.

Officers of Value World, in addition to William S. Lee, are his brother Robert N. Lee, vice president; William H. Lamm, secretary-treasurer; Leon J. Sayous and Gil Johannessen, directors. Firm headquarters are in Hayward.

The shopping center will complete the 11-acre Larkspur Plaza development, being surrounded on three sides on the remaining seven acres by apartment buildings. The plaza plan was first submitted to the Larkspur Planning Commission in October, 1961. Plans for the shopping center were approved shortly thereafter, but plans for the apartment area went through several alteration before construction began.

Man Jailed For Knifing At Christening Party

A Novato man was booked in Marin County Jail yesterday for allegedly slashing the face of his step-son during a quarrel at a family christening party.

Alfred Brooks, 20, of Palo Alto, told Novato police that his step-father, Andrew Louis McGue, 42, attacked him with a kitchen knife at McGue's home at 620 Arthur Street, Novato.

Brooks was treated at Novato Hospital for a gash on the left side of his face and neck. The knife narrowly missed his jugular vein, hospital attendants said.

Police said Brooks was at the home of McGue and his mother, Mona McGue, for a celebration following the christening of his half-brother. The argument which led to the knifing was the result of a long feud between McGue and Brooks, police said.

McGue was released from jail on $525 bail and ordered to appear in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday to answer a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

ICE CREAM SHOP CURRENT CUT —YOU NOW WHAT HAPPENED

Steven E. Meuse of 17 Circle Road, San Rafael, just about melted when he opened his ice cream shop in Terra Linda yesterday.

He reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies that when he got his Herbert's Sherbet Shoppe in the Terra Linda Shopping Center ready for what he thought would be a good day's business he discovered some prankster had pulled a power switch outside, cutting the current to the shop's freezers.

All the ice cream—several dozen gallons—had melted.

Lost Deaf Mute Found On Tam

A deaf, mute woman was lost on Mount Tamalpais Saturday for nearly three hours before she was discovered wandering down a trail by a Marin County fireman.

Franklin Smith of San Francisco told sheriff's deputies he and his girl friend, Marcia Ellis, 25, of San Francisco had parked their car at the Mountain Home Inn on Panoramic Highway at 3:45 p.m. and started hiking up a nearby fire trail.

He returned to the car for a moment, and when he went to join Miss Ellis, she was missing. He telephoned the sheriff's office, and preparations for an intensive search, including bloodhounds, began.

After 6:30 p.m., Frank Raymond, fire warden of the county's Throckmorton Ridge unit, saw the woman on the trail to Boot Jack Camp, more than a mile from the area where Smith had last seen her.

Miss Ellis, unable to hear or speak, sat down and wrote her thanks to Raymond and deputies, adding she was "sorry I caused so much trouble."

THEY GREW HAIR!

Mr. Newhouse, (left), gave about 20 minutes of his time for the Harlow free hair and scalp consultation and re-grew his hair.

Mrs. Haller, (right), shows her results by the Harlow home treatment system.

HARLOW

HAIR and Scalp CONSULTANTS

Coast to Coast Home Treatment System

WILL BE IN SAN RAFAEL, VILLA RAFAEL HOTEL, TUESDAY ONLY

If you are totally bald, there is nothing Harlow can do for you. Harlow or no other treatment known is of benefit to excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. Neither of the persons shown above suffered from male pattern baldness. Therefore, Harlow continues its policy of refusing all hopeless cases. Baldness is slow and gradual, even in the most common forms.

If you suffer from dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excess oiliness or dryness, or itchy scalp, or if your scalp is still creating hair, we urge you to take a few moments of your time to see the Harlow consultant and find out what you can do for your particular hair and scalp problem.

Results are guaranteed by the Harlow company. You don't have to take our word—you will be given a written guarantee from the beginning of your treatments through its completion on a pro-rated basis.

For 8 years many thousands from coast to coast have received complete satisfaction from the new Harlow Home Treatment method. You, too, can have healthy hair and scalp. Why not make it a point now to see the Harlow consultants and find out how thousands of others have been helped through this outstanding new method of scientific scalp treatments that you apply in the privacy of your home.

Just go to the Villa Rafael Hotel in San Rafael, California, on Tuesday, April 30, between 1:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and ask the desk clerk for J. D. Welch's room number.

You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Consultations are free and given in private. "DON'T PUT IT OFF TIL IT'S ALL OFF."

ARREST IN NOVATO

They Just Didn't Pay For Their Groceries

"My wife always pays for the groceries," Bernard Gideon Anker explained to William J. Wallace, assistant manager of the Lee Brothers Market at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue, Novato.

"I thought my husband paid for them," said Mrs. Anker.

The trouble was, Wallace told Novato police, that nobody had paid—and the way the $41.62 worth of groceries were removed from the store made him think nobody planned to pay.

It went like this, said Wallace:

Anker took several large bags from the checkout stand, wheeled them around the store, and filled them with groceries. Then he left them near an exit and disappeared. In came Mrs. Anker, picked up the bags and carried them out to the car.

Anker had $43 in his pocket, said police; Mrs. Anker had $22.66 in her purse.

The Ankers, who live at 1274 Denlyn Street, Novato, were jailed on $262.50 bail each on charges of petty theft.

Drunkenness And Suicide Linked By Scientists

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science has long had evidence of a connection between drunkenness and suicide, and now it has the sad and appalling truth.

Fifty would-be suicides were carefully investigated as they were brought into a general hospital, one by one. Thirty-one of them were either a little or very drunk.

Most of them denied they had been drinking when they made pass at ending it all. But intoxication was established by blood alcohol levels and there is no disputing their meanings.

Previous investigations depended mainly on the would-be suicide's own statement of whether or not alcohol was mixed in with his gesture. For that reason their conclusions were left open to doubts.

The three scientists who made this new study suggested that drunkenness has a more important part in suicides than is supposed, particularly "if the patient's own unsubstantiated account is accepted."

They found that self-destructive drinkers will deny the drinking for reasons which seem good to them. One is that the admission "adds to their embarrassment or shame." Another is the fear that the admission might cause doctors and nurses to take them less seriously.

The study was made in the Royal Perth Hospital in Perth, Australia, and reported to the Center of Alcoholic Studies at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J., by Drs. I. Pierce James, D. N. Scott-Orr and D. H. Curnow.

Of their 50 subjects, 16 were men and 34 were women. They ranged in age from 15 to 69. All 13 of those who were under 20 or over 59 had been drinking. (Statistically those are not the usual suicide ages.) Only half of those between 20 and 50 had been. (That is the common suicide age bracket.)

Only six of the men and one of the women were classified as chronic alcoholics, and in three of the seven the blood alcohol levels were low when they made their suicide attempts.

The seriousness of the attempts were rated on a scale which showed that the threat to life had been "nil or slight" in 29, "definite" in 17 and "serious" in four.

The scientists found "no significant relationship between blood alcohol level and severity of the suicidal act." They found that the great majority of the 50 were mentally ill. They reminded of "the complexity of motivation to attempted suicide. It is an unwise simplification to divide those who commit a suicidal act into some who wanted to die and others who never intended to kill themselves."

As for the connection of alcohol and suicide—"The temporary effect of alcohol intoxication on a person's judgement and attitude to life may be profound. Alcohol may induce depression and lability of mood. It may arouse hostile feelings or self-pity. It may decrease the inhibitions and self-preservatory tendencies which guard the melancholic from suicide."

CAPTURE

entered about three cars and began driving off.

The deputies radioed for help and chased the trio's car down Mount Tamalpais, stopping it on a curve. One of the suspects tossed out a purse, which had been stolen at the summit.

Martin told Sergeant Irving he is on federal parole for forging money orders. But Martin and his two companions denied the car looting, Irving reported.

Officers found curved knives and bent wire clothes hangers, which are believed to be the tools used to enter cars.

When asked why he carried a curved knife, Greenlee was quoted as saying, "I use it to dig rocks, man."

About the time the victims realized their cars had been entered, the two deputies drove back up to the summit to assure them the suspects were in custody.

Union Aide Held In Traffic Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 73-year-old pedestrian was knocked down, run over and killed yesterday in a caroming six-car collision at 19th avenue and Rivera street.

The victim was William Stockfleth, a retired Municipalrailway operator.

William D. Handelsmann, 44, an organizer for the Seafarers International Union was charged with exceeding a safe speed and driving with an altered license plate.

Span Directors Name Assistant Auditor

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, meeting in Ukiah Friday, appointed Margaret Wagner, assistant district auditor, to replace auditor Lee F. Lynch of San Francisco, who has resigned effective tomorrow.

The temporary promotion includes a $50-per-month raise. The appointment was recommended by James Adam, district general manager.

Drapes Are Stolen In Santa Venetia

Two panels of beige colored drapes, worth $200, were stolen from the living room of a home in Santa Venetia, contractor Wesley Tanzi of Lagunitas reported to the sheriff Saturday.

Tanzi is refurbishing a home at 95 Sunny Oaks. He said windows at the home had also been damaged with rocks.

Reds Gain In Model U.N. Session

If the real United Nations were anything like the model U.N. conference held in San Jose last week, the Communists would make all kinds of gains.

The debating abilities of 10 students from Dominican College in San Rafael, representing Poland, helped advance the cause of the Communist bloc.

Joanne White, a junior who was chairman of the Dominican delegates, said nearly all Communist bloc resolutions passed. The conference, known as the Model United Nations of the Pacific West, brought 1,100 delegates from 108 colleges.

The Dominican delegates were seated on several committees and succeeded in such measures as admitting Red China and France to full disarmament debates and condemning Portugal for its actions in Angola.

Miss White said there is no way of telling exactly how the Dominican group did until next year. "If we get our first choice of a country then, we will know we did well," she explained.

Others on the team were freshmen Colleen Buxton and Virginia Sturdevant, sophomores Roberta Munro and Lally Kineen, and juniors Lynda Clark, Helen O'Brien, Hilary Jenkins, Helen Purcell, and Reka Feketekuty.

Salesman Hurt As Auto Rolls

A 27-year-old Berkeley insurance salesman suffered scalp cuts last night when his 1962 Volkswagen rolled over on Highway 1 about seven miles south of Olema, righted itself on the road—but then crashed into a bank.

Charles Reece Ware was treated at Marin General Hospital.

California Highway Patrolman Arthur Krebb said Ware was southbound at about 9:30 p.m. when his car flipped. He cited Ware for failure to maintain control.

High Court Agrees To Decide On Barnett

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to decide next fall whether Gov. Ross R. Barnett is entitled to a jury trial on federal criminal contempt charges growing out of the University of Mississippi rioting.

The court announced that it has notified attorneys in the case that arguments probably will be heard during a two-week period beginning Oct. 14. A decision would be handed down later.

Tried To Enter, Arrested As Prowler

John E. Powell, 34, of Irvington, N. J., was arrested on suspicion of prowling early today by Sausalito police after he was reported to have tried to enter the home of Nina Koulischer of 14 West Court.

Miss Koulischer telephoned police at 3:30 a.m. after she heard someone try to enter the front door and then the kitchen door. Powell told officers he was looking for a place to sleep.

Ned Rankin Wins At Sausalito Show

Ned Pankin was winner of the popular vote yesterday at the third annual art show of the Sausalito Woman's Club for his water color, "All My Dreams Come Back To Me."

Pankin received 43 votes. Close runners-up were Robert Shinn for his sculpture, "The Bear," which got 42 votes, and Bruce Balfour's painting, "Portrait of a Boy," which got 41 votes.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Employees of the Stanhope Hotel, where many United Nations delegation members stay, represent 47 different nationalities, according to general manager John F. Isard.

OBITUARIES

Von Tagen, Bag Firm Owner, Dies

Walter von Tagen, 78, owner of the Novato Bag Co., died yesterday in a Petaluma hospital after a short illness.

Von Tagen, a native of Martinez, moved to Novato from Petaluma about 28 years ago and established his business on Davidson Street. Previously he had worked for the Bemis Bag Co. in San Francisco.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters of San Rafael and the Petaluma Fuchsia Society. Von Tagen was an ardent fisherman.

Von Tagen is survived by his wife, Lela; three sons, and one daughter, James and Leland Hill of Novato, Walter von Tagen of Morgan Hill and Mrs. Florence Luishen of Santa Cruz; a brother, Richard von Tagen of San Francisco and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Chapel of the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

MAUDE LAMOREE

Mrs. Maude M. Lamoree of 427 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, died yesterday in her home after a long illness.

Mrs. Lamoree, a native of Alameda, lived in Marin County for 57 years.

She is survived by her husband, sales manager for Stauffer Chemical Co. of San Francisco; a son and daughter, Jefferson D. Lamoree of Belvedere and Karen L. O'Conner of Tiburon, and a sister, Eleanor N. Birbeck of Oakland.

Private family funeral services will be held tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. The family prefers memorial gifts to the heart fund.

AGOSTINO DEL RE

A Requiem Mass for Agostino Del Re, 85, of Fort Bragg, who died at a Fort Bragg Hospital Friday, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, Fort Bragg.

He was the father of Peter Del Re of San Anselmo.

Del Re and his wife, Mary, who survives him, celebrated their golden wedding in February, 1960. Survivors include four sons, Ed, Reno and William Del Re of Fort Bragg and Peter Del Re; a daughter, Erma Haven of Ukiah; three grandchildren and one great-grand child.

Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at Cain, Grove and Haverfield Mortuary, Fort Bragg.

E. D. JOHNSTON

Ernest D. Johnston, 54, of 75 Laurel Drive, Fairfax, died yesterday in a local hosiptal after a short illness.

Johnston, a native of Michigan, lived in Marin County for 20 years. He worked as a maintenance mechanic for the 666th Radar Squadron on top of Mt. Tamalpais.

He was an Army staff sergeant in World War II and a member of American Legion Post 179 of San Anselmo.

Johnson is survived by his wife, Margaret; a son and daughter, Donald Munton of San Anselmo and Mrs. Glenn Buck of San Rafael, and a brother, Milburn Johnston of San Anselmo.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Entombment will be private.

VINCENT FINIGAN

Requiem High Mass for Vincent F. Finigan, a San Francisco real estate man for 64 years, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at S. Dominic's Church, Steiner and Bush streets, San Francisco.

Finigan, 80, died at his San Francisco home Friday after a short illness.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gertrude O'Connor. She was a resident of Ross when the couple was married in 1924.

Finigan, a native of San Francisco, was regarded as the dean of the city's real estate appraisers. He began his career at the age of 16 with the firm of Shainwald Buckbee and Co. He became president of the firm, by then Buckbee and Co., in 1948. He was a former president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board.

Survivors include his wife; a son Vincent F. Finigan Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas O'Connor and Mary G. Finigan; a brother, Joseph H. Finigan, and two grandchildren, all of San Francisco.

Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at Carew and English Mortuary, San Francisco. Burial will be private.

HENRY BASSETT

A Requiem Mass for Henry R. Bassett, 81, a native of Tomales, will be said tomorrow at 9 a.m. in St. Philip's Church, San Francisco.

Bassett died Saturday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. A retired bread truck driver, he was a member of the Bakery Wagon Drivers Union Local 484.

He lived in Tomales and Fallon for about 40 years; before moving to Petaluma and later to San Francisco.

Bassett is survived by one son and three daughters, Thomas Bassett and Claire Bassett of San Francisco, Mrs. Kathleen Dillon of Santa Rosa, and Mrs. Barbara Halsing of San Anselmo; a brother, Ralph, of Tomales, and 11 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. at Reilly Co. Mortuary, 29th and Dolores streets, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

CHARLES CROUCH

Funeral for Charles W. Crouch of Mill Valley, who died Saturday at a local hospital, will be held at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley, at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday under auspices of Mill Valley Lodge 356. Free and Accepted Masons. Inurnment will be private.

Crouch, 95, was a retired self-employed insurance agent. He had lived 87 years in California and for the past 12 years in Marin at 108 Homestead Boulevard.

He was a member of and past master of Calistoga Lodge 233 of Masons, and past patron of California Chapter 189, Order of Eastern Star. Crouch was born in Michigan.

He is survived by two daughters, Lelia G. Crouch and Mrs. G. E. Thomas of Mill Valley, and two grandchildren.

K. MacGOWAN

Kenneth MacGowan, 74, of West Los Angeles, who had been a critic, author, and movie play producer and teacher, died Saturday after a long illness.

Survivors include a son, Peter MacGowan of Tiburon.

Kenneth MacGowan was professor emeritus of the department of theater arts at University of California at Los Angeles, which he established in 1946.

He produced 35 plays in New York, including those of Eugene O'Neill. Some of his most successful movies were "Lloyd's of London," Alexander Graham Bell," "In Old Chicago" and "Lifeboat."

He produced the first Technicolor film, "Becky Sharp."

MacGowan also worked as a critic for the Boston Transcript, Philadelphia Ledger, New York Globe and Vogue Magazine.

He retired from the UCLA faculty in 1958. The university's theater arts building, MacGowan Hall, was named in his honor.

His books included "Theater of Tomorrow," "Continental Stagecraft" and "Footlights Across America." Just before his death, he completed proofreading a forthcoming book, "Behind the Screen."

Other survivors are his wife, Edna, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert Saxon of Chicago.

No funeral service is planned, but a memorial hour is being arranged at MacGowan Hall. MacGowan had willed his body to the UCLA Medical School.

Brothers Hurt As Scooter Skids Off Highway

Two Woodacre youths were injured late yesterday when their motor scooter ran off Shoreline Highway into rocks about a mile west of Stinson Beach.

Theodore Douglas Booth, 21, driving the scooter, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on his right leg and hand. His brother, James, 19, suffered lesser bruises and was not hospitalized.

The youths told the California Highway Patrol they were headed east on Shoreline about 5:30 p.m. when they were approached head-on by a car driven by Frank Liuzza, 18, a drugstore deliveryman of 45 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo. They swerved off the road to avoid a collision.

Liuzza was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road.

Carpenter Arrested On Checks Charge

Marshall Everett Dixon, 28, a carpenter of 346 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, was booked into Marin County Jail Friday night on suspicion of passing nearly $100 in worthless checks.

Inspector Harold N. Hockett of Corte Madera police said he and patrolman Howard Bailey arrested Dixon at his home on a felony warrant with bail at $2,625. Dixon was to appear in Marin Municipal Court late today.

Israel Celebrates 15th Anniversary

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel celebrated its 15th anniversary today, still threatened by the hostile Arab nations which tried to conquer it by force in the first hours of its birth.

Highlight of the anniversary celebrations was the military parade in the seaport of Haifa where Israel's new supersonic jet fighter—bombers and anti-tank missiles were displayed publicly for the first time.

Jazz Musician's Wife Injured In Accident

A jazz musician's wife, a teen-age girl and a little boy were injured at 6:45 p.m. yesterday in the head-on crash of two cars on Evergreen Avenue about 225 feet east of Linden Avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Darlyn Wierbach, 26, was treated at Marin General Hospital for right knee and ankle injuries after the car of her husband, David Penrose Wierbach, 32, of 71 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, a San Francisco musician, collided with that of Allan Carroll Osborn, 20, of 150 Octavia Street, San Rafael, a Greenbrae service station employee.

Kathleen Spaulding, 16, of 111 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, passenger in Osborn's car, suffered a broken left leg. Her condition at the hospital today was good.

James Lewis Wierbach, 5, was treated for a cut forehead.

The senior Wierbach was cited for failure to drive on the right side of the road.

Novato Pigeons Win In Race

Homing pigeons from the Gypsy Loft in Novato took first and second places in yesterday's race of the Tamalpais Homing Pigeon Club from Sparks, Nev., to Marin County and Petaluma.

The pigeons averaged over 46 miles per hour for the 190-mile distance. The next race will be held Snuday from Fernley, Nev., a distance of 210 air miles. The last race of the season will be held on June 22, a 560-mile course from Council, Idaho.

Windows Broken

Robert E. McCurdy, principal of Oliver Hartzell School, reported to San Rafael police today that eight windows had been broken in the school between 3 p.m. yesterday and 8 a.m. today.

Bay Artists To Exhibit In Marin

Creations of more than 100 Bay area artists will be exhibited at the opening of the Marin Society of Artists "Spring Art Rental Show on May 5 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Frances Young Gallery.

The Rental Show will remain open daily through May 31 under co-chairmanship of Eva Kemp and Genevieve DeMartini. Although the rental service is open throughout the year, the show offers a wider selection of new work, the chairmen state.

Paintings in all media and mood, and graphics and prints will be judged on opening day by a panel of Henry Rasmusen, John Lynch, Ken Potter, Gwen Stone and Edwin Cadogan.

Crafts and decorative arts to be displayed will be judged by three Marin County craftsmen, Myra Falch, Bernice Brown and Clara Bass.

Officials estimate that over 200 new works will be presented at the show.

Civic Affairs Unit To Work For Marin Rapid Transit

Major immediated effort of the Marin Council of Civic Affairs will be toward putting Marin County back into the movement for rapid transit, if necessary through creating a special county district, it was decided at last night's annual meeting in the Civic Center.

Keen interest also was shown indevelopment of the second phase of the Civic Center, a topic scheduled for discussion by county supervisors Wednesday.

The meeting elected 25 directors. New officers will be chosen at the first directors meeting, time and place for which will be announced.

Directors chosen were:

Present chairman Harold Stockstad, Morris N. Finisy, Robert Heyer, Steven H. Kaufmann, Franklin J. McClain and Milen C. Dempster, all of Mill Valley; Thomas E. Stanton of Belvedere; Gibbs Lawson of Tomales; Claude R. Witzel, Mrs. Peter P. Yarish and Charles Davies of Novato; John G. Kelley of Nicasio; Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon; Mrs. Russel R. Klein, Jack Bissinger Sr. and Harold Watkin of Kentfield; Mrs. Frederic Cowden of San Anselmo; Frederic D. Kerr and Boris D. Schulz of Ross; Harvey W. Killian, Mrs. Herbert Appenzeller, James Fletcher, Nathaniel B. Guyod, Robert Mertle and Frank Solomon Jr. of San Rafael.

College Art Club To Display Photos

The art club at the College of Marin will have a display of photographs, paintings and prints at the campus open house on May 11.

By arrangement between Byron Trott, president, and Charles Vento, director of the instructional materials center of the county school superintendent's office, the display later will be shown at the county Civic Center.

Novato Boy, 14, Runs From Home Again

Bruce Crawford, 14, has done it again—run away from home, that is.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford of 12 Nave Court, Novato, reported to Novato police at 9 p.m. yesterday that her son Bruce had vanished two hours earlier. He was still missing today.

The boy, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 160 pounds and with dark brown hair and green eyes, was wearing a white T-shirt, dark brown jacket and blue jeans, said his mother.

He has run away repeatedly, most recently on April 13 when he returned after 36 hours.

Vet Hospital Is Sought In San Anselmo

An application for a veterinary hospital near United Markets in San Anselmo will come before the San Anselmo Planning Commission at a meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

George Bond of 341 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, seeks a use permit for a veterinary hospital on a strip of land between the Miracle Mile and Redhill Avenue.

A continued public hearing is set on Robert Ryan's application for rezoning from multiple dwelling to planned development for property north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the end of Sonoma Avenue.

Morris Burch will resubmit his plans to remodel a building at 75 Ross Avenue into six units.

Library To Have Record Department

San Rafael Public Library's first musical record department will be established from the proceeds of a book sale to be held May 24 and 25 on the library lawn by the Marin County Retired Teachers Assn.

The books are being obtained from donations of friends and members of the association. They will be sold at prices ranging from 5 to 50 cents with a few selling at the top price of $1.

Largest donations to date, according to sale chairman Eleanor Murray of San Rafael, are from Walter E. Zurcher of San Rafael, Madeline Waddell of Mill Valley, and Valerie Ansel of San Anselmo.

Fiction, non-fiction, sets, children's books, paper backs, foreign language, poetry, science, the arts, and mathematics are acceptable for donation. Anyone wishing to donate books may notify Mrs. Murray of 1018 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

'Lost Weekend' For Juanita

Singing the blues over a "lost weekend" today was Juanita Musson, whose plans for getting her Galley restaurant afloat by last Saturday ran aground when county sanitary inspectors failed to show up on Friday.

Mrs. Musson declared today that all violations of sanitary code had been remedied and she had hoped for clearance first Friday, then Saturday, but nobody came except hopeful customers who had to be turned away from the ex-ferryboat Van Damme at Waldo Point.

"So I missed out on the best chance yet to get some money in the till," she said. "What a weekend I lost! Here come four people walking up the gangplank right now. Can't feed you, kids, but look around."

Petaluman Jailed On Driver Charge Hit Two Cars

A 23-year-old Petaluma man was charged with felony drunken driving last night by San Rafael police after the car he was driving damaged two parked autos on Lincoln Avenue at 9:15 p.m.

Barbara Arlene Bradley, 20, of 38 Ridge Road, San Anselmo, a passenger in the car driven by Richard Wendall Reichmuth, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a scraped left knee after the accident.

Reichmuth, driving north on Lincoln, missed a sharp left turn in front of 1446 Lincoln Avenue, and hit a parked car belonging to S and C Lease Plans of San Francisco. This car, in turn, was pushed into one belonging to Reginald T. Miller of 1446 Lincoln Avenue, according to police.

Reichmuth was jailed on $550 bail to appear in court on Wednesday.

Car Sandwiched; Boy, 6, Injured

A 6-year-old Ross child was injured Saturday when a car in which he was a passenger was sandwiched between another car and a Greyhound bus.

Jeffery Manson, son of Dr. William G. Manson, 42, of 45 Baywood Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut face and lip. Also treated at the hospital was Mary Minto, 43, of 29 Archangel Court, Fairfax. She suffered bruises on her left arm.

According to San Anselmo police, the brakes on Mrs. Minto's car failed and it hit the car driven by Dr. Manson, pushing it into the bus driven by Richard B. Moore of 230 Elm Street, Mill Valley.

Moore had stopped for a red light at Redhill Avenue and Sequoia Drive at 3:18 p.m.

Rafferty Speaker

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, will be the main speaker tomorrow night at a Republican dinner.

Rafferty, who kept alive his running battle with assembly speaker Jesse Unruh over a bill designed to halt school dropouts, is scheduled to speak at the fifth annual dinner sponsored by the 43rd Assembly District Republican Buck and Ballot Brigade.

Vicuna Rug Taken

Theft of a $500 vicuna rug, imported from Peru, and a $50 salad bowl was reported to San Anselmo police yesterday by Mrs. Helen Benioff of San Francisco, who maintains a summer cottage at 1 Summit Avenue, San Anselmo. She said the two items were last seen on March 28.

HELPING COUNTY SUPERVISORS

After a visit to the Civic Center and after hearing county supervisors ponder over a problem, eighth graders at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur went back to Douglas Lindauer's social studies class and came up with a suggestion. The day the class made its visit, supervisors were wondering how to protect the open light wells in the civic center without having an unhightly rail. The eighth graders suggested using clear plastic panels. Here (from left) Anita Gronzo, Linda Kaplan, Cris Gondak and Robert Wayne look at a cross-section sketch of their idea. Supervisors have referred the suggestion to the county safety committee.

Man Arrested For Pointing Rifle At Golden Gate Span Toll Collector

A Golden Gate Bridge motorist, who allegedly pointed a rifle at a bride toll collector before 5 a.m. by Marin Sheriff's and declared he was not going to pay his quarter, was arrested yesterday in San Geronimo.

Donald F. Loranzetti, 40, unemployed, of San Francisco, when apprehended shortly had money, but "I didn't want to pay." He said he intended to jump from the bridge but "didn't have the guts."

A county-wide search for Loranzetti began at 4:01 a.m. after toll collector John McAllister told the California Highway Patrol a man, northbound in a white Ford sedan, shoved the barrel of a rifle in his face and said, "I'm next customer. I won't pay," then sped across the bridge.

At 4:10 a.m. Ward Evans of Muir Beach told the highway patrol he was northbound on the bridge when he saw someone throw a rifle from the car in front of him. He followed the car and got the license number before it turned off the Sausalito exit.

After he was stopped on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Geronimo, Loranzetti admitted tossing out the .22-caliber rifle after threatening the toll collector. The rifle, picked up later from the bridge pavement, was unloaded.

Loranzetti, according to the patrol, has been under psychiatric care for eight months. He was held in San Francisco City Hospital for observation.

Students Watch As Woman Doctor Leaps To Death

While 47 high school students watched, a woman doctor leaped to her death from Golden Gate Bridge Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Clara K. Levine, 36, of Hayward became the 242nd known suicide from the bridge at 1:34 p.m. She was the mother of three children, aged 2, 6 and 8, and was the wife of Dr. Julius Levine, operator of his own hospital in Hayward, founding director of Mount Eden Hospital in Castro Valley, and former chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Alameda County.

C. Frank Schell, 16, told the California Highway Patrol that he and 46 other King City High School students were on an outing and had stopped on the east side of the bride's south tower to watch a seal play in the water below.

"Someone said, 'Look,' and I saw this woman put one leg over the rail," Schell said. "Then she put the other leg over and just pushed herself away . . . I turned away. I didn't want to see it. . . . Then I heard her hit."

Mrs. Levine's body was picked up by the Coast Guard an hour later from a moat at the base of the tower and taken to the San Francisco coroner's office.

She had worked with her husband at the Levine General Hospital in Hayward but had recently been under treatment at a Belmont sanitarium following a nervous breakdown.

Her Cadillac sedan was parked in the bride's toll plaza lot.

New Gomez Trial Set For June 17

The second trial of jeweler J. Robert Gomez of Mill Valley, accused of conspiracy-robbery, will begin at 10 a.m. June 17 in Judge Francis McCarty's department of San Francisco Superior Court.

The first trial ended Feb. 7 with a hung jury. The vote was seven to five for acquittal. Gomez, whose shop is in San Francisco, is accused of masterminding burglaries of $112,000 in jewels.

School Board, Teacher Rift Warning Made

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — "School board members are learning the hard way that teachers can no longer be taken for granted, can no longer be pushed around," an Arizona educator said today.

Prof. Daniel R. Davies of the University of Arizona added, "If school boards and teachers don't learn how to work together, we will get into an era of jungle warfare of the type that industrial and management once went through."

THEY'RE WORRIED

Davies spoke in an interview at the annual meeting of the National School Boards Assn. NSBA delegates are frankly worried that the determination of teachers to have more voice in decisions about their salaries and conditions is a threat to local control of education.

The situation in Utah, Davies said, is a case where "each side has gone almost too far for there to be any hope of friendly agreement being reached."

Dr. W. Dean Belnap, president of the Utah School Boards Assn, said yesterday that Utah's public schools are almost certain to remain closed next fall. unless a special session of the legislature votes additional school funds.

Neither the teachers nor Gov. George D. Clyde has shown any sign of budging an inch, Belnap said.

TEACHER EXPENSE

Davies noted that "about 70 per cent of the current expenses in a school budget is for teachers' salaries, and most of the rest is for fixed expenses which school board members can't do much about.

"If local boards, such as those in Utah, are not allowed to make the basic decisions on finance, there is little left for them to do."

The National Education Assn. and its various state affiliates have been urging what they call "professional negotiations" in setting salaries and working conditions. The smaller but more vocal American Federation of Teachers plumps for collective bargaining.

General Plan Hearing In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. today will hold its second hearing on a revised general plan designed to serve a population of 13,000 by 1980.

The meeting in town hall will take up seven recommendations made April 19. If the commission approves the plan tonight, town mgr. Arhtur H. Brandow is to set a town council hearing for May 16.

Marin Youth Orchestra Packs Them In

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

One of the highest compliments deserved by the Marin Youth Orchestra is that it is worth hearing as an orchestra —not just a youth orchestra.

In its spring concert last night at San Rafael High School auditorium, which was almost filled to capacity, some of the reasons for this were evident.

Much credit is due conductor Hugo Rinaldi because of his impeccable musicianship and gift for directing and dealing with young people. But just as important was the intense interest and effort reflected in the eager faces of the 70 musicians. And there was unanimity of technical achievement made possible only by long hours of practice.

The orchestra played well in its three numbers—Symphony No. 3 (First Movement) by Franz Schubert, "Merry Wives of Windsor" by Otto Nicolai, and the "Emperor Waltz" by Johann Strauss. And its performance was properly controlled in accompanying the two soloists, soprano Jan McCready and violinist Sharon Johnson.

Both of these girls should have a bright future in music if they want it enough to cultivate the other attributes necessary in addition to talent.

Jan has a lovely and remarkably mature voice and appearance for a 16-year-old, with a flair for dramatic rather than lyric expression. For this reason her second number, "Ma Chiamano Mimi" from "Puccini"s "La Boheme" was more successful than the first, "Ave Maria" by Luigi Luzzi.

It was interesting to note that the arrangement of the latter was by James Watkinson, a former youth orchestra member who is continuing his studies at San Francisco State College.

The playing of concertmistress Sharon Johnson in Max Bruch's Violin Concerto in G Minor was notable for a flashing attack and vigor not often achieved by feminine violinists.

4-Year-Old's Frog Leaps For Top Prize

Mill Valley youngsters have a way with frogs.

Four-year-old Shannon Mullins of 117 Rising Road prodded her entry in yesterday's frog jumping contest at Sabella's Restaurant to the five-foot-seven-inch mark, taking the top prize for the greatest distance traveled in three hops. Last year, another Mill Valley youngster, Fred Myers, won first prize.

Placing second in this year's contest was the frog entered by Donald Eastes 8, of Terra Linda, scoring a distance of five-feet, one-and-one-half inches. Right behind him was 11-year-old Lindy Long's frog, with five-feet, one inch. Lindy is also of Mill Valley.

Shannon's older sister Brigid had the frog scoring the top jump of the day with six feet, four inches in the preliminaries, but it failed to make a finals.

Besides receiving the award for Marin's best 1963 frog jumper, Shannon automatically becomes eligible to enter the finals in the traditional Calaveras County Frog Jumping Jubilee at Angels Camp May 16-19.

Some 65 youngsters from all parts of Marin County had frogs in the jumping contest which Sabella's has featured for three consecutive years.

Barriers Down

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Racial barriers were lowered yesterday at 10 downtown and suburban churches. At 29 other churches, Negroes were turned down. There were no disturbances.

Negroes first attempted to attend white churches Easter when two churches desegregated and three others did not.

ARE YOU PLANNING ANY HOME IMPROVEMENTS?
WE WILL LOAN YOU THE MONEY YOU NEED AT THE LOWEST RATE OF ANY MARIN COUNTY BANK.

Redwood National Bank NOW offers its depositors home improvement loans of $1500.00 or more at only 5%. As you probably know (or will soon find out) that's at least 1% less than most other banks in this county. And it's simple to arrange. No complicated paperwork. Just drop by for a chat with one of our officers. A couple of forms; some routine questions; that's it. Another reason why everyone's talking about the new style in banking around Marin. It's getting so other banks are competing with Redwood. When people talk about service, now, they always mention Redwood National Bank first. It's the little things that do it. Like low interest charges for people who need the funds most. That's the way it is at Redwood. All kinds of things are happening. Daily. Drop in for a chat. You may find some more money in your pocket on the way out. You see, there is a difference between banks.

In the Bay Area there are endless artistic advantages, and no matter what your income the arts can be enjoyed by everyone. Trips to the museums, concerts open to the public, discussion groups at the libraries . . . are yours just for the choosing. The Arts are for ALL people . . . enjoy them . . . support them.

Art is Music . . . the music of a major symphony such as the San Francisco Symphony, one meriting critical acclaim in Oakland, others in Marin, San Jose and the Peninsula. Groups such as the Marin Music Chest present stars of the concert stage in the open air of summertime . . . while the symphonies and the San Francisco Chamber Music Society start their seasons in the fall.

Art is Opera . . . It is a tradition for the greatest stars to sing in the War Memorial Opera House. And we should all be proud of the Spring Opera which brings us moderately priced entertainment. Exciting new voices are introduced under the direction of seasoned opera personnel and the repertoire is varied.

Art is Ballet . . . the oldest ballet company in America is the San Francisco Ballet Company. Under the auspices of the State Department, it has toured the near and far east and South America, where it met with great acclaim. . . . the Oakland Symphony provides its music. A new ballet group is presently being formed in Marin.

Marin Government Is Ready To Take 3 Different Roads

form a transit district is also a move into the area of urban government, she said.

But there also are many traits of a "service county," with tax collection and election service for cities and library service in many municipalities provided by the county.

She called the Assn. of Bay Area Governments as a step in the third "fragment county" direction.

The program, sponsored by 16 civic groups, was composed of three panel discussions: the first on city governments, the second on special districts, and the third on county government.

Leland H. Jordan of San Rafael, former county counsel, explained the role of county government.

The counties are actually subdivisions of state government, set up under state law with their functions defined by statute, Jordan explained. City governments, on the other hand, are created directly by the voters and there are few limits on their functions.

The board of supervisors cannot delegate powers to an administrator in the same way that a city council can to a city manager.

Functions of several elected county officials, such as the assessor and auditor, are described by state law and the supervisors have little control except through providing money to run these departments. The same is true, Jordan said, of some of the appointive offices such as the sealer of weights and measures and the welfare director.

Jordan said the rural nature of Marin is fading and the county government faces more and more demands for city-type services. County government was not designed to provide city services, he noted.

"A redefinement of government, with the formation perhaps of a city-county government like San Francisco has, may be necessary," he said.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, another member of the panel, agreed that there must be some attempt to simplify the structure of government with consolidation of some special districts. But he warned against government units that are so large they are out of touch with the electorate.

Bruce, in his opening remarks, spent several minutes defending his recently announced proposed budget for the next fiscal year. He said the supervisors have not yet seen it and when they do, they will undoubtedly squeeze it down from its present $16,234,000 total.

He also said that this total is deceptive since it includes funds held over from last year for capital improvements. A more representative figure, he said, would be $14,919,000, and this is "only" 10 per cent above the current, comparable figure.

Mrs. Joel Nemschoff of Kentfield, who moderated the panel, said county government is often described as a step-child, "unloved, misunderstood and frequently ignored."

Mrs. Azevedo was asked if the county planning commission has enough power to control the "hill flatteners," and prevent them from destroying beauties of the land.

She explained the commission is only an advisory body to the board of supervisors. She described a planning commission as the "first stomach of a cow." Its effectiveness depends only on how well it does its digestion, she said.

Keynote speaker for the discussion of special districts was Jerome F. Downs, Mill Valley attorney. He called the multiplicity of small districts, often lying side by side performing the same function, a waste of money and a bad thing.

Other members of the panel hastened to point out exceptions. Jack Brandon, former general manager of the Terra Linda Community Service district and director of the Terra Linda Recreational District, stoutly defended both.

"The people have seen every dollar we've spent," Brandon said.

Another panel member, Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District, said the special district is ideal for water service because it can encompass a large region and develop new supplies of water.

As an example of compounding and overlapping of districts in the same area, Downs cited the Richardson Bay area where there are five sanitary districts side by side and some of them are overlapped by lighting districts.

The panel on special districts was moderated by Mrs. Paul Holmer of Kentfield. She lamented the fact that the confusion of special districts "often makes it hard to find out whom to needle."

50 Youths Clean Up Fairfax

About 50 youths collected a truck-load of debris Saturday during a day-long cleanup project in the downtown area of Fairfax.

The project was sponsored by the Fairfax Conservation Study Group. Mrs. Dorothy Olson, president, said the turnout for the project, originally scheduled for April 20 but postponed because of rain, was smaller than expected.

Participating in the cleanup were about 20 sixth graders from the Deer Park School, led by their teacher, Ronald C. Samet, who is also Fairfax recreation director. Juniper trees were planted around Central School by Girl Scouts led by Mrs. A. L. O'Leary and Mrs. Ann Lareau.

Twelve Brownies from Troop 184 and two Girls Scouts from Troop 182 also helped in the cleanup, as did the young people's group from St. Rita's Church.

Stamp Collection, Checks Stolen

A burglar prowled through a doctor's home in Kentfield and stole a $200 stamp collection and $200 in checks, Sheriff's Deputy Raymond Tschirgi reported today.

Dr. Ralph E. Erickson of 34 Black Log Road returned home last night after being away for the weekend, and found two bedrooms and the den had been ransacked.

The stamp collection is an assortment of American stamps dating back about 100 years.

Marin City Cafe Owner Plans To Sue

Mamie Ray Judson, owner of the Depot Cafe at Marin City, said today she will file suit for damages against the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and the redevelopment contractor for forcing her to close her restaurant last Saturday.

Having invested $2,000 in her business when she moved it eight months ago, Mrs. Judson contends she had been told she would be allowed to remain in her present location between one and two years. Instead, she has been evicted after eight months.

On March 22, Mrs. Judson said, she was told she would be given 30 days before the redevelopment agency made its decision as to whether the Western Greyhound Lines ticket depot and the depot cafe might be moved again to allow site improvements.

But, said she, on March 25 the contractor piled dirt in front of her door which immediately caused a loss in business.

Mrs. Judson said that, although her deadline to move is tomorrow, she moved the cafe equipment out on Saturday because the building had been broken into and some equipment stolen.

She and her assistant, Mrs. Mary D. Williams of 409 Cole Drive, Apt. 3, are both out of work now, Mrs. Judson said.

She said she has complained to her congressman, the Redevelopment Agency, and County Supervisor Peter Behr.

The ticket agency was closed April 15 by Greyhound after the firm decided there would be no agency at Marin City for the time being, passengers buying their tickets on the buses.

Mrs. Judson lives at Building C-44, Marin City.

Fairfax School Bond Group To Be Formed

The Fairfax School District board will organize citizen committees for its $270,000 bond issue, tentatively set for election on June 11, at its meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in Central School.

Also on the agenda is review of the budget and discussion of two proposed salary schedules for teachers. The two schedules call for increases of $4,526 and $6,927.

Paintings On Display

Paintings by Frances von Ahn, San Rafael watercolor and oils artists, are currently on display in the show windows and the interior of the Netboy Shoe Salon, 1101 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Dr. Dufficy's New Hospital Ready For First Patients Wednesday

Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy's new 97-bed Terra Linda Valley Hospital was ready today for its first admission of patients Wednesday following a lively weekend of previews.

Five hundred attended an open house for physicians and city and county officials Friday night, Dufficy said, and more than 1,500 turned out for a public preview yesterday.

Dufficy will be honored by more than 100 county officials and well-wishers at a 7:30 o'clock dinner tonight at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael, in observance of his retirement from the position of county physician tomorrow after 12 years of service.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell is to be master of ceremonies. If health permits, Supervisor Chairman Walter R. Castro will head those paying tribute to Dufficy. A no-host cocktail hour will start at 6:30 p.m.

"I'm going around to kiss the supervisors goodbye at their weekly session tomorrow," said Dufficy, adding sentimentally, "You know, after all I'm going to miss this job."

Dufficy's new hospital, a one-story structure on a knoll near Highway 101 in Terra Linda, will receive most of the county hospital patients from nearby Lucas Valley on Wednesday, offering two-bedrooms except for seven single rooms for the acutely ill. Whether they remain will be up to them. Dufficy has expressed confidence he can attract them even under new state-set conditions of independent choice.

Attractions include bedside-controlled television, background music with room controls, jacks for bedside telephones, adjustable contour beds, hydraulic patient lifts, and air-conditioning.

Other members of the panel hastened to point out exceptions. Jack Brandon, former general manager of the Terra Linda Community Service district and director of the Terra Linda Recreational District, stoutly defended both.

"The people have seen every dollar we've spent," Brandon said.

Another panel member, Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District, said the special district is ideal for water service because it can encompass a large region and develop new supplies of water.

As an example of compounding and overlapping of districts in the same area, Downs cited the Richardson Bay area where there are five sanitary districts side by side and some of them are overlapped by lighting districts.

The panel on special districts was moderated by Mrs. Paul Holmer of Kentfield. She lamented the fact that the confusion of special districts "often makes it hard to find out whom to needle."

50 Youths Clean Up Fairfax

About 50 youths collected a truck-load of debris Saturday during a day-long cleanup project in the downtown area of Fairfax.

The project was sponsored by the Fairfax Conservation Study Group. Mrs. Dorothy Olson, president, said the turnout for the project, originally scheduled for April 20 but postponed because of rain, was smaller than expected.

Participating in the cleanup were about 20 sixth graders from the Deer Park School, led by their teacher, Ronald C. Samet, who is also Fairfax recreation director. Juniper trees were planted around Central School by Girl Scouts led by Mrs. A. L. O'Leary and Mrs. Ann Lareau.

Twelve Brownies from Troop 184 and two Girls Scouts from Troop 182 also helped in the cleanup, as did the young people's group from St. Rita's Church.

Stamp Collection, Checks Stolen

A burglar prowled through a doctor's home in Kentfield and stole a $200 stamp collection and $200 in checks, Sheriff's Deputy Raymond Tschirgi reported today.

Dr. Ralph E. Erickson of 34 Black Log Road returned home last night after being away for the weekend, and found two bedrooms and the den had been ransacked.

The stamp collection is an assortment of American stamps dating back about 100 years.

Marin City Cafe Owner Plans To Sue

Mamie Ray Judson, owner of the Depot Cafe at Marin City, said today she will file suit for damages against the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and the redevelopment contractor for forcing her to close her restaurant last Saturday.

Having invested $2,000 in her business when she moved it eight months ago, Mrs. Judson contends she had been told she would be allowed to remain in her present location between one and two years. Instead, she has been evicted after eight months.

On March 22, Mrs. Judson said, she was told she would be given 30 days before the redevelopment agency made its decision as to whether the Western Greyhound Lines ticket depot and the depot cafe might be moved again to allow site improvements.

But, said she, on March 25 the contractor piled dirt in front of her door which immediately caused a loss in business.

Mrs. Judson said that, although her deadline to move is tomorrow, she moved the cafe equipment out on Saturday because the building had been broken into and some equipment stolen.

She and her assistant, Mrs. Mary D. Williams of 409 Cole Drive, Apt. 3, are both out of work now, Mrs. Judson said.

She said she has complained to her congressman, the Redevelopment Agency, and County Supervisor Peter Behr.

The ticket agency was closed April 15 by Greyhound after the firm decided there would be no agency at Marin City for the time being, passengers buying their tickets on the buses.

Mrs. Judson lives at Building C-44, Marin City.

Fairfax School Bond Group To Be Formed

The Fairfax School District board will organize citizen committees for its $270,000 bond issue, tentatively set for election on June 11, at its meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in Central School.

Also on the agenda is review of the budget and discussion of two proposed salary schedules for teachers. The two schedules call for increases of $4,526 and $6,927.

Paintings On Display

Paintings by Frances von Ahn, San Rafael watercolor and oils artists, are currently on display in the show windows and the interior of the Netboy Shoe Salon, 1101 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Dr. Dufficy's New Hospital Ready For First Patients Wednesday

Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy's new 97-bed Terra Linda Valley Hospital was ready today for its first admission of patients Wednesday following a lively weekend of previews.

Five hundred attended an open house for physicians and city and county officials Friday night, Dufficy said, and more than 1,500 turned out for a public preview yesterday.

Dufficy will be honored by more than 100 county officials and well-wishers at a 7:30 o'clock dinner tonight at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael, in observance of his retirement from the position of county physician tomorrow after 12 years of service.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell is to be master of ceremonies. If health permits, Supervisor Chairman Walter R. Castro will head those paying tribute to Dufficy. A no-host cocktail hour will start at 6:30 p.m.

"I'm going around to kiss the supervisors goodbye at their weekly session tomorrow," said Dufficy, adding sentimentally, "You know, after all I'm going to miss this job."

Dufficy's new hospital, a one-story structure on a knoll near Highway 101 in Terra Linda, will receive most of the county hospital patients from nearby Lucas Valley on Wednesday, offering two-bedrooms except for seven single rooms for the acutely ill. Whether they remain will be up to them. Dufficy has expressed confidence he can attract them even under new state-set conditions of independent choice.

Attractions include bedside-controlled television, background music with room controls, jacks for bedside telephones, adjustable contour beds, hydraulic patient lifts, and air-conditioning.

Here's A Man With Faith In Terra Linda Shopping Center

Toland

Munson

One man who apparently doesn't feel that the Northgate Regional Shopping Center will appreciably downgrade the Terra Linda Shopping Center's community standing is Frank Hawkins of San Rafael.

Hawkins, who gave up the automobile business (Redwood Motors) to take care of his real estate investments, is proposing a one-story, four-unit, 3,000-square foot commercial building at the far end of the Manuel T. Freitas Parkway which would be leased out for merchants' and office use. Designer Harold Lezzini is working on the plans.

TANKERSLEY REALTY, heretofore operating solely from 1106 Grant Avenue, Novato, will open a branch office at 2042 Fourth Street, San Rafael, on May 1. Mrs. Elaine Blair will be the manager.

R. KEITH DEARTH, president of the Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., has announced the following promotions: Muriel M. Brown to assistant vice president-controller; Anthony J. Correll to assistant controller; Judith Lubarsky to assistant secretary; Ethel Curtis to assistant treasurer.

Executive vice president Esther M. Dearth and Correll will attend the National Controllers Convention in Chicago next month. Mrs. Dearth is a past district governor of the Society of Savings and Loan controllers.

TWO NOVATO MEN have joined the staff of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. Wayne C. Hathaway, Novato planning commissioner and first treasurer of that city when it was incorporated in 1960, will bring 12 years of banking experience to the post of savings department manager. Wilfred L. Spence, with the Marin County assessor's office for more than three years, will become staff appraiser.

WILLIAM G. TOLAND of San Rafael has been appointed Ortho Division manager of research and development for California Chemical Co. He was formerly on the staff of the vice president of chemical research, and suceeds L. R. Gardner who has become a vice president in the Ortho division. Toland joined the company in 1944 as an organic chemist.

BENJAMIN A. MUNSON of Terra Linda has been named regional sales manager of KGO Radio in San Francisco, adding promotion responsibilities to his continuing duties as an account executive which he has held since 1959. Munson moved to Marin with his wife and children in 1956 and subsequently managed to talk his two brothers and parents into coming to the county.

Camp Rafa-El Registration Set

Registration for Camp Rafa-El is now under way, announces Julian Mack II, chairman of the Day Camp Committees of the Marin Jewish Community Center.

The camp season, on a site in Santa Venetia, will be nine weeks from June 24 to Aug. 23, and will be divided into three 3-week periods. Camp will be under direction of Harry Schwartz, who for the past eight years has been program director of the San Francisco Center's summer day camp.

Additional information and registration may be obtained at the center.

Hearing Handicapped Group Will Meet

Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children will nominate officers and discuss a membership drive at a meeting at Marindale School in Terra Linda at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Gerald Jampolsky will lead a discussion following showing of the film, "Learning To Live Together."

No Apartments Sought In Santa Venetia Area

A Gallinas Village resident has asked the Marin County Planning Commission and County Board of supervisors to reconsider decision to allow apartment buildings in the Santa Venetia community.

John H. Miller of 1180 Adrian Way, in letters to the board and the commission, protested the proposed development of 60 apartments on North San Pedro Road at Adrian Way.

The apartments, planned for five three-story buildings next to the Gallinas Village Shopping Center, are permitted under a rezoning granted two months ago to the Jonwil Corp. of Oakland.

Commercial zoning for the 1.9-acre site was changed, without protest, to multiple-family zoning. Most of Gallinas Village is zoned for single family residences.

Miller said apartments would be detrimental to the area and would be a burden on limited recreational facilities of Gallinas Village as well as an added traffic problem.

He said more apartment buildings in Marin will "mar" the appearance of the county. "I cite as an example the Merrydale Apartments on the south approach to the freeway from North San Pedro Road," he added.

A request for architectural supervision of the apartments will be heard May 6 by the planning commission. Principal planner Sidney Shaw said fewer than the proposed 60 units will be allowed, but zoning for apartments is "already water under the bridge."

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said the zoning approval can be revoked only be initiation of new zoning by the commission or the board, or through a petition of property owners, including the owners of the apartment building site.

Gallinas Village residents succeeded two weeks ago in preventing the construction of duplexes near the shopping center. They protested to the commission, and the developers withdrew the application for duplex zoning.

Center Construction Is Being Reviewed

A review of construction operations on the administration building of the Marin County Civic Center by contractors and architects from the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation began today and will continue tomorrow in the San Francisco office of Aaron G. Green, associated architect for the project.

Purpose of the conferences, according to Green, is to obtain recommendations for improving construction techniques for further work on the Civic Center plan.

Marin Hunt For Japanese Beetles Starts

A search for Japanese beetles in Marin County will be launched this week by agricultural commissioner Richard F. Straw.

Twenty-four yellow metal traps will be set out in the county to attract the beetles, if there are any in the area.

"We will put most of the traps around Hamilton Air Force Base and the Sausalito waterfront," Straw said. The beetles are not common to California and their only means of entry would be by some sort of carrier such as planes, cars or boats, he said.

The Japanese beetle is a major threat to food crop plants, and one of the chief purposes of the agricultural inspection stations along the state's borders is to prevent intrusion of the beetles.

The small traps, which Straw said are similar to small bombs in appearance, will contain a non-poisonous chemical which attracts the beetles. The traps will be left out during the summer.

The beetle is about one-third of an inch long, with a shiny green coat and bronze wings.

"If you find one," Straw said, "you should douse it with rubbing alcohol and bring it to my office in the Civic Center."

There are 32,000 sawmills in the nation; 15,480 of them in the southern states.

Students In Novato Will Teach Tomorrow

The second annual student teaching day will be held in Novato Unified School District tomorrow when 88 student members of chalkdusters, the Future Teachers chapter at Novato High School, do practice teaching in all of the district's schools.

The 38 students who will teach in the five elementary schools will spend one half a day teaching, one fourth the day with the principal discussing teaching, and one fourth the day visiting other classes.

The 33 students who will teach at the junior high school will spend some of the periods teaching and some periods meeting with teachers and the principal in small discussion groups.

Only 16 students will teach in the high school. They are juniors or seniors who had previous practice teaching last year. One student will spend the day with the speech therapist.

Following the teaching assignments, the students must write a short essay on what they learned from the practice teaching.

Foundation Annual Dinner Tonight

The Marin chapter of the National Foundation will hold its annual dinner-report meeting and election of officers at 6:30 p.m. today at Franchini's Chateau.

Dr. William E. Reynolds has been announced as guest speaker by chairman Mrs. Walter F. Johnson of San Anselmo. Dr. Reynolds is chief of research training, division of research, California Department of Public Health. He will speak about arthritis clinics.

Numerous awards will be announced at the meeting for service to the community and the National Foundation, according to Mrs. Johnson.

College Class Work Due At Exposition

College of Marin's interior design class has been invited to participate in the second annual Furniture Exposition at Brooks Hall in San Francisco on May 11-19, it was announced yesterday by Edward Johanson, art instructor at the college.

A theme for their display is now being selected from scale size room models presently being created by the interior design students. Five other Bay Area colleges will participate in the exposition.

The type of display to be exhibited by the college class is a cabana, apoolside rest area for after swim relaxation.

The exposition is sponsored by the Retail Furniture Assn. of California and the Furniture Club of Northern California in cooperation with the National Home Fashions League.

Dissension In The Giant Ranks? Sanford, Duffalo Seem Disturbed

CONNOLLY

Maybe it is just as well the Giants are on the road until May 14. They looked awful losing three games in a row to Milwaukee. With a fraction of their hitting power operating, they could have won at least two of the games. Strangely enough the pitching was superb. Juan Marichal on Sunday and Jack Sanford on Saturday looked great. But a jittery Manager Al Dark lifted Sanford on Saturday and it cost him a ball game.

Sunday, Marichal was far and away at his best but his teammates lacked power and couldn't hit enough to get themselves warm and Warren Spahn walked off with the victory.

It was positively disgraceful to see two ball games go out the window on account of sick hitting. The worst part of the lack of hitting was that it came from our power boys — like Mays, Cepeda and McCovey. Those three guys couldn't seem to buy a hit in the clutch.

But you can put this down in your bonnet: Everything is not hotsy totsy with the Giants. I felt a chill in the clubhouse. There seems to be a division of opinion on whether there is a team revolt budding.

Mind you, I say this without any proof. I just detected an icy chill in the clubhouse, which was as cold as a landlord's heart.

Jack Sanford stood around and wouldn't say whether he was glad or sad about being removed in the eighth inning with a 5 to 0 lead.

Jim Duffalo wouldn't talk except to agree that, according to the newspapers, he was removed from the pitcher's box because he wouldn't plunk Lew Burdette, who an inning before was supposed to have tried to hit Willie Mays.

Harvey Kuenn, the Giants utility ace, seemed upset over a story he was supposed to be traded to Milwaukee. And Harvey would like that kind of a swap on account his wife is ill and he'd be nearer to her.

A lot of the top Giant brass feel Orlando Cepeda is not hustling like he should. They think he is loafing and not too worried about the club.

JOSE PAGAN came in for his share of abuse because he right now has made more errors than all last year.

All this idle chatter about Tom Haller being a replica of Bill Dickey, the former Yankee catcher, faded like snow when Tom's batting flopped

The fact that Chuck Hiller was benched for Joey Amalfitano caused rumbles as to whether Hiller was a flash in in the skillet last season.

Jimmy Davenport's fielding is away off from his 1962 standards and has Alvin Dark worried.

But the real beef is on Willie Mays. The big salaried Giant outfielder has got it coming and going. "Can he throw anymore?" was one of the remarks. Is he slipping at bat? Is he scared to death of getting hit and is that the reason for his apathy at the bat?

MAYS, MORE than anyone else, is the reason why the Giants lost two out of three games to Milwaukee, and the first series loss of the year. Willie was at bat in the clutch several times and flubbed out. He looked like an old worn out light bulb.

Haller's slump and the enemic batting of Chuck Hiller confuse and disturb the equilibrium of the Giants.

Coupled with the epidemic of lefthanded pitchers against them, the Giants look like a club that has gone to pieces. But it is, in my opinion, only temporary.

ANY CLUB that can get the kind of pitching the Giants have had of late and not cash in on it is in a bad way. And that is the trouble with the entire S.F. club today.

Even Alvin Dark, the masterful strategist of the club, is being seriously criticized for the way he has handled his pitchers. They blame him for removing Sanford with a 5 to 0 lead and they poke at him for using Billy Pierce too often without the five-day usual rest.

I asked Sanford in the clubhouse yesterday if he wanted to be relieved with a five-run lead and less than an inning to go and he replied: "I never want to be relieved."

JIM DUFFALO, the young righthanded pitcher who was yanked for not brushing back Lew Burdette, after the Milwaukee pitcher had been accused of trying to beanball Willie Mays, was considerably annoyed.

"If I was ordered to brush back a batter, I wouldn't admit it to newspaper guys," Duffalo said. "So why should management?"

So you can see from the above rundown on the Giants that harmony isn't one of their virtues. I hope this road trip will straighten them out and bring them back in fine fettle. They have it, but so far haven't been able to deliver it.

San Rafael Golf Team Wins 5-1

San Rafael High School's golf team downed the linksters from Drake High School 5-1 Friday in a match at Marin Golf Club.

San Rafael winners were Tom Degenhardt, Bruce Wold, Craig Balentine, Mike Collier and Steve Weschler. Drake winner was Gordon Nelson.

SAN LEANDRO (UPI) — Pro golf star Tony Lema, 29, was married to Betty Kline of Oklahoma City Saturday in a San Leandro church.

The couple is honeymooning in Las Vegas, where Lema competes in a golf tournament this weekend.

Eldon Bennett Is Double Winner

Eldon Bennett won a pair of sweepstakes tournaments over the weekend at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club, shooting 75s, without his handicap, on both Saturday and yesterday.

Results were:

Saturday: Eldon Bennett, 75-7—68; Gordon Johnson, 95-25—70; Al Martin, 95-25—70; Mike O'Connell, 84-13—71.

Sunday: Eldon Bennett, 75-7—68; Mike O'Connell, 84-13—71; Doug Olson, 90-18—72; Gordon Johnson, 97-25—72.

Giants Hit Road After Bad Home Stand

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In a strange reversal of roles from 1962, the San Francisco Giants take to the road tonight to try to regain winning form.

They'll send Jack Fisher, winless in two decisions, against Philadelphia Cal McLish, who's dropped his only verdict. Billy O'Dell will pitch for the Giants tomorrow night.

The defending National League champs, slogging in fourth place three games off the pace, will be after their fifth victory in six road games.

By contrast, a 3-1 loss to Milwaukee yesterday at San Francisco gave the Giants a meager 6-8 record at home thus far in 1963.

It's a complete turnabout from last year, when the Giants were 61-21 at Candlestick Park but struggled to only a 42-41 record on the road.

"But I'm not discouraged at all," said Manager Alvin Dark after the Braves completed a three-game sweep yesterday. "We have a good ball club and it's not even May yet. The fellows are starting to hit."

The hits came often yesterday against left-hander Warren Spahn—but they didn't come at the right time. Eleven safeties produced only one run while the Braves picked up three runs on their six hits.

Felipe Alou went 4-for-4 with three singles and a triple yet only once when he came to bat was there a man on base. Jim Davenport raised his average to .243 with three singles but he, too, advanced only one runner.

When the Giants loaded the bases in the eighth, Willie Mays grounded out. And with two men aboard in the ninth and the score 3-1, pinch-hitter Jim Coker grounded into a force play and Joe Amalfitano lifted an easy fly.

Juan Marichal pitched what Dark called "a great game — when you get pitching like that it's encouraging." But he lost despite retiring 15 consecutive batters midway through the game.

The Braves scored in the second when Ed Mathews walked, moved to third on Norm Larker's single and scored on a sacrifice fly by Dennis Menke.

With Larker on third and one out later in the inning, a weird play unfolded. Ty Cline popped a squeeze bunt foul about 25 feet up the third base line.

Catcher Ed Bailey, about to catch the ball, collided with Larker, who had run with the pitch. The ball fell to the ground. Bailey yelled interference, Dark and Braves' manager Bobby Bragan raced to the field and the four umpires—Paul Pryor, Frank Secory, Bill Jackowski and Vinnie Smith—retired for a private confab.

After three minutes of heated discussion the umpires ruled that Larker's interference broke up what would have been a double play—so they gave Bailey an unassisted twin killing.

Spahn singled home Milwaukee's second run in the eighth and Hank Aaron blasted his seventh home run in the ninth off reliever Don Larsen. San Francisco scored in the ninth when Alou singled, Bailey doubled and Mathews bobbled Jose Pagan's slow roller.

Tars Divide Double Bill As Perlis Hurls Three-Hitter

College of Marin's baseball team traveled all the way to Weed Saturday to split a doubleheader with Siskiyou, the Tars dropping the first game 5-1 and winning the second tilt 4-1.

Tar hurler Dave Perlis threw his second consecutive great game in the nightcap as he pitched a three hitter to get his second victory on the season without a loss. He twirled a one-hitter last week for his first win.

In the first tilt, the Mariners collected only four hits as Siskiyou pitcher Bill Sage was in complete control throughout the game. Ron Sterling had two of the hits, and Bill Buffalow and Russ Honeyman had the others, all singles. Honeymann (1-1) went all the way on the mound for the Tars, suffering the loss.

In the second game, Marin rightfielder Mike Walsh was the slugger of the hour. He hit a double in the second inning, knocking in a run, and came back with a two-run homer in the sixth inning. His blow easily carried over the left field wall, 320 feet from home plate.

The Tars scored their first two runs in the second inning. After a single by Honeyman, Walsh doubled, then scored himself on a single by Rocky Jordan. Then Siskiyou came back with a run in their half of the second frame, making the score 2-1.

The scoreboard remained unchanged until the sixth inning when Walsh slugged his homer behind a walk to Honeyman, putting the game on ice.

The other two hits by the Mariners were a double by Jim Lucas and a single by Sterling. Baseball coach Ed Grimm credited Lucas with some fine catches in centerfield and added, "He is probably the best centerfielder in the league.

The Tars now have a 4-2 record in the Golden Valley Conference, and will take on Sierra College in Rockland next Saturday in a double header.

Cardenal Goes To Minor League

The San Francisco Giants yesterday optioned rookie outfielder Jose Cardenal to their El Paso farm club in the Texas League.

Cardenal had appeared in five games and hit a pinch-hit single which drove in two runs.

Marin '9' Ties For Pennant

Billings - Hutchison Builders of Marin defeated Gateway Chevrolet 3-0 yesterday to tie for the second half championship of the Alameda Winter Semi-Pro Baseball League.

The Builders will playoff Milen Jewelers next Sunday night for the second half title at Albert Park, San Rafael, scene of yesterday's game.

In winning their fourth straight yesterday, the Builders broke open a scoreless duel in the eighth inning. Ken Gelatti was safe on an error, Dick Descalso sacrificed him to second and relief pitcher Bobby DeRosa, with two strikes on him, singled Gelatti home. Shortstop Don Lauters then drove home DeRosa with a 375 foot double and came in with the third run on Jerry Scott's second single of the game.

The Builders threatened to break of the game in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and no outs, but the Gateway team executed a triple play.

DeRosa, in relief of starter Jerry Walters, was the winning pitcher as he hurled three hitless, scoreless innings. Walters gave up only three hits in the six frames he worked.

It was the Builders' first outing in more than a month as seven consecutive dates were rained out.

MARIN MASTERS

Sharp, Posusney Remain Unbeaten

The field in the Marin Masters bowling tournament has been narrowed down to six keglers with the finals of the top Marin bowling show to end next Sunday at Nave Lanes.

Out of a total of 81 entries, 15 top qualifiers plus defending champion Mike Weddell remained for the start of the finals yesterday. Ten of the qualifiers were elminated in yesterday's action.

Remaining in the roll-off for the top spot are Jay Sharp and Ed Posusney who are undefeated, and Lee Stetson, Fletcher Bates, Ed "300" Clinton and Don Fredette who have suffered one loss in the double-elimination tourney.

Fredette, for the second consecutive year, topped the qualifiers with a four-game series of 842. High single game for the qualifiers was a 244 thrown by youthful Billy Hughes.

Defending champ Weddell was eliminated from the tourney. In the top match of the day yesterday, Bates rolled a big 267 game on his way to a three-game set of 657 to down Weddell who fired a sparkling 649 series which included a 256 game.

The finals next Sunday at Nave Lanes will start at 12:30 p.m.

The 15 qualifiers and their scores Saturday were:

Don Fredette, 223-221-195-203—842.
Walt Carter, 190-201-194-223 — 808.
Dave Greeson, 236-178-181-211—806.
Ron Cox, 174-215-221-195—805.
Billy Hughes, 244-193-170-195—802.
Lee Stetson, 196-215-206-171 — 788.
Ed Posusney, 170-200-215-201 — 786.
Jay Sharp, 192-202-206-182—782.
Jim Barnard, 205-181-194-202 — 782.
Fletcher Bates, 176-210-190-201—777.
Laurie Migliore, 233-159-203-180—775.

Marin Team Wins 5-Mile Foot Race

Placing men in first, second, fourth, fifth and sixth positions, the Marin Athletic Club opened the 1963 distance running season Saturday with an easy victory in the Gold Nugget Celebration at Paradise.

The race, a five-mile course from the neighboring town of Magalia to Paradise, was won by Marin's Darryl Beardall in the record time of 21 minutes, 47 seconds. The old course record was 24:03.

Other Marin leaders were Richard League, second, 23:18; Bob Van Keuren, fourth, 24:24; Harold Hammer, fifth, 25.07; Ray Beardall, sixth, 26:20.

San Rafael Net Team Tops Drake

San Rafael High School's tennis team beat Drake 5-0 in a Marin Athletic League match Friday at San Rafael.

In singles competition, Harvey Klyce defeated Don Bozarth 6-1, 6-0; Greg Parkerson defeated Mik Castelli 6-1, 6-1 and Ron Klyce defeated Doug Sullivan 6-1, 7-5.

In the doubles competition, Bill Pendergrass and Warren DeGraff dropped Steve Schultz and Ken Bozarth 6-0, 6-0, and Rick Dykes and Jeff Linder defeated Kirk Smith and Mac Come 6-1, 6-1.

On the previous day, San Rafael defeated Novato 5-0 in a make up game, as the Bulldogs remained undefeated.

Richmond Sweeps Yacht Club

By ALFRED MATSON

From the very onset it was evident that the sailors from Richmond were not to be denied in their bid for right of possession of the Sir Thomas Lipton San Francisco Bay trophy.

It was a duel between teams of three boats each of the Triton class representing the Corinthian and Richmond yacht clubs in a best two-out-of-three series.

Two races were held on Saturday and the results clearly proved that a third contest was not necessary. Point wise, it was 45½ points for Richmond and 29 points for Corinthian, a soul-wrenching defeat for the Tiburon tars.

In the morning race a near calm prevailed at the start. Only Earl Larson and the Corinthian dark horse, Benno Nell, had elected to play the outer buoy. A slight breeze materialized and they were off and running to build up a commanding lead before the others broke clear of the doldrums with Nell's teammates, Dr. Anthony Souza and Charlie Weaver, trailing.

On the beat up from Blossom Rock the Richmond team displayed some astute strategy and Circe, sailed by Bert Clausen, moved into the lead to win with Larson in the second spot and Nell third. Donovan Smith of Richmond, Souza and Weaver followed in that order.

The afternoon affair was as miserable for the sons of Corinth, albeit Weaver was second to Clausen, the two time winner; Nell, after a losing battle with the tides off Harding Rock, was completely out of contention and finished a distant fifth. Souza did not finish.

The initial winner of the trophy, recently rediscovered in an Olympic Club locker after a dormancy of many years, may not have the bejeweled mug in its possession too long as the Golden Gate Yacht Club has already issued a formal challenge, specifying Folkboats as the craft of bid.

SATURDAY'S BULLSHIP Race was also somewhat of a debacle with an 8 a.m. start, no wind and an ebbtide. Many of the 140 starters were swept, willy nilly, under the Golden Gate bridge, a mark of the course, and were disqualified.

The few that did finish took well over two hours, a long time for such cramped quarters. The winners: 1. Dick Jacobsen, 2. Tie, Charles Lazzaro, Bill Barkan, 4. Mike Stone and 5. Kathleen Murphy.

Dissension In The Giant Ranks? Sanford, Duffalo Seem Disturbed

CONNOLLY

Maybe it is just as well the Giants are on the road until May 14. They looked awful losing three games in a row to Milwaukee. With a fraction of their hitting power operating, they could have won at least two of the games. Strangely enough the pitching was superb. Juan Marichal on Sunday and Jack Sanford on Saturday looked great. But a jittery Manager Al Dark lifted Sanford on Saturday and it cost him a ball game.

Sunday, Marichal was far and away at his best but his teammates lacked power and couldn't hit enough to get themselves warm and Warren Spahn walked off with the victory.

It was positively disgraceful to see two ball games go out the window on account of sick hitting. The worst part of the lack of hitting was that it came from our power boys — like Mays, Cepeda and McCovey. Those three guys couldn't seem to buy a hit in the clutch.

But you can put this down in your bonnet: Everything is not hotsy totsy with the Giants. I felt a chill in the clubhouse. There seems to be a division of opinion on whether there is a team revolt budding.

Mind you, I say this without any proof. I just detected an icy chill in the clubhouse, which was as cold as a landlord's heart.

Jack Sanford stood around and wouldn't say whether he was glad or sad about being removed in the eighth inning with a 5 to 0 lead.

Jim Duffalo wouldn't talk except to agree that, according to the newspapers, he was removed from the pitcher's box because he wouldn't plunk Lew Burdette, who an inning before was supposed to have tried to hit Willie Mays.

Harvey Kuenn, the Giants utility ace, seemed upset over a story he was supposed to be traded to Milwaukee. And Harvey would like that kind of a swap on account his wife is ill and he'd be nearer to her.

A lot of the top Giant brass feel Orlando Cepeda is not hustling like he should. They think he is loafing and not too worried about the club.

JOSE PAGAN came in for his share of abuse because he right now has made more errors than all last year.

All this idle chatter about Tom Haller being a replica of Bill Dickey, the former Yankee catcher, faded like snow when Tom's batting flopped

The fact that Chuck Hiller was benched for Joey Amalfitano caused rumbles as to whether Hiller was a flash in in the skillet last season.

Jimmy Davenport's fielding is away off from his 1962 standards and has Alvin Dark worried.

But the real beef is on Willie Mays. The big salaried Giant outfielder has got it coming and going. "Can he throw anymore?" was one of the remarks. Is he slipping at bat? Is he scared to death of getting hit and is that the reason for his apathy at the bat?

MAYS, MORE than anyone else, is the reason why the Giants lost two out of three games to Milwaukee, and the first series loss of the year. Willie was at bat in the clutch several times and flubbed out. He looked like an old worn out light bulb.

Haller's slump and the enemic batting of Chuck Hiller confuse and disturb the equilibrium of the Giants.

Coupled with the epidemic of lefthanded pitchers against them, the Giants look like a club that has gone to pieces. But it is, in my opinion, only temporary.

ANY CLUB that can get the kind of pitching the Giants have had of late and not cash in on it is in a bad way. And that is the trouble with the entire S.F. club today.

Even Alvin Dark, the masterful strategist of the club, is being seriously criticized for the way he has handled his pitchers. They blame him for removing Sanford with a 5 to 0 lead and they poke at him for using Billy Pierce too often without the five-day usual rest.

I asked Sanford in the clubhouse yesterday if he wanted to be relieved with a five-run lead and less than an inning to go and he replied: "I never want to be relieved."

JIM DUFFALO, the young righthanded pitcher who was yanked for not brushing back Lew Burdette, after the Milwaukee pitcher had been accused of trying to beanball Willie Mays, was considerably annoyed.

"If I was ordered to brush back a batter, I wouldn't admit it to newspaper guys," Duffalo said. "So why should management?"

So you can see from the above rundown on the Giants that harmony isn't one of their virtues. I hope this road trip will straighten them out and bring them back in fine fettle. They have it, but so far haven't been able to deliver it.

MARIN MASTERS

Sharp, Posusney Remain Unbeaten

The field in the Marin Masters bowling tournament has been narrowed down to six keglers with the finals of the top Marin bowling show to end next Sunday at Nave Lanes.

Out of a total of 81 entries, 15 top qualifiers plus defending champion Mike Weddell remained for the start of the finals yesterday. Ten of the qualifiers were elminated in yesterday's action.

Remaining in the roll-off for the top spot are Jay Sharp and Ed Posusney who are undefeated, and Lee Stetson, Fletcher Bates, Ed "300" Clinton and Don Fredette who have suffered one loss in the double-elimination tourney.

Fredette, for the second consecutive year, topped the qualifiers with a four-game series of 842. High single game for the qualifiers was a 244 thrown by youthful Billy Hughes.

Defending champ Weddell was eliminated from the tourney. In the top match of the day yesterday, Bates rolled a big 267 game on his way to a three-game set of 657 to down Weddell who fired a sparkling 649 series which included a 256 game.

The finals next Sunday at Nave Lanes will start at 12:30 p.m.

The 15 qualifiers and their scores Saturday were:

Don Fredette, 223-221-195-203—842.
Walt Carter, 190-201-194-223 — 808.
Dave Greeson, 236-178-181-211—806.
Ron Cox, 174-215-221-195—805.
Billy Hughes, 244-193-170-195—802.
Lee Stetson, 196-215-206-171 — 788.
Ed Posusney, 170-200-215-201 — 786.
Jay Sharp, 192-202-206-182—782.
Jim Barnard, 205-181-194-202 — 782.
Fletcher Bates, 176-210-190-201—777.
Laurie Migliore, 233-159-203-180—775.
Ed "300" Clinton, 235-181-187-171—774.
Chas Valsecchi, 216-216-174-167—773.
Jack Parsons, 215-193-180-183—771.
Spence Ward, 202-168-192-202—764.

Marin Team Wins 5-Mile Foot Race

Placing men in first, second, fourth, fifth and sixth positions, the Marin Athletic Club opened the 1963 distance running season Saturday with an easy victory in the Gold Nugget Celebration at Paradise.

The race, a five-mile course from the neighboring town of Magalia to Paradise, was won by Marin's Darryl Beardall in the record time of 21 minutes, 47 seconds. The old course record was 24:03.

Other Marin leaders were Richard League, second, 23:18; Bob Van Keuren, fourth, 24:24; Harold Hammer, fifth, 25.07; Ray Beardall, sixth, 26:20.

San Rafael Net Team Tops Drake

San Rafael High School's tennis team beat Drake 5-0 in a Marin Athletic League match Friday at San Rafael.

In singles competition, Harvey Klyce defeated Don Bozarth 6-1, 6-0; Greg Parkerson defeated Mik Castelli 6-1, 6-1 and Ron Klyce defeated Doug Sullivan 6-1, 7-5.

In the doubles competition, Bill Pendergrass and Warren DeGraff dropped Steve Schultz and Ken Bozarth 6-0, 6-0, and Rick Dykes and Jeff Linder defeated Kirk Smith and Mac Come 6-1, 6-1.

On the previous day, San Rafael defeated Novato 5-0 in a make up game, as the Bulldogs remained undefeated.

Richmond Sweeps Yacht Club

By ALFRED MATSON

From the very onset it was evident that the sailors from Richmond were not to be denied in their bid for right of possession of the Sir Thomas Lipton San Francisco Bay trophy.

It was a duel between teams of three boats each of the Triton class representing the Corinthian and Richmond yacht clubs in a best two-out-of-three series.

Two races were held on Saturday and the results clearly proved that a third contest was not necessary. Point wise, it was 45½ points for Richmond and 29 points for Corinthian, a soul-wrenching defeat for the Tiburon tars.

In the morning race a near calm prevailed at the start. Only Earl Larson and the Corinthian dark horse, Benno Nell, had elected to play the outer buoy. A slight breeze materialized and they were off and running to build up a commanding lead before the others broke clear of the doldrums with Nell's teammates, Dr. Anthony Souza and Charlie Weaver, trailing.

On the beat up from Blossom Rock the Richmond team displayed some astute strategy and Circe, sailed by Bert Clausen, moved into the lead to win with Larson in the second spot and Nell third. Donovan Smith of Richmond, Souza and Weaver followed in that order.

The afternoon affair was as miserable for the sons of Corinth, albeit Weaver was second to Clausen, the two time winner; Nell, after a losing battle with the tides off Harding Rock, was completely out of contention and finished a distant fifth. Souza did not finish.

The initial winner of the trophy, recently rediscovered in an Olympic Club locker after a dormancy of many years, may not have the bejeweled mug in its possession too long as the Golden Gate Yacht Club has already issued a formal challenge, specifying Folkboats as the craft of bid.

SATURDAY'S BULLSHIP Race was also somewhat of a debacle with an 8 a.m. start, no wind and an ebbtide. Many of the 140 starters were swept, willy nilly, under the Golden Gate bridge, a mark of the course, and were disqualified.

The few that did finish took well over two hours, a long time for such cramped quarters. The winners: 1. Dick Jacobsen, 2. Tie, Charles Lazzaro, Bill Barkan, 4. Mike Stone and 5. Kathleen Murphy.

Seals-Totems Series Knotted At 1-1

San Francisco and Seattle, fighting for the Leslie Patrick Cup, symbolic of the Western Hockey League championship, seem out to prove they're the two most evenly-matched teams on ice.

The home-standing Seals squeaked through in the second game of the best-of-seven series last night with a 6-5 triumph that knotted it at one victory apiece.

Seattle's victory came Friday night in a so-called sudden-death overtime that went 17 minutes, 32 seconds past regulation play before the Totems won, 3-2. Last night's outcome was not decided until 5:59 of the overtime when Nick Mickoski took a pass from Orland Kurtenbach and rammed the winning goal through from 15 feet out.

The Seals had a 5-1 lead after the opening period, but Seattle kept the hosts in check and scored four times for a regulation tie.

Six different Seals scored. In addition to Mickoski, they were Al Nicholson, Paul Jackson, Tom Thurlby, Duke Edmundson and Ray Cyr.

Jim Powers and Don Chiupka scored twice each for the losers and Bob Sabourin got the other point.

The series continues tomorrow night at the Cow Palace where all games will be played because the Seattle rink is being used by an ice show.

A crowd of 6,944 saw last night's game.

WEST COAST TRACK

World Records Topple At Mount San Antonio Relays

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

C. K. "One Man Gang" Yang, Al Oerter and a fast quartet from Arizona State bettered world records at the Mount San Antonio relays at Walnut, Calif., but West Coast track athletes who put their show on the road this past weekend also were impressive.

Especially Brian Sternberg, the young University of Washington pole vaulter, who cleared a world-record 16 feet, 5 inches at the Pennsylvania Relays Saturday in Philadelphia.

Yang, 29-year-old Nationalist Chinese attending UCLA, scored 9,121 points Saturday and yesterday in the decathalon, breaking the 9,000-point barrier and smashing retired Rafer Johnson's record of 8,685 points set while Johnson was at UCLA.

Oerter eclipsed his own discus record Saturday by spinning the plate 205-5½, bettering his mark of 204-10½ attained at the United States-Polish meet last summer.

The Arizona State mile relay team also bettered the official world record with a 3:4.5 clocking. Henry Carr sprinted his 440 yards in 45.1 after Mile Barrick led off with 48.0. Ron Freeman ran third in 45.6 and Ulis Williams turned in a 45.8 anchor lap.

BARELY MISSES

Sternberg, 19, almost made 16-7, but the bar was brushed slightly and fell after he hit the pit. The sophomore from Seattle thus erased, pending official approval, the previous mark of 16-2½ set by Penti Niklua of Finland. John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State has a 16-4 pending.

The Stanford Indians went to Des Moines, Iowa for the Drake Relays and came away with four victories in the two-day event.

Distance man Harry McCalla made up more than a 40-yard lead for an Indian victory in the distance medley. The Stanford winning time was 9:54.4, two-tenths of a second better than second-place Southern Illinois.

Steve Cartright came through with a victorious triple jump of 48-6¾, his best of the year.

The Indians were disqualified in the 880-yard relay when they passed the baton out of the lane. The foursome had the best qualifying time on Friday.

Dave Weill tossed the discus 183-2 for a Friday win. The Stanford four-mile team of Harlan Andrews, Bill Pratt, Bob Miltz and McCalla defeated Western Michigan and the rest of the field in 16:43.4.

PAN-AM WINNER

Gene Johnson, the University of California high jumper who's not participating for his school this season, captured the high jump Saturday at the Pan-American Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil with a 6-11 leap.

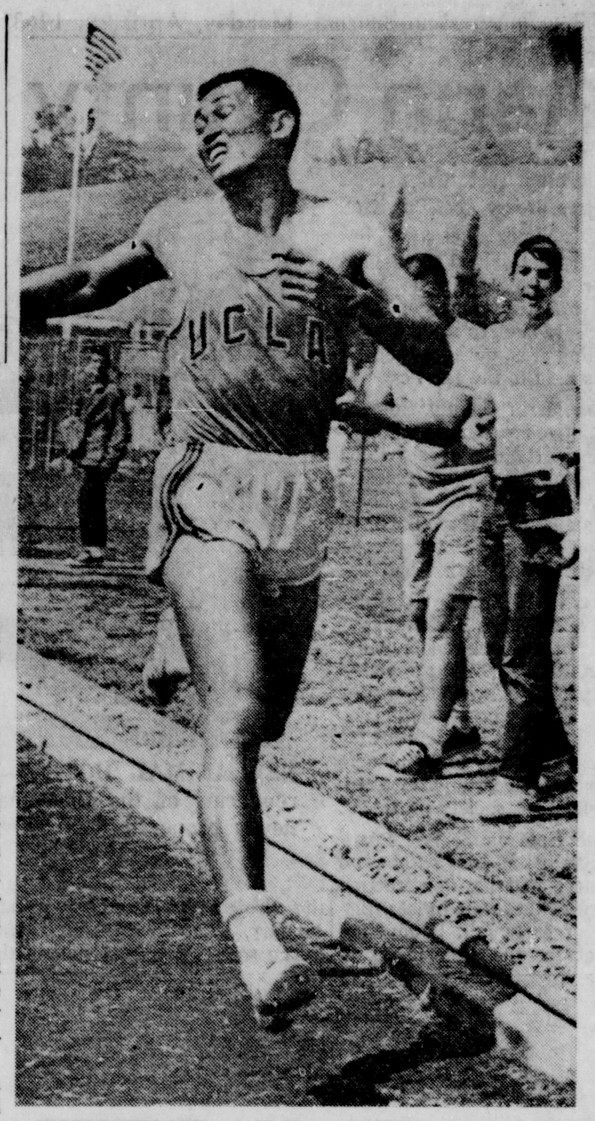
Roger Olson, who defeated Johnson in the 1963 NCAA championships, continued his career of outjumping 7-foot performers by clearing 6-8 Friday against Lew Hoyt of Southern California. Hoyt, who has a 7-½ mark this year, placed second at 6-6.

Only a generously estimated crowd of 808 persons huddled in the Los Angeles Coliseum, which seats 100,000 or more, and watched USC dump Cal, 97-48.

Olson beat Hoyt for the second straight day at Mount San Antonio, but couldn't handle erratic Joe Faust. The first four finishers jumped 6-8, including third-place Hoyt, but places were calculated by the fewest number of misses.

The winning Trojans' Julio Marin ran an 8:51.6 two-mile against Cal, fastest this year in the nation.

Mel Renfro was upset twice Saturday in his hurdle specialties, but his Oregon teammates turned back Washington State, 87-57. Cougar Jim Allen clipped Renfro in the 120-yard highs in 14.5 and in the 330-yard intermediates in 38.1.



WORLD RECORD—C. K. Yang of UCLA crosses the finish line of 1,500-meter run yesterday as he set a world record of 9,121 points in the decathlon at Walnut. His time in the 1,500 was 5:02.4, good for 245 points. (AP Wirephoto)

$1,300 At Stake In Women's Golf Tourney Playoff

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The Women's Titleholders Golf Championship and $1,300 in top prize money ride on an 18-hole playoff today between Marilyn Smith and Mickey Wright, tied at 292 after 72-holes of play in the $7,500 event.

Thep layoff is the second in the history of the tournament and the second Smith-Wright face-off this year. The runner-up will earn $1,000.

Miss Wright, the defending champion from Dallas, Tex., overcame a three-stroke deficit in yesterday's fourth round with her 1- over-par 36-37—73.

A double bogey and a pair of bogies on the treacherous back nine of the Augusta Country Club course gave Miss Smith of Tequesta. Fla., a 36-40—76 three strokes off Miss Wright's pace.

Taking third place and $800, with a 298 was Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C. JoAnn Prentice of Columbia, S. C., was fourth with 302, and Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., fifth at 303.

Hughes' 691-264 Tops In Greenbrae Bowling

Bill Hughes of the 900 Classic League topped Greenbrae Lanes bowlers for the week with a crashing 691 series which included a 264 game, both high for the week.

Hughes' other two games were 227 and 200. His action was in the 900 Classic League. Runners up in high series and individual game were in the same league as Frank Bernardi rolled a 657 series and Ed Henry rolled a 258 line.

Twelve-year-old Steve DeLine rolled another big series in the Saturday Junior Trio League, a 612 (204-213-195) to lead the youngsters.

Alice Chapman of the Coffee Cuppers League topped the women for the week with a 566 series and 233 game. Other high series were rolled by Marilyn Epidendio, 563, and Elinor Davis, 561. Runner-up in high game was Key Beal, 221.

QUITE A DAY FOR LAD IN LI'L LEAGUE

Twelve-year-old Michael Einstein pitched a no-hitter and hit a grand slam home run in the opening game of the Mill Valley Little League season Saturday.

Einstein struck out eleven and faced only 19 hitters, one more than the minimum, in leading the Corvairs to a 5-0 victory over the Lions, defending National League champions. He is the son of author Charles Einstein, a baseball analyst.

Pre-game ceremonies featured an address by sportscaster Russ Hodges and an exhibition by the San Rafael Military Academy drill team.

Teams Tie At Meadow Club

The teams of Dr. Tom Brennan-Ed Burmester-Fred Figone-Al Finocchio and Herb Crocker-Dr. Ed Campion-Milt Gabbs-Dr. John Cann tied for the Class A championship Saturday in the Meadow Club's first scheduled tournament of the 1963 season.

In best ball foursome competition those quartets each netted 56 strokes.

Second place in Class A went to Stu Harrison-Dr. Carroll Paulson - Chet Patterson - Ed Christie Jr. with a 57. At 58 in third place came Bill Zimmerman-Norb Hartman-Wally Laster-John Weitzel.

Class B: Tie, James MacKay-Jack Lehmkuhl - Ed Martens - Richard Ham and Wishard Brown - James Morena - Arthur Fay - Jack Glenn, 58; Ed Solinsky - Ken Maxwell - William St. Sure - Len Marcona, 59.

TEXAS OPEN

Rodgers Gets First Win In Over A Year

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Phil Rodgers, savoring his first tournament victory in more than a year, flew home to California today to take a week's vacation in honor of his winning the 1963 Texas Open.

Rodgers, a former NCAA champion from the University of Houston, sliced five more strokes off par yesterday with a closing round 66 to take a two-stroke victory over Johnny Pott with a 72-hold total of 16-under-par 168. It was worth $4,300.

Pott, from Gulf Hills, Miss., nearly matched Rodgers, but a bogey on the 17th hole and a par on the 18th left him with a 68 and a total 270. It was worth $3,000 to him.

Arnold Palmer, the pre-tournament favorite who came to San Antonio seeking his fourth consecutive Texas Open championship, finished in a tie for ninth, eight strokes off the pace.

Palmer had trouble with his irons in the first three rounds, and by the time he straightened his problems out for a final-round 67, it was too late to seriously challenge.

But Arnie was cheered by his final round, and said he now believes he has his iron game troubles solved, "at least back to where I have a chance to win."

Trailing Rogers and Pott in third place was Jack Fleck of Los Angeles with a total of 272. Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, and Bobby Nichols of Midland, Tex., were tied for fourth at 274.

Jr. Middleweight Crown Will Be On Line Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world junior middleweight (154 pounds) boxing title, a creation of the World Boxing Assn., will be at stake tonight in New Orleans when Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., defends the crown against Ralph Dupas, 27-year-old perennial challenger from New Orleans.

Dupas has challenged—and lost—in both the lightweight and welterweight divisions. For the frist time he is getting a chance at a title in his own home town.

Moyer, only 23, won the championship Oct. 21 by outpointing Joey Giambra in Portland. He retained it Feb. 20 in Honolulu by winning a decision over Stan Harrington. Dupas' most important fight in the last year was a 15-round defeat by Emile Griffith at Las Vegas in a welter title bout last July.

Seals-Totems Series Knotted At 1-1

San Francisco and Seattle, fighting for the Leslie Patrick Cup, symbolic of the Western Hockey League championship, seem out to prove they're the two most evenly-matched teams on ice.

The home-standing Seals squeaked through in the second game of the best-of-seven series last night with a 6-5 triumph that knotted it at one victory apiece.

Seattle's victory came Friday night in a so-called sudden-death overtime that went 17 minutes, 32 seconds past regulation play before the Totems won, 3-2. Last night's outcome was not decided until 5:59 of the overtime when Nick Mickoski took a pass from Orland Kurtenbach and rammed the winning goal through from 15 feet out.

The Seals had a 5-1 lead after the opening period, but Seattle kept the hosts in check and scored four times for a regulation tie.

Six different Seals scored. In addition to Mickoski, they were Al Nicholson, Paul Jackson, Tom Thurlby, Duke Edmundson and Ray Cyr.

Jim Powers and Don Chiupka scored twice each for the losers and Bob Sabourin got the other point.

The series continues tomorrow night at the Cow Palace where all games will be played because the Seattle rink is being used by an ice show.

A crowd of 6,944 saw last night's game.

World Records Topple At Mount San Antonio Relays

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

C. K. "One Man Gang" Yang, Al Oerter and a fast quartet from Arizona State bettered world records at the Mount San Antonio relays at Walnut, Calif., but West Coast track athletes who put their show on the road this past weekend also were impressive.

Especially Brian Sternberg, the young University of Washington pole vaulter, who cleared a world-record 16 feet, 5 inches at the Pennsylvania Relays Saturday in Philadelphia.

Yang, 29-year-old Nationalist Chinese attending UCLA, scored 9,121 points Saturday and yesterday in the decathalon, breaking the 9,000-point barrier and smashing retired Rafer Johnson's record of 8,685 points set while Johnson was at UCLA.

Oerter eclipsed his own discus record Saturday by spinning the plate 205-5½, bettering his mark of 204-10½ attained at the United States-Polish meet last summer.

The Arizona State mile relay team also bettered the official world record with a 3:4.5 clocking. Henry Carr sprinted his 440 yards in 45.1 after Mile Barrick led off with 48.0. Ron Freeman ran third in 45.6 and Ulis Williams turned in a 45.8 anchor lap.

BARELY MISSES

Sternberg, 19, almost made 16-7, but the bar was brushed slightly and fell after he hit the pit. The sophomore from Seattle thus erased, pending official approval, the previous mark of 16-2½ set by Penti Niklua of Finland. John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State has a 16-4 pending.

The Stanford Indians went to Des Moines, Iowa for the Drake Relays and came away with four victories in the two-day event.

Distance man Harry McCalla made up more than a 40-yard lead for an Indian victory in the distance medley. The Stanford winning time was 9:54.4, two-tenths of a second better than second-place Southern Illinois.

Steve Cartright came through with a victorious triple jump of 48-6¾, his best of the year.

The Indians were disqualified in the 880-yard relay when they passed the baton out of the lane. The foursome had the best qualifying time on Friday.

Dave Weill tossed the discus 183-2 for a Friday win. The Stanford four-mile team of Harlan Andrews, Bill Pratt, Bob Miltz and McCalla defeated Western Michigan and the rest of the field in 16:43.4.

PAN-AM WINNER

Gene Johnson, the University of California high jumper who's not participating for his school this season, captured the high jump Saturday at the Pan-American Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil with a 6-11 leap.

Roger Olson, who defeated Johnson in the 1963 NCAA championships, continued his career of outjumping 7-foot performers by clearing 6-8 Friday against Lew Hoyt of Southern California. Hoyt, who has a 7-½ mark this year, placed second at 6-6.

Only a generously estimated crowd of 808 persons huddled in the Los Angeles Coliseum, which seats 100,000 or more, and watched USC dump Cal, 97-48.

Olson beat Hoyt for the second straight day at Mount San Antonio, but couldn't handle erratic Joe Faust. The first four finishers jumped 6-8, including third-place Hoyt, but places were calculated by the fewest number of misses.

The winning Trojans' Julio Marin ran an 8:51.6 two-mile against Cal, fastest this year in the nation.

Mel Renfro was upset twice Saturday in his hurdle specialties, but his Oregon teammates turned back Washington State, 87-57. Cougar Jim Allen clipped Renfro in the 120-yard highs in 14.5 and in the 330-yard intermediates in 38.1.

WORLD RECORD—C. K. Yang of UCLA crosses the finish line of 1,500-meter run yesterday as he set a world record of 9,121 points in the decathlon at Walnut. His time in the 1,500 was 5:02.4, good for 245 points. (AP Wirephoto)

TEXAS OPEN

Rodgers Gets First Win In Over A Year

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Phil Rodgers, savoring his first tournament victory in more than a year, flew home to California today to take a week's vacation in honor of his winning the 1963 Texas Open.

Rodgers, a former NCAA champion from the University of Houston, sliced five more strokes off par yesterday with a closing round 66 to take a two-stroke victory over Johnny Pott with a 72-hold total of 16-under-par 168. It was worth $4,300.

Pott, from Gulf Hills, Miss., nearly matched Rodgers, but a bogey on the 17th hole and a par on the 18th left him with a 68 and a total 270. It was worth $3,000 to him.

Arnold Palmer, the pre-tournament favorite who came to San Antonio seeking his fourth consecutive Texas Open championship, finished in a tie for ninth, eight strokes off the pace.

Palmer had trouble with his irons in the first three rounds, and by the time he straightened his problems out for a final-round 67, it was too late to seriously challenge.

But Arnie was cheered by his final round, and said he now believes he has his iron game troubles solved, "at least back to where I have a chance to win."

Trailing Rogers and Pott in third place was Jack Fleck of Los Angeles with a total of 272. Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, and Bobby Nichols of Midland, Tex., were tied for fourth at 274.

$1,300 At Stake In Women's Golf Tourney Playoff

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The Women's Titleholders Golf Championship and $1,300 in top prize money ride on an 18-hole playoff today between Marilyn Smith and Mickey Wright, tied at 292 after 72-holes of play in the $7,500 event.

Thep layoff is the second in the history of the tournament and the second Smith-Wright face-off this year. The runner-up will earn $1,000.

Miss Wright, the defending champion from Dallas, Tex., overcame a three-stroke deficit in yesterday's fourth round with her 1- over-par 36-37—73.

A double bogey and a pair of bogies on the treacherous back nine of the Augusta Country Club course gave Miss Smith of Tequesta, Fla., a 36-40—76 three strokes off Miss Wright's pace.

Taking third place and $800, with a 298 was Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C. JoAnn Prentice of Columbia, S. C., was fourth with 302, and Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., fifth at 303.

Hughes' 691-264 Tops In Greenbrae Bowling

Bill Hughes of the 900 Classic League topped Greenbrae Lanes bowlers for the week with a crashing 691 series which included a 264 game, both high for the week.

Hughes' other two games were 227 and 200. His action was in the 900 Classic League. Runners up in high series and individual game were in the same league as Frank Bernardi rolled a 657 series and Ed Henry rolled a 258 line.

Twelve-year-old Steve DeLine rolled another big series in the Saturday Junior Trio League, a 612 (204-213-195) to lead the youngsters.

Alice Chapman of the Coffee Cuppers League topped the women for the week with a 566 series and 233 game. Other high series were rolled by Marilyn Epidendio, 563, and Elinor Davis, 561. Runner-up in high game was Key Beal, 221.

QUITE A DAY FOR LAD IN LI'L LEAGUE

Twelve-year-old Michael Einstein pitched a no-hitter and hit a grand slam home run in the opening game of the Mill Valley Little League season Saturday.

Einstein struck out eleven and faced only 19 hitters, one more than the minimum, in leading the Corvairs to a 5-0 victory over the Lions, defending National League champions. He is the son of author Charles Einstein, a baseball analyst.

Pre-game ceremonies featured an address by sportscaster Russ Hodges and an exhibition by the San Rafael Military Academy drill team.

Teams Tie At Meadow Club

The teams of Dr. Tom Brennan-Ed Burmester-Fred Figone-Al Finocchio and Herb Crocker-Dr. Ed Campion-Milt Gabbs-Dr. John Cann tied for the Class A championship Saturday in the Meadow Club's first scheduled tournament of the 1963 season.

In best ball foursome competition those quartets each netted 56 strokes.

Second place in Class A went to Stu Harrison-Dr. Carroll Paulson - Chet Patterson - Ed Christie Jr. with a 57. At 58 in third place came Bill Zimmerman-Norb Hartman-Wally Laster-John Weitzel.

Class B: Tie, James MacKay-Jack Lehmkuhl - Ed Martens-Richard Ham and Wishard Brown - James Morena - Arthur Fay - Jack Glenn, 58; Ed Solinsky - Ken Maxwell - William St. Sure - Len Marcona, 59.

Jr. Middleweight Crown Will Be On Line Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world junior middleweight (154 pounds) boxing title, a creation of the World Boxing Assn., will be at stake tonight in New Orleans when Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., defends the crown against Ralph Dupas, 27-year-old perennial challenger from New Orleans.

Dupas has challenged—and lost—in both the lightweight and welterweight divisions. For the frist time he is getting a chance at a title in his own home town.

Moyer, only 23, won the championship Oct. 21 by outpointing Joey Giambra in Portland. He retained it Feb. 20 in Honolulu by winning a decision over Stan Harrington. Dupas' most important fight in the last year was a 15-round defeat by Emile Griffith at Las Vegas in a welter title bout last July.

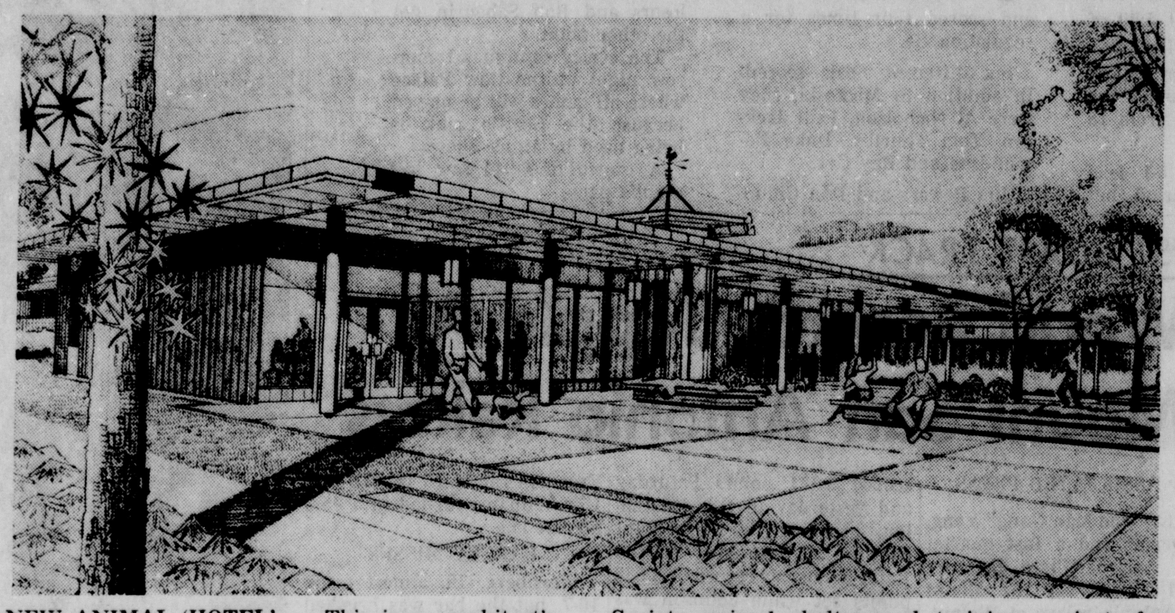
Marin County Humane Society Plans $400,000 Facility

'Tis often said that a dog's life is a dreary one. But if all goes well in the next few months, not only the dogs, but other animals and wildlife as well in Marin County will have an ultra-modern home and training area, perhaps the first of its kind in the far west.

The Marin County Humane Society today announced purchase at slightly over $75,000 of seven acres of the Pimentel Dairy Ranch in Ignacio, north of Hamilton Air Force Base and east of Highway 101 at the entrance to Bel-Marin Keys.

Architects Eugene E. Crawford and George V. Banning of San Rafael are completing plans for a $400,000 project on the property, with the major structure to be a 20,000-square-foot building with facilities for animal welfare and humane education, according to Frederic D. Kerr, society president.



NEW ANIMAL 'HOTEL' — This is an architect's rendering of the first phase construction in the newly proposed $400,000 Marin County Humane Society animal shelter and training project, for which seven acres has been purchased in Ignacio, north of Hamilton Air Force Base, on the Pimental Dairy Ranch.

The Humane Society Board expects to call bids within two to three months. Construction is expected to start in late summer or early fall. Completion target for the first phase of the project is December or January.

The society's animal shelter at 402 Third Street, San Rafael, provides refuge for more than 1,000 animals a month, according to Mel L. Morse, executive director.

"First phase of the proposed construction program will be the main building housing the small animal facilities, the administration and investigating offices, as well as the community meeting room which will be available for the society's educational program and the activities of animal interest groups," Kerr said.

"This structure, a single-story building with a rustic California exterior in keeping with atmosphere of Marin County architecture, will be used to further the program of prevention of cruelty, the main purpose for which the society was organized some 56 years ago."

Long-range plans for the new facility, include an indoor-outdoor animal area fully fenced with six-foot chain link.

The society's San Rafael property will be sold and the price applied toward the new facility.

Additional funds will be sought, Morse said.

Several memorial rooms will be dedicated in the new facility, Morse reported in urging community support. The Ethel H. Tompkins Memorial, the Dr. James Willmore Clinic room, and several other memorial spaces have been dedicated in the present quarters, and will be re-designated in the new facility.

"Even educated 'Mr. Ed' did not have it so good," as will animals in the new home, commented Morse.

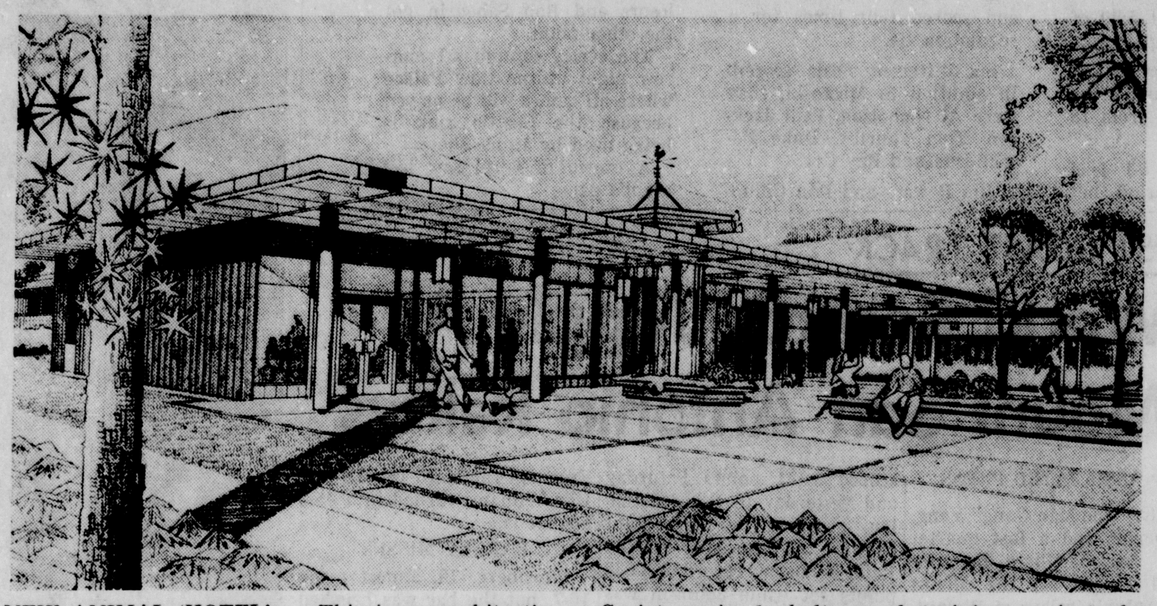
Marin County Humane Society Plans $400,000 Facility

'Tis often said that a dog's life is a dreary one. But if all goes well in the next few months, not only the dogs, but other animals and wildlife as well in Marin County will have an ultra-modern home and training area, perhaps the first of its kind in the far west.

The Marin County Humane Society today announced purchase at slightly over $75,000 of seven acres of the Pimentel Dairy Ranch in Ignacio, north of Hamilton Air Force Base and east of Highway 101 at the entrance to Bel-Marin Keys.

Architects Eugene E. Crawford and George V. Banning of San Rafael are completing plans for a $400,000 project on the property, with the major structure to be a 20,000-square-foot building with facilities for animal welfare and humane education, according to Frederic D. Kerr, society president.



NEW ANIMAL 'HOTEL' — This is an architect's rendering of the first phase construction in the newly proposed $400,000 Marin County Humane Society animal shelter and training project, for which seven acres has been purchased in Ignacio, north of Hamilton Air Force Base, on the Pimental Dairy Ranch.

The Humane Society Board expects to call bids within two to three months. Construction is expected to start in late summer or early fall. Completion target for the first phase of the project is December or January.

The society's animal shelter at 402 Third Street, San Rafael, provides refuge for more than 1,000 animals a month, according to Mel L. Morse, executive director.

Ellen Canet Bride In Saturday Rite

Ellen Elizabeth Canet of Mill Valley and Douglas James Stone of Tempe, Ariz., exchanged nuptial vows yesterday afternoon in a 2 p.m. ceremony at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

In double ring rites, the bride, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Canet of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by her father.

The Rev. D. Murray Hammond officiated. She wore a Cahill gown of floral embroidered organza.

The skirt ended in a sweep train.

Gowned in carnation pink sheer over taffeta were attendants, Ernelyne Retherford of Sebastopol, maid of honor, and Carolyn Stoll of Mill Valley and Solveig Weiser of Fair Oaks, bridesmaids.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stone of Tempe, was his brother, Ernest Stone of Scottsdale, Ariz. Rodger Steward of Fresno and John Castellani of Mill Valley showed guests to their seats.

A reception at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley followed the ceremony, and the young couple left afterward for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination. They will live in Mill Valley.

Ellen was graduated from Tamalpais High School and the Grace Ball Secretarial School in San Francisco and is now employed by the N. W. Ayer Advertising Agency in San Francisco. She is an active horsewoman, participating in many local shows and is a charter member of the Southern Marin Horseman's Assn.

She was 1961 princess of the Kiwanis Rodeo and is a member of Job's Daughters. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stanton of Mill Valley.

Douglas was educated in Arizona, completed his air force service in the Air Defense Command and was stationed for two years with the 666th Air Control and Warning Squadron on Mount Tamalpais. He is employed by the Mill Valley Police Department, where the bride's father was captain of police until he retired recently.

CAMP FIRE TO HONOR LEADERS

Leaders and their assistants of 70 Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups in the San Rafael District have been invited to luncheon by the district committee on May 7, in Canoles Hall of the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Mrs. Harold Fulkerson is the committee chairman and other members are Mesdames David Young, Robert Bolt, L. C. Gilliland, Robert Houston, John A. Jones, Edward Noble, David Pfeiffer, and W. F. Scovill.

"We wish to honor and give some recognition to all guardians and leaders who have served over three hundred girls in our area this past year. And also to meet the leaders of newly organized groups," said Mrs. Fulkerson.

Two New Members Attend Sunny Hills Board Meet

Two new members of the board attended today's meeting of the Sunny Hills Board of Directors at Sunny Hills.

Byron Leydecker of San Rafael, is president of the new Redwood National Bank of San Rafael, and previously was branch manager of the Crocker-Anglo Bank in both San Rafael and Stockton.

In 1961, Leydecker was a director of the Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross and campaign chairman of the Marin United Fund. In the latter, he formed such an effective campaign organization, that the drive was carried over the top even though he was transferred to Stockton before the completion of the drive. Since his return to Marin, he has been elected president of the Marin United Fund for 1963, and is a member of the U.B.A.C. board of governors, the executive committee and the president's council.

Mrs. Bullard Nugent of Ross is the other new member. She is on the board of directors of the Florence Crittenton Home, and one of the board of managers of the Colonial Dames.

Mrs. Nugent is also a member of the Budget Study committee for the case work agencies; of the executive committee of the Family and Children's Council and the Single Parent committee of the same council. She is a member of the Ross Valley Guild of Sunny Hills.

SEW SIMPLE

Snaps Covered With Fabric Can Take Place Of Buttons

By EUNICE FARMER

"Since I've been reading your column, I have learned the answer to many sewing problems, including a few I didn't know I had! I just finished making a large organdy collar (which is detachable) to wear with a navy blue dress for spring. I did all my grading of seams, also notched out the excess material on the curves. When I was finished, you could see all of this through the organdy. Is there any other way to treat sheer materials?"

Mrs. L.S.

Dear Mrs. L. S.:

Yes, there is another way to treat sheer fabrics. Because you can see through them, don't grade seams, clip or notch curves. This can be taken care of by trimming both seams about one-eighth inch from the stitching line. Be sure to trim nice and even. If you trim seams this close, the notching is not necessary.

Organdy has been used for jackets, blouses, and especially collars this season. It will perk up last year's dress or suit, too, as well as giving this year's clothes that "new" look.

Mrs. Bowerfind, La Mesa, Calif., sewing teacher at Midway High, adult education, suggests a way to line capri pants or slacks which are already made and not lined.

"Make a pair of pants out of lining material, firm but not too heavy, and wear these under your unlined pants. This is great for wearing under knits and helps keep them from stretching."

(I hope all the sewing classes will use and enjoy the tailor trix pressing board Mrs. Bowerfind gets for this winning suggestion of the week.)

"I have seen large snaps used in place of buttons on many suits and dresses recently. They are all covered in fabric. Can you please tell how to do this?"

Mrs. F. A.

Dear Mrs. F. A.,

Covered snaps used where they will be seen look much nicer than the shiny metal ones.

First, use a large snap (at least half an inch wide). Cut a circle of thin lining fabric or silk organza to match garment, about one-fourth inch larger than the snap.

Hand-sew a small running stitch around the edge of the fabric, place the snap in the center and draw up the running stitches until the fabric fits snugly around the snap. Clip the fabric in the center for the prong of the snap to show. Fasten the raw edges of the lining together tightly with an overcasting stitch. (If the circle of fabric used was too large, this will appear too thick on the wrong side.)

Carefully sew the snap in place the usual way, making the stitches nice and neat because they will be more noticeable and you'll want to be proud of the way they look.

Mrs. R.D.F. says: Sew seam binding on with a zig-zag stitch to eliminate the pucker.

"How can we make a square neckline from a pattern with a rounded one?"

Mrs. W. G.

Dear Mrs. W. G.,

This isn't too much of a pattern change. (See illustration.) Whenever you make a change of this type, it is best to make a muslin sample before cutting your good fabric. Cut off the seam allowance before trying the muslin on and you can see exactly where the finished neckline will be.

If your square neckline is rather low and happens to gap in front, there is a way to remedy this. Attach a narrow elastic at an angle (as close as possible to the inner corner) on the wrong side of garment, over the finished facing.

Hand whip about one-half inch on each side of the elastic at the corner. Slip the dress over your shoulders and, before pulling down completely, bring both ends of the elastic under your arms to the middle of your back and mark the exact spot where the two ends cross. Don't pull the elastic too tight or it will pull the front of the dress out of shape.

Finish the ends of the elastip with a hook and eye. The elastic can be slipped over your straps before being fastened and will keep them from showing, as well as keeping the low square neckline firmly to your body.

Kent P-TA Festival Set Saturday

Sir Sedley of television fame will provide the entertainment for the annual Adeline E. Kent School May Festival on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the school.

The show, featuring Sedley and his King Fuddle and Kookie Kastle Puppets, will be presented in the multi-purpose room of the school.

The Gayway at the Festival will feature booths staffed by the Girl Scouts, Brownies, Camp Fire Girls and Cub Scouts.

The Student Council and faculty will staff booths and the school Parent-Teacher Assn. will also participate. Decorations will be done by the seventh grade Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Jack Stubbs is chairman for the event sponsored by the Kent P-TA with Mrs. Lloyd Groeschel, co-chairman.

The 50 Miler

New in sweatshirts for men — "the 50 miler," taking its theme from the hiking craze. The Wall Street Journal, reporting the trend, said the JFK shirts started in Dallas and the fad has spread to other cities. The red, white and blue shirts picture an eagle topped by the president's initials, carry a 50-mile insignia and prints beneath of two swollen feet.

VOLUNTEER OF THE MONTH

Mrs. Louis J. Churchville of Hamilton Air Force Base is awarded the Family Services Plaque, as Family Services Volunteer of the Month. Col. Bryant Y. Anderson, base commander, left, presented the plaque as Lt. Wendel W. Knudsen, Family Service officer, right, looks on. The presentation was made in the 78th Fighter Wing conference room. Mrs. Churchville, wife of Lt. Col. Churchville, HAFB director of information, has served in the office at the Family Services Center for two years.

SEW SIMPLE

Snaps Covered With Fabric Can Take Place Of Buttons

By EUNICE FARMER

"Since I've been reading your column, I have learned the answer to many sewing problems, including a few I didn't know I had! I just finished making a large organdy collar (which is detachable) to wear with a navy blue dress for spring. I did all my grading of seams, also notched out the excess material on the curves. When I was finished, you could see all of this through the organdy. Is there any other way to treat sheer materials?"

Mrs. L.S.

Dear Mrs. L. S.:

Yes, there is another way to treat sheer fabrics. Because you can see through them, don't grade seams, clip or notch curves. This can be taken care of by trimming both seams about one-eighth inch from the stitching line. Be sure to trim nice and even. If you trim seams this close, the notching is not necessary.

Organdy has been used for jackets, blouses, and especially collars this season. It will perk up last year's dress or suit, too, as well as giving this year's clothes that "new" look.

Mrs. Bowerfind, La Mesa, Calif., sewing teacher at Midway High, adult education, suggests a way to line capri pants or slacks which are already made and not lined.

"Make a pair of pants out of lining material, firm but not too heavy, and wear these under your unlined pants. This is great for wearing under knits and helps keep them from stretching."

(I hope all the sewing classes will use and enjoy the tailor trix pressing board Mrs. Bowerfind gets for this winning suggestion of the week.)

"I have seen large snaps used in place of buttons on many suits and dresses recently. They are all covered in fabric. Can you please tell how to do this?"

Mrs. F. A.

Dear Mrs. F. A.,

Covered snaps used where they will be seen look much nicer than the shiny metal ones.

First, use a large snap (at least half an inch wide). Cut a circle of thin lining fabric or silk organza to match garment, about one-fourth inch larger than the snap.

Hand-sew a small running stitch around the edge of the fabric, place the snap in the center and draw up the running stitches until the fabric fits snugly around the snap. Clip the fabric in the center for the prong of the snap to show. Fasten the raw edges of the lining together tightly with an overcasting stitch. (If the circle of fabric used was too large, this will appear too thick on the wrong side.)

Carefully sew the snap in place the usual way, making the stitches nice and neat because they will be more noticeable and you'll want to be proud of the way they look.

Mrs. R.D.F. says: Sew seam binding on with a zig-zag stitch to eliminate the pucker.

"How can we make a square neckline from a pattern with a rounded one?"

Mrs. W. G.

Dear Mrs. W. G.,

This isn't too much of a pattern change. (See illustration.) Whenever you make a change of this type, it is best to make a muslin sample before cutting your good fabric. Cut off the seam allowance before trying the muslin on and you can see exactly where the finished neckline will be.

If your square neckline is rather low and happens to gap in front, there is a way to remedy this. Attach a narrow elastic at an angle (as close as possible to the inner corner) on the wrong side of garment, over the finished facing.

Hand whip about one-half inch on each side of the elastic at the corner. Slip the dress over your shoulders and, before pulling down completely, bring both ends of the elastic under your arms to the middle of your back and mark the exact spot where the two ends cross. Don't pull the elastic too tight or it will pull the front of the dress out of shape.

Finish the ends of the elastip with a hook and eye. The elastic can be slipped over your straps before being fastened and will keep them from showing, as well as keeping the low square neckline firmly to your body.

Putting The Bloom On Bowser

What has feathers, wears skirts and an apron, and blooms? If you guessed a housewife who has put on her new spring bonnet and forgotten to take off her apron, you're wrong. The correct answer is a dog.

IN THE DIALECT of the dog fancier, feathers are the long hair on a dog's legs. A setter or spaniel has feathers. Skirt means the fluff on the hind legs; the apron is bushy hair on the chest. When an expert says his dog is in bloom, he means the dog is in top condition. His eyes are bright; his body is firm and well muscled, his coat gleams, and his disposition is sound.

This being the season for blooming, what better time to bring out the best in your dog? Here are some suggestions for putting the bloom on Bowser.

Since most dogs shed their heavy winter overcoats in the spring, his coat may have a ragged, dull look. A brisk session with comb and brush several times a week will remove dead hair and bring back the shine. Remove matted tufts gently with a brush. If it's absolutely necessary to clip them out, trim sparingly. Otherwise, his coat will end up looking slightly moth-eaten.

BALMY DAYS may suggest it's time to give your dog a long-needed bath. Be sure you use a mild soap, never a household detergent, and rinse him thoroughly. After bathing keep him warm and out of drafts until he is completely dry. Remember, spring breezes often turn cool suddenly. Allow plenty of time after bathing before you take him out-of-doors.

IT'S TIME to put your dog in bloom and good grooming, well-balanced meals and an annual health check up will bring out the best in your pet.

GOOD GROOMING ALONE won't put your dog in bloom, however. Modern nutrition research has proved without a doubt that a dog needs a well-balanced daily diet to stay in prime condition. Haphazard tablescrap feeding usually produces an overweight, lethargic pet or a thin, nervous one. The easist, most economical way to provide your dog with all the nutrients he needs is by consistently feeding a food formulated especially for dogs. You'll find a variety of commercially prepared dog foods on your grocer's shelf.

To complete your pet's spring spruce-up, make an appointment for him with the veterinarian. He will look for signs of tooth troubles, skin disorders or worms . . . small symptoms that can mean big trouble if not treated promptly. He may also suggest booster shots for common canine diseases. Annual health check-ups add years to a dog's life.

Style Show To Follow Buffet, Sale

A display of handwork created by the women of the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley on Friday will follow a buffet dinner to be served at 6:30 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall by the men of the church.

The display of fabrics, and crocheted and knitted articles for sale will precede the Mother-Daughter Fashion Show "Vogue with Simplicity." Mrs. Clifford Pedersen is general chairman for the show.

Miss Diane Friesen will be commentator for the show modeled by mothers and daughters, climaxed by the presentation of four generations—Mrs. Signy Alden of Mill Valley, her daughter Mrs. Phil Phillips of Placer County; granddaughter-in-law, Mrs. Cornelius Friesen of Santa Rosa and great-granddaughter Deborah Friesen.

Mrs. Raleigh Young will act as mistress of ceremonies with the following chairmen: Mesdames Joseph Tallaviti, program chairman; Herreck Morgan, decorations; Gordon Lindstrom and Rodney Kronmiller, reservations and Lucretia Hanson, publicity.

Mothers and daughters modeling will include Mrs. William Lovvorn, Terri and April Lovvorn, Mrs. Quintin Anderson, Pat Anderson; Mrs. John MacDonald, Janna and Kathy MacDonald, Mrs. Raymond Dudley, Deana Dudley, Mrs. Gordon Lindstrom, Becky Sue Lindstrom, Mrs. Arthur Tiedemann, Dianne Tiedemann, Mrs. Herrick Morgan, Laurie Morgan, Mrs. Clark Holmes, Linda Holmes, Mrs. Harold Spangler and granddaughter, Diane.

Also modeling will be Sandi Rice, Jan and Ardi Pedersen, Hiede Erickson, and Gerry and Jenny Thiele.

Expert Suggests Watering Down Miracle Claims

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Gardeners should cast a doubting eye at some claims of plant growth rates says the Illinois Department of Agriculture division of plant industry.

William T. Larkin, division superintendent, advised the public not to be misled by some of the "exaggerated claims concerning the potential of fruit trees and ornamental plants."

He said that statements such as "a tree that grows 20 feet in two months," or "a plant that produces 1,000 blooms in just a few weeks," or "fruit tree that supplies many bushels of fruit the first year" have appeared in widely circulated publications.

If it's absolutely necessary to clip them out, trim sparingly. Otherwise, his coat will end up looking slightly moth-eaten.

BALMY DAYS may suggest it's time to give your dog a long-needed bath. Be sure you use a mild soap, never a household detergent, and rinse him thoroughly. After bathing keep him warm and out of drafts until he is completely dry. Remember, spring breezes often turn cool suddenly. Allow plenty of time after bathing before you take him out-of-doors.

IT'S TIME to put your dog in bloom and good grooming, well-balanced meals and an annual health check up will bring out the best in your pet.

GOOD GROOMING ALONE won't put your dog in bloom, however. Modern nutrition research has proved without a doubt that a dog needs a well-balanced daily diet to stay in prime condition. Haphazard tablescrap feeding usually produces an overweight, lethargic pet or a thin, nervous one. The easist, most economical way to provide your dog with all the nutrients he needs is by consistently feeding a food formulated especially for dogs. You'll find a variety of commercially prepared dog foods on your grocer's shelf.

To complete your pet's spring spruce-up, make an appointment for him with the veterinarian. He will look for signs of tooth troubles, skin disorders or worms . . . small symptoms that can mean big trouble if not treated promptly. He may also suggest booster shots for common canine diseases. Annual health check-ups add years to a dog's life.

Style Show To Follow Buffet, Sale

A display of handwork created by the women of the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley on Friday will follow a buffet dinner to be served at 6:30 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall by the men of the church.

The display of fabrics, and crocheted and knitted articles for sale will precede the Mother-Daughter Fashion Show "Vogue with Simplicity." Mrs. Clifford Pedersen is general chairman for the show.

Miss Diane Friesen will be commentator for the show modeled by mothers and daughters, climaxed by the presentation of four generations—Mrs. Signy Alden of Mill Valley, her daughter Mrs. Phil Phillips of Placer County; granddaughter-in-law, Mrs. Cornelius Friesen of Santa Rosa and great-granddaughter Deborah Friesen.

Mrs. Raleigh Young will act as mistress of ceremonies with the following chairmen: Mesdames Joseph Tallaviti, program chairman; Herreck Morgan, decorations; Gordon Lindstrom and Rodney Kronmiller, reservations and Lucretia Hanson, publicity.

Mothers and daughters modeling will include Mrs. William Lovvorn, Terri and April Lovvorn, Mrs. Quintin Anderson, Pat Anderson; Mrs. John MacDonald, Janna and Kathy MacDonald, Mrs. Raymond Dudley, Deana Dudley, Mrs. Gordon Lindstrom, Becky Sue Lindstrom, Mrs. Arthur Tiedemann, Dianne Tiedemann, Mrs. Herrick Morgan, Laurie Morgan, Mrs. Clark Holmes, Linda Holmes, Mrs. Harold Spangler and granddaughter, Diane.

Also modeling will be Sandi Rice, Jan and Ardi Pedersen, Hiede Erickson, and Gerry and Jenny Thiele.

Expert Suggests Watering Down Miracle Claims

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Gardeners should cast a doubting eye at some claims of plant growth rates says the Illinois Department of Agriculture division of plant industry.

William T. Larkin, division superintendent, advised the public not to be misled by some of the "exaggerated claims concerning the potential of fruit trees and ornamental plants."

He said that statements such as "a tree that grows 20 feet in two months," or "a plant that produces 1,000 blooms in just a few weeks," or "fruit tree that supplies many bushels of fruit the first year" have appeared in widely circulated publications.

Redwood Tri-Hi-Y Plans Style Show

The Redwood High School Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y Fellowship is presenting a fashion show entitled "Spring Fling in Fashion," Saturday at 1 p.m., at St. Stephens Church, Whitaker Hall, in Belvedere. Dessert will be served following the fashion show.

Models will be Kathy Gray, Susie Harmon, Cheryl Rossi, Kathy Moore, Nancy Schnell, Delanie Secor, Eleanor Watkins, Poppy Eager, Pat Langel, Joan Troppmann, Sue Maclise, and Jen Mackby.

Proceeds will go to the YMCA World Service program.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

New Laws Of Bridge Will Have Slight Effect On Most Players

The new code of bridge laws, published in the middle of April and scheduled to take effect May 1, will have only a slight effect on most players.

There are no changes in the scoring or in basic rules; and as for the rest, the old law book was full of rules that most of us disregarded, and we'll do the same with the new book.

West opened the king of clubs and East began a high-low by playing the nine of clubs.

TROUBLE STARTS

Right here is where the trouble started. After playing the nine of clubs East said "Oops!" and tried to take his card back.

Then, realizing that he was too late, East sat back and tried to look as though nothing had happened.

Of course you see why East started to signal and then changed his mind. His first thought was to over-ruff dummy on the third round of clubs. Then East saw that South would discard the queen of hearts from dummy on the third club.

ETHICAL QUESTION

It was important for West to switch to hearts at the second trick; then East would return a club and over-ruff dummy on the next club.

West now had an ethical problem. The nine of clubs clearly asked West to continue the suit. East's actions clearly asked West to shift to hearts.

"What's the problem?" you ask. "East had no right to say "Oops or anything else. West must disregard the byplay and must proceed just as though nothing had happened."

'DON'T BE DOPE'

"Don't be a dope," snarls the Devil that lies just beneath the surface in all of us. "If it happened against you, they'd switch to hearts and laugh in your face. Besides, you'd have figured it all out even if nothing had happened. You were going to switch to a heart anyway."

No needs to tell you what most bridge players would do in West's position. Old laws, new laws, or no laws at all, they'd switch to hearts. The better the player, however, the higher his standard of ethics. A really expert player would continue with club and take his licking.

In a way, hands like this allow a player to classify himself.

Today is Monday, April 29, the 119th day of 1963 with 246 more to follow.

The moon is approaching first quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1945, American soldiers liberated 32,000 Nazi prisoners at Dachau, the oldest and worst of the Nazi concentration camps.

In 1862, New Orleans, gateway to the Mississippi River and once a stronghold of the Confederacy, fell to Union forces.

A thought for today—English poet Alfred Tennyson said: "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

Hospital Directors Must See They Work For Public

One of the most frightening aspects of a republican form of government is how easily elected representatives can forget that they were elected to carry out the wishes of the public.

Once they get into office, they sometimes try to divest themselves of all connection with the public, to become a law unto themselves. In fact, they seem to resent inquiries by the public into what they are doing.

We aren't suggesting that they aren't working in the public interest. In fact, most of them are entirely devoted to the agencies they are serving. But they get so wrapped up in their plans and programs that they resent any interruption, even though it be by the people who elected them, that taxpaying public.

The reason for the Ralph M. Brown Act, which prohibits secret meetings of local governmental bodies, is that this inclination to omniscience was thwarting the public's right to know what their elected representatives were doing. The legislature found it necessary to instruct local agencies that the public has that right.

Most Marin County governmental agencies understand and abide by this law. It was startling to us to find the Marin General Hospital District directors not only ignore the law but feel that district employees are not "public employees in the same sense as county supervisors." That certainly is getting into a little world all of their own.

Last February, the directors went into a closed meeting to discuss salaries, not permitted under the Brown Act; made a decision about salaries in the closed meeting, also prohibited, and even wrote in their minutes that they reconvened "to ratify the action taken in executive session." Such "action" is prohibited.

All of this was about raising the salaries of their administrator and his aide, figures which must of necessity be on the public record if such institutions are to be public agencies.

These details became known last week. Then they consulted their legal counsel. The figures were made public immediately.

The board chairman declared it "has always desired to act in an open manner" and that it would "continue this open door policy." But the whole attitude of the directors was that it wasn't any of the public's business.

We hope the hospital directors won't continue "this open door policy" but instead institute a new one based on the realization that they and the district's employees actually work for the public.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

DROVE THROUGH FRONT DOOR

One woman drove her car just a little too far in her eagerness to get a driver's license in suburban St. Louis.

She was half-way through the front door of the license bureau—car and all—when she asked an astonished employee where to park. With rare understatement, he suggested that she leave her car outside, since it was not a "drive-in" building.

Police filed no charges against the free-wheeling driver. They felt she was punished enough by the embarrassment of her error, as well as by the fact that when she took the driver's exam, she failed.

Disregard of reasonable rules and regulations, however unintentional, is the root of many problems.

Peace and order will prevail in the home, community and world in the same proportion that everyone conscientiously observes the laws of God and man.

Do your part to abide by basic precepts and you will take at least one important step to bring about the "peace on earth" for which all men yearn.

"To do Your will, O my God, is my delight." (Psalm 39.9)

May I seek in all things to do Your holy will, O Jesus.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Spring Finds Congressmen Busy Pruning, Fertilizing, Other Things

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Jim Wright, a lyrical Democrat of Texas, looked out the window the other day, noticed a change in the weather and began to rhapsodize thusly:

"With springtime blossoming out all over, home owners in every part of the country are busy working on their lawns and shrubbery — mowing, trimming, pruning.

"Here in Washington most of us in Congress are doing another kind of pruning. We are trying to make intelligent cuts in the national budget."

Wright penned these lines in a press release that seemed to me to capture the very essence of springtime in Congress—the essence, but not the conglomeration.

What I mean is that his gardening metaphor, while valid as far as it went, was incomplete. Budget pruning is by no means all that goes on at the Capitol during this season.

For every lawgiver that you see up in the branches with a pair of pruning shears you will find another down on the ground pouring on the fertilizer.

ACCORDING TO an old rule of greenthumb, intelligent fertilizer spreading may produce even better results at the grassroots than intelligent pruning.

Many members of Congress are both pruners and fertilizer spreaders, frequently at the same time.

One more word about pruning. It is important always to prune very carefully. Otherwise, you might pare off the limb you are out on.

If that happens, no amount of fertilizer will save you.

ANOTHER POPULAR springtime activity in Congress is cross-pollinating. The latest census shows that more congressmen try to cross-pollinate the budget rather than try to prune it.

Taking a lesson from Mother Nature, they have found that if they carry a little pollen to someone else's flower, buzzing loudly about it, someone else will sprinkle a little pollen their way.

This is why so many of us taxpayers have hay fever.

It could be worse, however. There is always a possibility that one or more congressmen will carry Wright's garden metaphor to the ultimate extreme and take up grafting.

Interlandi Deals In Vilification

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A feature of your newspaper, to which I am a subscriber, is a cartoon by a man named Interlandi.

This man is a strong partisan of a certain socio-political viewpoint. He is entitled to his viewpoint, precisely as those who disagree with him are entitled to theirs. He devotes most of his effort to the furtherance of this viewpoint, and he is also entitled to do this.

The manner in which he goes about it is something else again, however.

Interlandi makes it crystal clear that he considers no reasonable grounds to exist for opposing his viewpoint, and that those who do so are hateful, twisted, and sour human beings. He continuously and diligently represents them as such, and this representation is practically the total of his efforts.

The boundaries between lampoon and vilification and between caricature and slander are left far behind in Interlandi's cartooning.

Vilification of a person because of his beliefs is bigotry. This is Interlandi's chief preoccupation.

I am at a loss to understand what journalistic purpose you are serving in publishing his work.

If Commendable Can't Be Wrong

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The editorial regarding Rev. Boterman's stand was a beautiful example of why Man has not fulfilled his potential as a thinking or moral being. If moral judgments were based on whether or not one realizes an immediate objective, all great philosophers would be doomed before they had begun.

The editorial claimed that "The chances of realizing his objectives are highly improbable." No one, the editor notwithstanding, knows whether this is so. All plans, at some time, were in stages were unknown factors had yet to be known—even military plans.

It is much easier to fall back on a tried policy of military strength than it is to support a policy which does away with this seeming security. We have become accustomed to feeling safer with the "big stick," but so had the caveman. It is time for a change.

We have learned enough about the destructive forces of present nuclear arms to know that no security comes from possessing this force. We had better look elsewhere.

If Rev. Boterman's act is truly "bold," "one that is motivated by the desire to see a realistic, workable international disarmament program—one which would end the threat of devastation to the human race," and his "aims and sincerity . . . are commendable," his approach cannot be wrong. His act became effective the moment he exercised his beliefs.

As to whether his objectives will be realized this century or the next, no one can predict. Further, it is immaterial to the decision of one's moral act.

Because all possible disarmament plans have not been exhausted and because existing plans have not been put into effect, the editorial's claim that " . . . unless America remains militarily strong, and leads from strength at the international conference table, our future as a free people will be in jeopardy" is at best presumptuous.

No Anonymity For Juveniles

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Congratulations on your editorial of Thursday, April 18, concerning juvenile "so-called" delinquency. It is, as you state, high time that a strong, firm stand be taken with these young hooligan-criminals.

There is, however, one thing that our newspapers can do, and that is to remove the cloak of anonymity that shields the delinquent and his parents. Publish their names and any facts available from your records morgue concerning any previous malicious escapades. Let the public know about repeaters.

Where possible, keep the story going to show how mildly they are dealt with by the authorities. Parents are far more likely to take corrective action along the lines of the "little woodshed" you mention from the fear of adverse publicity.

Continue your good work. Only by making the public thoroughly aware of what is going on can we properly combat this cancer that is gnawing at us.

The strong punishment of a few offenders caught red-handed with all details well publicized, would go far toward "encouraging" others to better behavior.

In 1946 Katherine Hepburn Must Have Been Tops With New Mothers

I have always heard that names, or rather their popularity, run in cycles. I presume that is because some public figure or popular person has a name that catches the public's eyes.

Some names go out of "style." In pre-Revolutionary days, Aaron was a popular name, but it has never regained its popularity since Aaron Burr. The same probably holds true of Benedict.

On the other hand, some names become popular because of a national figure.

About 16 or 17 years ago, Katherine Hepburn must have reached the pinnacle of her popularity. I make this observation because of the first 26 girls on the honor roll at Novato High School, six of them had a variation of that name.

I SWORE I wouldn't write any more or turtles or tortoises, but I cannot leave the subject without one more item. The two stories I wrote about the Robert Morleys in Novato keeping the pet desert tortoise for more than six months without finding its owner and then them taking it to the desert. But Malcolm McGuire thought it was his missing turtle. So, the Morleys brought the tortoise back with them, but it wasn't McGuires' after all.

Now someone has seen a turtle in the creek in San Anselmo. A frantic call was made to the Independent-Journal to contact the people who were missing a turtle so they could pick it up.

From the description, it was entirely too large.

Let me say now that not all turtles in Marin County have been pets, so please, no more trying to return them, especially via me.

BY THE TIME this appears in print, Daylight Saving Time will be on us again. Most people expect it annually and it comes without a riffle on the surface in California.

But I have lived elsewhere where Daylight Saving Time was fought, and perhaps justly so. When one lives north of the 45th Parallel, the amount of daylight in the summer really grows long. One doesn't need to conserve the daylight, one needs to utilize what little night there is to rest.

Rural areas seem to resent it the most. I remember one farmer who kept two watches. One was set on Standard Time and one on Daylight Time. He did all his farm work on Standard Time — after all, he said he couldn't change the chickens and cows. Then when he had business in the city, he used the Daylight Time watch, because that was the one which told him when the stores would be open.

DURING LAST Tuesday's Novato City Council meeting, there was a discussion of the city adopting a pay scale which would be standard with the one used by the state. This way all the city employees would be on the same pay scale.

Councilman John Angeloni listened to City Administrator Julien Baget's explanation of the change.

"Well then, all we're talking about is numerical numbers," Angeloni said.

Republicans Are Making Real Progress In South's Politics

WASHINGTON — Whenever two or more professional politicians get together in Washington, it isn't long before they turn to one of their greatest preoccupations: what's happening in the South?

What's happening is that the Southern voting pattern is changing so rapidly that anything can happen in next year's Congressional and Presidential elections.

It is a near certainty that the Republicans will continue to make major gains in all the Southern states. This will tend to alter the whole face of national politics.

LAST FALL the Republican congressional candidates in the 11 states of the Confederacy increased their total vote by nearly 350 per cent over 1958—from less than 600,000 to 2,000,000. There is no evidence that this trend is coming to a halt.

This, plus the substantial Republican gains in statewide Southern voting, means that the two-party system in the South is not only within sight, but within reach. It will be full-blown reality very soon.

REGARDLESS OF its effects on national elections, the flowering of the two-party system below the Mason-Dixon line will be a tremendous boon to the South. The Democrats can no longer take Southern victory for granted. The Republicans need no longer take Southern defeat for granted. By acquiring large leverage with both parties, the power of the South will grow.

Since the national Democratic Party is increasingly unsatisfactory to the South on the racial issue, the Southern voter is free to allow economic and other political issues to influence his party choice. Thus we see the most conservative region of the nation turning to the Republican Party and to the more conservative wing of the party.

The Republicans, for the most part, are not trying to out-extreme the Dixiecrat Democrats on racial policy. There are two reasons for this:

THE SOUTHERN Republican leadership today is almost unanimously youthful and since young Southerners tend to be less extreme on racial matters than their elders, the Republican Party in the South is less extreme than most of the old-line Democrats.

Republican voting strength is greatest in the larger cities of the South where racial extremism is weakest. This means that the expanding Republican constituency and the Republicans have no special incentive to appeal to extremists.

The trend toward reapportionment of the state legislatures, as required by the Supreme Court, is also benefiting the Southern Republicans. It is giving city voters more equitable representation in the legislatures and a larger voice in state affairs in the areas where the Republicans are already making their greatest headway.

Hospital Directors Must See They Work For Public

One of the most frightening aspects of a republican form of government is how easily elected representatives can forget that they were elected to carry out the wishes of the public.

Once they get into office, they sometimes try to divest themselves of all connection with the public, to become a law unto themselves. In fact, they seem to resent inquiries by the public into what they are doing.

We aren't suggesting that they aren't working in the public interest. In fact, most of them are entirely devoted to the agencies they are serving. But they get so wrapped up in their plans and programs that they resent any interruption, even though it be by the people who elected them, that taxpaying public.

The reason for the Ralph M. Brown Act, which prohibits secret meetings of local governmental bodies, is that this inclination to omniscience was thwarting the public's right to know what their elected representatives were doing. The legislature found it necessary to instruct local agencies that the public has that right.

Most Marin County governmental agencies understand and abide by this law. It was startling to us to find the Marin General Hospital District directors not only ignore the law but feel that district employees are not "public employees in the same sense as county supervisors." That certainly is getting into a little world all of their own.

Last February, the directors went into a closed meeting to discuss salaries, not permitted under the Brown Act; made a decision about salaries in the closed meeting, also prohibited, and even wrote in their minutes that they reconvened "to ratify the action taken in executive session." Such "action" is prohibited.

All of this was about raising the salaries of their administrator and his aide, figures which must of necessity be on the public record if such institutions are to be public agencies.

These details became known last week. Then they consulted their legal counsel. The figures were made public immediately.

The board chairman declared it "has always desired to act in an open manner" and that it would "continue this open door policy." But the whole attitude of the directors was that it wasn't any of the public's business.

We hope the hospital directors won't continue "this open door policy" but instead institute a new one based on the realization that they and the district's employees actually work for the public.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

DROVE THROUGH FRONT DOOR

One woman drove her car just a little too far in her eagerness to get a driver's license in suburban St. Louis.

She was half-way through the front door of the license bureau—car and all—when she asked an astonished employee where to park. With rare understatement, he suggested that she leave her car outside, since it was not a "drive-in" building.

Police filed no charges against the free-wheeling driver. They felt she was punished enough by the embarrassment of her error, as well as by the fact that when she took the driver's exam, she failed.

Disregard of reasonable rules and regulations, however unintentional, is the root of many problems.

Peace and order will prevail in the home, community and world in the same proportion that everyone conscientiously observes the laws of God and man.

Do your part to abide by basic precepts and you will take at least one important step to bring about the "peace on earth" for which all men yearn.

"To do Your will, O my God, is my delight." (Psalm 39.9)

May I seek in all things to do Your holy will, O Jesus.

Spring Finds Congressmen Busy Pruning, Fertilizing, Other Things

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Jim Wright, a lyrical Democrat of Texas, looked out the window the other day, noticed a change in the weather and began to rhapsodize thusly:

"With springtime blossoming out all over, home owners in every part of the country are busy working on their lawns and shrubbery — mowing, trimming, pruning.

"Here in Washington most of us in Congress are doing another kind of pruning. We are trying to make intelligent cuts in the national budget."

Wright penned these lines in a press release that seemed to me to capture the very essence of springtime in Congress—the essence, but not the conglomeration.

What I mean is that his gardening metaphor, while valid as far as it went, was incomplete. Budget pruning is by no means all that goes on at the Capitol during this season.

For every lawgiver that you see up in the branches with a pair of pruning shears you will find another down on the ground pouring on the fertilizer.

ACCORDING TO an old rule of greenthumb, intelligent fertilizer spreading may produce even better results at the grassroots than intelligent pruning.

Many members of Congress are both pruners and fertilizer spreaders, frequently at the same time.

One more word about pruning. It is important always to prune very carefully. Otherwise, you might pare off the limb you are out on.

If that happens, no amount of fertilizer will save you.

ANOTHER POPULAR springtime activity in Congress is cross-pollinating. The latest census shows that more congressmen try to cross-pollinate the budget rather than try to prune it.

Taking a lesson from Mother Nature, they have found that if they carry a little pollen to someone else's flower, buzzing loudly about it, someone else will sprinkle a little pollen their way.

This is why so many of us taxpayers have hay fever.

It could be worse, however. There is always a possibility that one or more congressmen will carry Wright's garden metaphor to the ultimate extreme and take up grafting.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Increasing Humidity Relieves Dry Skin For Many Patients

VAN DELLEN

Many individuals have found that increasing the humidity relieves dry skin. This common condition is prevalent during the winter, especially in the north where homes, apartments, and offices, are heated. Steam is the main offender but other types of heating systems also steal moisture from the air.

Winter itch is more likely to occur in the elderly. Women usually blame dishpan hands on soaps and detergents but, in many instances, too little humidity in the air is at fault. We know a lack of moisture in the outer layers of the skin is responsible for dryness. Applying oils or fatty salves helps by keeping in the moisture.

IN THE PAST, victims of dryness were advised to use cleansing creams or oils instead of bathing. There usually is a basis for many of these old beliefs and this is true of the ideas about soap and water. Washing removes the natural oils of the skin and allows the water to evaporate, making the skin dry.

All this can be avoided by bathing (soaking is wonderful) or showering and applying a greasy preparation immediately to lock in the moisture. Several bath oils and other emollient products are available to combine the method. The main hazard of this bath-oil mixture, especially for the elderly, is climbing out of a slippery tub. Be careful. Meanwhile, making the home more humid will lessen the evaporation of moisture from the skin.

ORDINARY DRYNESS should not be confused with the scaling, redness, and itching associated with skin diseases. This is a troublesome feature of many forms of dermatitis. The symptom may be part of the skin condition and correcting the dryness is helpful but not curative.

In others, treating the dryness leads to cure of the dermatitis. Examples include sheet dermatitis in bedfast persons and the dry scaling and redness that develop after long exposure to hot air from a register on the car heater.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on dry skin if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CRANBERRY REMEDY

J. H. writes: Would drinking cranberry juice help a urinary tract infection?

REPLY

This has been a favorite home remedy for years but there are better urinary antiseptics on the market. On the other hand, cranberry juice increases the hippuric acid content of the urine. This acid kills bacteria if taken in large concentrations. Cranberries rarely contain enough of this acid to have this antiseptic effect.

MORNING CLUMSINESS

N.S. writes: When I first get up in the morning my fingers are clumsy. I have trouble handling bobby pins and getting coins out of a change purse. Later in the day I'm more nimble. Is this due to poor circulation or arthritis?

REPLY

These symptoms have the earmarks of arthritis. The joints usually limber up after they have been used.

BEDTIME SNACK

J. R. writes: I eat two hard boiled eggs five nights a week two or three hours before going to bed. My wife says this is not good for me but I always wake up in the morning feeling fine. Should I keep on eating eggs or give them up?

REPLY

Keep on eating them if it makes you feel this way.

KIDNEY GROWTHS

M. W. writes: Is it possible to tell before operation whether a kidney tumor is malignant?

REPLY

Some kidney tumors always are malignant and the diagnosis can be made before surgery. Others require a biopsy.

Audubon Groups Place In National Bird Count

Members of the Marin Audubon Society, in company with the Golden Gate Audubon Society and entered under the name of Tomales Bay, placed nationally in the annual Jan. 1 Bird Count sponsored by the National Audubon Society, it was announced from New York.

Thirty-five members of the Marin and Golden Gate groups participated in the count, which annually is taken at a spot in the vicinity of Marshall. During the all-day siege they identified 166 different species of birds. The Cocca, Fla. again was the winner with 197.

"We feel that all of our birds were native, many wintering in the area from Alaska and Canada," commented William S. Picker of Belvedere, president of the Marin Audubon Society. "Many of the Florida birds are from the Carribean and South America."

The Bay group came in for mention with another unusual sighting, a trumpeter swan, wintering for the second season in the lagoon above Drakes Bay.

"This is the second year we have sighted this swan," Picker said. "They are really native to Wyoming and Montana, and have ceased to migrate, apparently having found suitable lake areas in their own states. However, in an effort to extend the range of the birds, some of these trumpeter swans were planted at Tule Lake. This swan is likely one of these."

Aileen Pierson is president of the Golden Gate Audubon Society which cooperated with the Marin group in the count.

New Language Courses Slated

Four foreign language classes will initiate the audio-lingual method of foreign language instruction at Redwood High School next fall.

One Russian, one French and two Spanish classes will be included in the new program.

This will probably be the biggest change in Redwood's course of study next year, according to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais High School District.

A re-organization of beginning journalism will include a new course, English 5 and 6 J, which will have six weeks of journalism. Staff class for Redwood's newspaper, the Bark, will remain the same.

In the science department, one new course. "Chemistry Study," will introduce a new manner of teaching chemistry.

All mathematics classes wil be taught by the new School Mathematics Study Group program.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Increasing Humidity Relieves Dry Skin For Many Patients

VAN DELLEN

Many individuals have found that increasing the humidity relieves dry skin. This common condition is prevalent during the winter, especially in the north where homes, apartments, and offices, are heated. Steam is the main offender but other types of heating systems also steal moisture from the air.

Winter itch is more likely to occur in the elderly. Women usually blame dishpan hands on soaps and detergents but, in many instances, too little humidity in the air is at fault. We know a lack of moisture in the outer layers of the skin is responsible for dryness. Applying oils or fatty salves helps by keeping in the moisture.

IN THE PAST, victims of dryness were advised to use cleansing creams or oils instead of bathing. There usually is a basis for many of these old beliefs and this is true of the ideas about soap and water. Washing removes the natural oils of the skin and allows the water to evaporate, making the skin dry.

All this can be avoided by bathing (soaking is wonderful) or showering and applying a greasy preparation immediately to lock in the moisture. Several bath oils and other emollient products are available to combine the method. The main hazard of this bath-oil mixture, especially for the elderly, is climbing out of a slippery tub. Be careful. Meanwhile, making the home more humid will lessen the evaporation of moisture from the skin.

ORDINARY DRYNESS should not be confused with the scaling, redness, and itching associated with skin diseases. This is a troublesome feature of many forms of dermatitis. The symptom may be part of the skin condition and correcting the dryness is helpful but not curative.

In others, treating the dryness leads to cure of the dermatitis. Examples include sheet dermatitis in bedfast persons and the dry scaling and redness that develop after long exposure to hot air from a register on the car heater.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on dry skin if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CRANBERRY REMEDY

J. H. writes: Would drinking cranberry juice help a urinary tract infection?

REPLY

This has been a favorite home remedy for years but there are better urinary antiseptics on the market. On the other hand, cranberry juice increases the hippuric acid content of the urine. This acid kills bacteria if taken in large concentrations. Cranberries rarely contain enough of this acid to have this antiseptic effect.

MORNING CLUMSINESS

N.S. writes: When I first get up in the morning my fingers are clumsy. I have trouble handling bobby pins and getting coins out of a change purse. Later in the day I'm more nimble. Is this due to poor circulation or arthritis?

REPLY

These symptoms have the earmarks of arthritis. The joints usually limber up after they have been used.

BEDTIME SNACK

J. R. writes: I eat two hard boiled eggs five nights a week two or three hours before going to bed. My wife says this is not good for me but I always wake up in the morning feeling fine. Should I keep on eating eggs or give them up?

REPLY

Keep on eating them if it makes you feel this way.

KIDNEY GROWTHS

M. W. writes: Is it possible to tell before operation whether a kidney tumor is malignant?

REPLY

Some kidney tumors always are malignant and the diagnosis can be made before surgery. Others require a biopsy.

Audubon Groups Place In National Bird Count

Members of the Marin Audubon Society, in company with the Golden Gate Audubon Society and entered under the name of Tomales Bay, placed nationally in the annual Jan. 1 Bird Count sponsored by the National Audubon Society, it was announced from New York.

Thirty-five members of the Marin and Golden Gate groups participated in the count, which annually is taken at a spot in the vicinity of Marshall. During the all-day siege they identified 166 different species of birds. The Cocca, Fla. again was the winner with 197.

"We feel that all of our birds were native, many wintering in the area from Alaska and Canada," commented William S. Picker of Belvedere, president of the Marin Audubon Society. "Many of the Florida birds are from the Carribean and South America."

The Bay group came in for mention with another unusual sighting, a trumpeter swan, wintering for the second season in the lagoon above Drakes Bay.

"This is the second year we have sighted this swan," Picker said. "They are really native to Wyoming and Montana, and have ceased to migrate, apparently having found suitable lake areas in their own states. However, in an effort to extend the range of the birds, some of these trumpeter swans were planted at Tule Lake. This swan is likely one of these."

Aileen Pierson is president of the Golden Gate Audubon Society which cooperated with the Marin group in the count.

New Language Courses Slated

Four foreign language classes will initiate the audio-lingual method of foreign language instruction at Redwood High School next fall.

One Russian, one French and two Spanish classes will be included in the new program.

This will probably be the biggest change in Redwood's course of study next year, according to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais High School District.

A re-organization of beginning journalism will include a new course, English 5 and 6 J. which will have six weeks of journalism. Staff class for Redwood's newspaper, the Bark, will remain the same.

In the science department, one new course. "Chemistry Study," will introduce a new manner of teaching chemistry.

All mathematics classes wil be taught by the new School Mathematics Study Group program.

SINCE 1910

Three generations of local ownership management have offered good real estate service for half a century. Four convenient offices are staffed by soundly experienced experts to handle your real estate problems with confidence. List with us for proof.

Exquisite Grounds $32,500
Tree-shaded patios, cozy cabana, hot house, specimen planting throughout, pretty garden paths—all this around a gray and white four-bedroom home: dining room, old-fashioned kitchen, utility room, 2 baths, nice entrance hall, trees all around, outside every window. San Anselmo.

Decorator Touches $33,750
Good design and quality fixtures bring this house out of the ordinary. Marvelous view over the valley, across to the bay, around to the wooded mountain. Three bedrooms, 2½ baths, breakfast room, dining room, tree-shaded sundecks outside living and dining rooms, outside master bedroom. Splendid home. San Rafael, convenient location. Exclusive.

Attractive, Immaculate $34,750
Sparkling and appealing: sunny breakfast room in the kitchen, which is beautifully finished, all-electric; sliding glass doors from the separate dining room out to a covered terrace; large living room out of the traffic pattern. Three bedrooms, 2 baths; enclosed level garden, lawn, play area. Lovely view out over rooftops, trees, to the bay. San Rafael.

Kent Woodlands $48,500
Handsome ranch-style home; cathedral-beamed ceiling in paneled living room, which has a floor-to-ceiling Arizona stone fireplace wall, and a striking picture window view of wooded Mt. Tamalpais; formal dining room, breakfast room in the electric kitchen; three bedrooms, 2½ baths, space below for additional room. Spreading oaks all around, beautiful grounds, flagstoned entrance, large BBQ patio, privacy. Greatly reduced.

Natural Rustic Beauty $60,000
Tall trees, extensive patio and deck areas, and a tree-shaded stream make this a summer paradise. Large barbecue patio, built-in barbecue, rotisserie, sink, all arbored. Three bedrooms, 2 baths, huge family room with sliding glass doors to deck and patio. All-electric kitchen, especially well-equipped, roomy, with counter through to the family room. Quiet neighborhood.

Beautiful View Acre $65,000
Enormous home on a lovely acre of ground with a vast view over the trees, houses below, across to the bay. Six bedrooms, 5 baths; large rooms: 30-ft. living room, 25' dining room, 20x20 master bedroom. Study adjoins the master bedroom; workshop, large swimming pool, pantry; guest suite has separate entrance. Well-landscaped grounds.

Showplace $85,000
Striking contemporary home, brand new. Marble entrance floor, marble floor-to-ceiling fireplace in the sunken living room, which is white-carpeted and looks out over the valley, bay, bridges, wooded mountain—one of the most beautiful views possible. Paneled den, formal dining room, huge family room, which adjoins the dream kitchen, all-electric, dark cabinets, white formica. Storage rooms, utility room, 3 bedrooms, 3 baths, circular swimming pool, 2,400 sq. ft. of deck. Greenbrae.

REMEMBER
THE GOOD OLD DAYS?

DEAR MR. SPECULATOR:

Some years ago you had a chance to buy a 10-acre spread with a little white house and a horse corral, but you thought $15,000 was too high. The property is now being offered for $40,000. With that new development starting nearby, I wonder what this property will bring a few years from now. Yours truly, TOP PROPERTIES — William Bell, 456-7330; eves. 892-2788.

REMEMBER THE GOOD OLD DAYS?

DEAR MR. SPECULATOR:

Some years ago you had a chance to buy a 10-acre spread with a little white house and a horse corral, but you thought $15,000 was too high. The property is now being offered for $40,000. With that new development starting nearby, I wonder what this property will bring a few years from now. Yours truly,

Western Weekend Booths Planned

The carnival booths for the Western Weekend celebration in Novato, are being taken by local organizations again this year, said Alex Sanchez, chairman of the booths and concession committee.

So far, seven of the proposed 24 booths have been contracted for with the junior chamber of commerce, sponsors of the celebration, Sanchez said.

An artificial harbor, at the port of Los Angeles, leads all other Pacific ports in tonnage.

TIDELAND MEASURE ON BOARD AGENDA

Whether to seek amendment of a state Senate bill which would assure public use of Richardson Bay tidelands will be considered tomorrow by the Marin County board of supervisors, meeting at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

Sen. John McCarthy (R-San Rafael) has introduced, at request of the county, Senate Bill 977 to authorize sale of submerged lands at Richardson Bay by the state lands commission.

Purpose of the bill is to allow the county and the City of Sausalito to exchange underwater streets for private lands to keep as much of the bay as possible an open area and prevent subdivision of filled tidelands.

Former planning director Mary Summers, representing the Marin Conservation League, has written the board asking exclusion of Railroad Avenue and all canals from the proposed bill, and suggesting the bill specify that streets must be exchanged for waterfront tidelands rather than sold for cash.

The amendments, according to Mrs. Summers, would guarantee public access to the open area at Richardson Bay and clarify the purpose of the bill.

The underwater streets are restricted from exchange because of an old navigational public trust which allows no other use.

Planning matters to be heard at 2 p.m. include a long-delayed public hearing on a proposed apartment building development at the entrance to Marinwood. Development limited to 300 or 400 apartments has been approved by the county planning commission.

Testimonial Dinner For Dr. F. I. Drexler

Dr. Frederic I. Drexler, 18 Buena Vista Way, Mill Valley, former minister, newspaper publisher and lecturer, will be honored on his 85th birthday Thursday with a testimonial dinner in the California Hotel in San Francisco.

The dinner, sponsored by the American Baptist Union of the San Francisco Bay Cities, will bring together representatives of institutions and churches Drexler has served. There will also be congratulatory telegrams and letters that will go into a 85th birthday book to be presented to him.

Drexler, a native of Hungary, came to Chicago as a boy with his parents. At the age of 19, he decided to go into the ministry. His first pastorate was in Minot, N.D. He later moved to California to become minister of a Baptish church in Willows. He subsequently occupied pulpits in Oakland and Fresno.

He gave up the ministry to take a job as lecturer and manager of a Chatauqua circuit. His subject was the rise of communism.

After this, he began publishing a newspaper in Riverdale. and grew into a chain of six weeklies in neighboring communities.

Drexler and his family moved to Mill Valley 29 years ago. He was once owner of the Mill Valley Record, which was operated by his sons, Fred and Day.

While living in Southern California, Drexler founded the California Baptist Theological Seminary at Covina. The seminary is now the largest source of new Baptist ministers in the West.

His wife, Jessie Day Drexler, died in 1958. The couple had been married nearly 54 years.

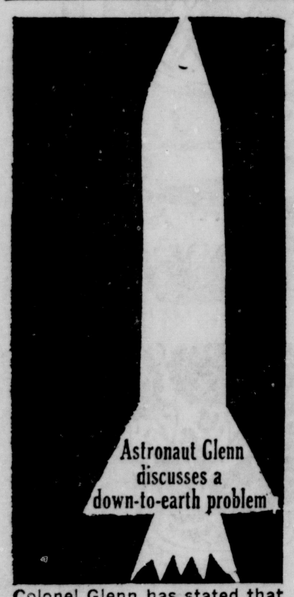
Photography Exhibit Of Animals Set

Plans for an animal photography exhibit plus an essay contest have been announced by the Marin County Humane Society in observance of national "Be Kind to Animals Week," May 5-11.

There will also be an exhibit for entries of art posters and papermache animals from Marin schools.

The photography exhibit will take place on May 8, 9, and 10 with prizes awarded for the most appealing photograph, most original photography, best wildlife photography, best group animal photo, and best dog, cat and horse photography. All photographs must be submitted to the humane society by Friday. Location of the exhibit will be announced by the society.

The essay contest is open to all Marin County schoolchildren, as is the papermache animal contest. First, second, and third prizes will be awarded in each category.



Astronaut Glenn discusses a down-to-earth problem

Colonel Glenn has stated that the success of his orbital flight depended as much on his physical and mental fitness as it did on modern technology.

Consequently, he has made this appeal: "I call on all parents to urge school officials to provide programs of physical education that stress vigorous activity."

Is your child's school doing what Colonel Glenn recommends? Many of our schools aren't. As a result, about one-third of our youngsters can't pass minimum physical achievement tests.

Make sure that the school your youngster attends has an adequate fitness program. Talk to your school officials.

If you would like more information, write to The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D.C.

Installation Of Novato De Molay Set

Robert E. Willey Jr. will be installed as master councilor of the Novato Order of De Molay at ceremonies at 8 p.m. today at the Druids' Hall in Novato.

Willey, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Willey Sr. of 1365 Denlyn Street, is a senior at Novato High School. He is a member of Chalkdusters, future teachers organization at the high school, and is chairman of the Teen-Age Republicans of Novato. He recently won the best actor award for his performance in "Grandma Pulls the Strings," Novato High School Drama Club presentation.

Barbara Cotterell of Novato Rainbow Assembly 194 has been chosen Chapter Sweetheart.

Robb Schultz is the installing officer. The outgoing master councilor is Allen Schafer.

Refreshments and a dance will follow the installation.

The National Safety Council says using seat belts would save 5,000 lives yearly and reduce injuries by half.

Cranston To Speak At Peace Conference

State Controller Alan Cranston and former Rep. Byron Johnson will be principal speakers at an Interfaith Peace Conference sponsored by the Marin Council of Churches at the Marin County Civic Center and the Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia, Friday and Saturday.

Controller Cranston will speak on "Can California Afford Peace?"

Johnson special assistant to the director of the Agency for International Development and a congressman from Colorado in 1959-60, will talk on "The Cost of Peace to the Religious Citizen."

Rev. Wesley C. Baker, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, San Rafael, is chairman of the conference. Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Temple Rodef Sholom will give the invocation.

The Friday evening program also will include a panel discussion with audience participation. Panelists are Peter Allen Smith, Byron Leydecker and Julian Mack II.

A dinner at the Civic Center will precede the Friday night meeting, and a breakfast, scheduled at Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church, will follow the Saturday morning Mass for participants in the conference.

Comprising the committee for the conference are John Holm, First Presbyterian Church, San Anselmo; Mrs. Charles Clifford, St. Raphael's Catholic Church; Mrs. Bernard Whitehill, Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church; Mrs. Byron Jones, First Presbyterian Church; Dr. and Mrs. Edward Kessel, First Presbyterian Church, Novato, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Dieter Schugt, First Presbyterian Church, San Rafael.

Quarantine Of Mussels Due

The annual quarantine of mussels for human consumption along the California coast goes into effect Wednesday, and will continue through Oct. 31, Dr. Mary Jo Tonelli, acting county health officer, announced today.

The quarantine order prohibits the taking or sale of mussels, except for use as fish bait, from the ocean shore extending from Oregon to the Mexican border, including San Francisco Bay. It specifically requires that mussels to be used for bait must be broken open and plainly labeled with the words: "Mussels may contain poison. Unfit for human food."

The public is also warned that clams should be cleaned and washed thoroughly before cooking and all the dark parts discarded, Dr. Tonelli said. Only the white meat should be eated during the quarantine months, since the same poison may be present in the dark parts of the clams.

Audubon Society Plans Picnic

Annual picnic meeting of the Marin Audubon Society will be held at the Audubon Canyon Ranch near Bolinas beginning at 11 a.m. next Sunday, announced William S. Picker of Belvedere, president.

Highlight of the meeting will be presentation of an award to Phil Palmer of Mill Valley, winner of grand prize in an Audubon Society photo contest for his picture "Gulls—San Francisco Bay."

Officers will be elected.

Peace Discussion

Non-violence as a tool for gaining peace will be discussed at a meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at 855 Penny Royal Lane, Terra Linda, of People for Peace.

TIDELAND MEASURE ON BOARD AGENDA

Whether to seek amendment of a state Senate bill which would assure public use of Richardson Bay tidelands will be considered tomorrow by the Marin County board of supervisors, meeting at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

Sen. John McCarthy (R-San Rafael) has introduced, at request of the county, Senate Bill 977 to authorize sale of submerged lands at Richardson Bay by the state lands commission.

Purpose of the bill is to allow the county and the City of Sausalito to exchange underwater streets for private lands to keep as much of the bay as possible an open area and prevent subdivision of filled tidelands.

Former planning director Mary Summers, representing the Marin Conservation League, has written the board asking exclusion of Railroad Avenue and all canals from the proposed bill, and suggesting the bill specify that streets must be exchanged for waterfront tidelands rather than sold for cash.

The amendments, according to Mrs. Summers, would guarantee public access to the open area at Richardson Bay and clarify the purpose of the bill.

The underwater streets are restricted from exchange because of an old navigational public trust which allows no other use.

Planning matters to be heard at 2 p.m. include a long-delayed public hearing on a proposed apartment building development at the entrance to Marinwood. Development limited to 300 or 400 apartments has been approved by the county planning commission.

Testimonial Dinner For Dr. F. I. Drexler

Dr. Frederic I. Drexler, 18 Buena Vista Way, Mill Valley, former minister, newspaper publisher and lecturer, will be honored on his 85th birthday Thursday with a testimonial dinner in the California Hotel in San Francisco.

The dinner, sponsored by the American Baptist Union of the San Francisco Bay Cities, will bring together representatives of institutions and churches Drexler has served. There will also be congratulatory telegrams and letters that will go into a 85th birthday book to be presented to him.

Drexler, a native of Hungary, came to Chicago as a boy with his parents. At the age of 19, he decided to go into the ministry. His first pastorate was in Minot, N.D. He later moved to California to become minister of a Baptish church in Willows. He subsequently occupied pulpits in Oakland and Fresno.

He gave up the ministry to take a job as lecturer and manager of a Chatauqua circuit. His subject was the rise of communism.

After this, he began publishing a newspaper in Riverdale, and grew into a chain of six weeklies in neighboring communities.

Three Car Looter Suspects Captured In Mt. Tam Chase

Marin Coast Screened By Sheriff's Stakeout

Three men from the East Bay, suspected of being members of a car-looting ring operating along the Marin-Sonoma Coast, were nabbed at gunpoint atop Mount Tamalpais Saturday in a sheriff's stakeout net.

Two rookie deputies, members of an 18-man stakeout, caught the suspects after a down-mountain chase from the summit parking area.

Suspects are John Howard Noland, 38, San Pablo musician-bartender; Harold Glen Martin, 33, Richmond laborer, and Clarence Edward Greenlee, 22, San Pablo service station operator.

Noland, bailed out for $1,575, is scheduled to appear in court Wednesday. The other two remained in custody.

Their captors were Martin Colin, who had just joined the sheriff's regulars about a month ago, and Reserve Deputy Michael Craig, a volunteer.

Deputies Conlin and Craig, driving an undercover car, chased the suspects into an embankment about a mile below the summit, then called for reinforcements.

When veteran deputies sped to the scene, they found the three suspects lying face down in the middle of the roadway with the two rookie officers standing over them with revolvers drawn.

WELL DONE

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos commended his entire stakeout crew, especially Deputy Conlin and Reserve Deputy Craig, for "a job well done."

Capt. Sidney Stinson, who organized the stakeout, estimated that $6,000 in goods and cash had been stolen from parked cars along the Marin coast during the past five weeks. A group of deputies under Sgt. Kenneth Irving, wearing civilian clothes and driving old cars, were strung out from Muir Woods to Tomales Saturday in a determined effort to stop the car burglaries.

The capture came earlier than expected.

LIKE TOURISTS

Deputy Conlin and Craig, assigned to Mount Tamalpais, pulled into the summit parking area about 2:45 p.m.

"We wandered around, using binoculars and trying to look like tourists," Craig reported. He wore an old pair of trousers, blue sweater and red baseball cap. Conlin had khaki trousers and sport shirt.

A few minutes later, the three suspects pulled up alongside the undercover car and began wandering around the parked cars. The officers watched until the suspects had

SAUSALITO HEARING

Principal Tells Of Finding Pupils Out Of Control

Robert D. Thompson, Richardson Bay School principal, presented evidence this morning as hearing opened in Sausalito on the ouster of one of his teachers. He said he visited her classroom on several occasions to find the pupils out of control and in some cases hiding.

The hearing is for dismissed teacher Evelyn J. Schoenfeld, before Coleman Stuart, hearing officer for the California Office of Administrative Procedure in Sacramento, in the district office at Bayside School.

Miss Schoenfeld was given dismissal notice March 25, charged with failure to control her classes. Another teacher, Donald Venturini, was also given notice but he subsequently resigned.

Thompson, principal at the school for eight years and a teacher in the district for four prior years, cited an incident March 13 when he came to Miss Schoenfeld's class and found it "extremely noisy."

"I opened the door and five boys were running around the center of the room," he said. "One boy had a counting bead toy in his hand and was throwing it in people's faces."

Douglas J. Maloney, attorney for the administration, asked, "When you entered, what was Miss Schoenfeld doing to quell the disturbance?"

"Nothing," said Thompson.

He also said that on March 8 he observed pupils in her class yelling across the room, and the class seemed restless. Again, on Nov. 2, 1962, he had observed her class at an assembly where it was "extremely noisy—I had to talk to them myself to quiet them down."

Thompson said pupils had run out of the room for protection. Quite a few students had hit each other in the room, he said, adding:

"I think if they had been properly motivated this could have been prevented."

Thompson said Miss Schoenfeld had sent 67 discipline referral slips to the principal's office during the current year. By comparison, the seventh and eighth grade mentally retarded class, which has more difficult problems to cope with, had 20 discipline referral slips, he said.

He said the referrals take up class time and humiliate the pupils.

Thompson testified he had given Miss Schoenfeld satisfactory report for her first two years.

This afternoon, Maloney was to call Irene Duro, secretary of the Richardson Bay Schools, and Marcus F. Davis, district superintendent.

Miss Schoenfeld is special education teacher in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. She has only 14 pupils in one class.

OAS Watching War Threat In Hispaniola

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — An armed clash between the two neighbors of the Caribbean island of Hispaniola threatened today. The Dominican Republic accused Haiti of invading its embassy, and Haiti broke diplomatic relations between the two countries.

President Juan Bosch gave Haitian President Francois Duvalier 24 hours to withdraw troops surrounding the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince. The Embassy is sheltering 22 foes of Duvalier.

LEAVES CANCELED

The Dominican deadline was originally set for 6 a.m., EST. But the government said it had extended the ultimatum until 8 p.m. because of an inpeace.

"Unless the outrages against the Dominican Republic in Haiti end within 24 hours, we will put an end to them by all means within our power," Bosch said.

The Dominican armed forces Elvis Vinas Roman, announced all troop leaves had been canceled. But he said there was no military movement toward the Haitian border.

The Organization of American States ordered a five-nation fact-finding team to fly to both countries to investigate the crisis next door to Cuba. The OAS appealed to both governments to keep the peace.

The dispute with the Dominicans flared as a result of Duvalaier's attempt to crush rising opposition to his regime.

TENSION MOUNTS

Tension began mounting a week ago when leaflets warned Duvalier that an attempt would be made to overthrow him May 15—the end of his first term as president.

Suspicious that opposition to him centered in the regular army, Duvalier last week fired 64 officers, the bulk of the army's leadership. The dictator has built up a personal militia and presidential guard that outnumber the army and are better armed.

On Friday, occupants of a speeding car opened fire on Duvalier's two children, Jan Claude, 12, and Simone, 14, as they were being driven home from school. Three of the children's guards were slain but the children were not hurt.

The attack triggered weekend violence in which 15 persons were reported killed and at least 68 Haitians, including former army officers and their families, took haven in Latin-American embassies.

6 Teeners, Man, 30, In Drink Party

A Kentfield man and six teen-agers, arrested early Saturday at a Tamalpais Valley drinking party, are scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday afternoon.

Ten were arrested in all, at a home at 387 Woodside Avenue. Deputy Sheriff Joseph G. Kelly said he knocked, and a girl opened the door slightly, then tried to slam it. Kelly blocked it with his foot, and entered.

Booked in county jail were: Melvin Allen Dunlap, 30, of 825 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield; Francis Mitchell Orella, 19, of 153 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley; Lee Allen Daniels, 19, of 10½ Locust Avenue, Mill Valley; Richard Woodley Smith, 18, of 389 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley; Carol Wooten, 19, of 316 Third Street, Sausalito; Shirley Johnstone, 20, of 411 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, and Eleanor Karin Lem, 18, of 29 Charles Lane, Mill Valley.

Two other girls, aged 16, were taken to Juvenile Hall, and a 17-year-old girl was turned over to her parents.

Dunlap was booked on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of minors. The The others were booked on suspicion of illegal liquor possession and delinquency.

Budget Cutters Annoy Brown

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown told a meeting of his department heads today that he gets "constantly annoyed at general calls for cutting down our budget.

"They don't know where to cut down," Brown said, "just cut down."

He was apparently referring to criticism by Republicans and some key Democrats.

Brown told the department heads that he hoped "the next time you hear this criticism, you'll call them in and talk to them."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Births continued to decline during February, but the death rate was up under the impact of the winter's influenza.

Vets Have Week To Seek Property Tax Exemptions

Veterans have only one week in which to file for property tax exemptions for 1963-64, Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel reminded today.

Deadline for filing is May 6 at 5 p.m.

Broemmel said all applications must be in his office by the 5 p.m. deadline to be considered.

Applications are lagging so far this year, partly, Broemmel believes, because of last year's grand jury investigation of veterans' tax exemptions.

About 7,000 veterans have filed this year, compared to more than 9,000 at this time last year. Broemmel said some 10,000 exemptions were granted last year of a total 10,500 filed.

Two Non-Swimmers Rescued In Bay After Man Dived To Save Woman

A San Quentin Prison accountant, himself no swimmer, leaped into San Francisco Bay yesterday to save the life of a woman boating companion who was swept overboard, and both were saved in the nick of time by a Greenbrae boatman.

Carl Spector, 24, or Quarters 116, San Quentin Village, took Mrs. Linda Berney, 23, of 147 Pine Street, San Anselmo, on a ride on the bay to show off his new 14-foot outboard motorboat. They left the prison launching ramp at 2 p.m.

A half hour later, as they cruised on the bay, the steering jammed as Spector attempted to maneuver the craft. The boat made a sharp turn, spilling Mrs. Berney into the water.

Aware she could not swim, Spector grabbed a buoyant cushion that was close at hand and tossed it to her for a life preserver.

The cushion dropped upon the water out of reach of the struggling Mrs. Berney. As she floundered, she later related, Spector leaped into the bay and pushed the cushion toward her.

Meantime, the boat had traveled considerable distance before its motor failed. Spector and Mrs. Berney found themselves both in the tossing bay, a half mile offshore, with no rescue in sight.

Harry Joseph of Greenbrae, parts manager for Jack L. Hunt Motors of San Rafael, was cruising in his own 14-foot outboard motorboat.

"I saw the two people in the water, and thought they were just swimming," he related. "As I got closer, I could faintly hear cries for help."

Both were near drowning when Joseph arrived to pull them aboard his boat. He later placed Spector on his own boat and took Mrs. Barney to the San Quentin ramp. Neither of the dunked pair required hospitalization.

Mrs. Berney's husband, Officer Michael Berney of San Anselmo police, was high in praise of his longtime friend, Spector.

"He was safe on the boat, but he jumped in to try to save my wife although he was no swimmer himself," said Berney.

"You don't find many people like that."

Marin Believed At Crossroad Of 3 Ways To Government

By RICHARD LYTTLE

County government in Marin was seen at the crossroads Saturday with three roads ahead —three roads leading in different directions.

The county could increase its city-like services and become an urban agency. It could go the other direction and encourage more cities to incorporate with the offer of contracted services. Or it could join other counties of the Bay Area and become only a fragment of a huge metropolitan agency.

These choices were described by Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon, a member of a panel on county government, at the Citizens Forum on Marin and Its Governments, held before 130 at the Civic Center. She saw no clear prediction of the county future.

"Right now, I see trends in all three directions," she said.

A former member of the county planning commission, Mrs. Azevedo said the county government is becoming more and more urban. As one example, she cited the Civic Center as an urban facility.

Gov. Rockefeller Just Smiling

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller smiled and declined comment today on a published report that he will marry recently divorced Margaretta Fitler Murphy May 18 or 19.

A copyright story in today's New York Mirror quoted an unidentified friend of the Rockefeller family as saying:

"The date will be Saturday, May 18, or Sunday, May 19. The ceremony will be performed at a Protestant Episcopal church—but not the one where Rockefeller usually worships," the interdenominational Riverside church on Riverside Drive.

Daylight Brings Out Everybody

It was a really big spring weekend all over Marin County with lovers of the open spaces making up for lost time after the rains.

Parks, beaches and bird refuges came in for major attention. Both highways and byways were thronged with cars with the first day of daylight saving time keeping people out later.

Swim devotees continued a trifle shy as far as the seashore was concerned, but many took a dip in streams of Samuel P. Taylor State Park, according to Frank Ballinghausen, assistant park supervisor.

His figures showed 1,092 Sunday visitors with 267 cars of picnickers counted over the weekend.

Between Taylor and Tamalpais State Parks 60-odd horseback riders and hikers were counted yesterday.

"We were mobbed" said Mrs. Thelma McLaren at the Audubon Society's Canyon Ranch bird refuge on Bolinas Lagoon. She said on Saturday more than 200 appeared and many couldn't find room to park their cars because of sudden incursion of Park School parents, a garden club and Camp Fire Girls.

Mrs. McLaren said this is an ideal time for a visit. The herons have hatched their young but the white egrets are just hatching, she reported.

Attendance at Tomales Bay State Park was "very good both days," it was reported. But the water is still chilly in the bay and few swimmers have been in evidence so far.

Good clam tides were reported both Saturday and yesterday.

Rickover Rules Out Nuclear Explosion

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP) — Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, director of nuclear propulsion for the Navy, said today it was impossible for the nuclear plant on ill-fated submarine Thresher to explode.

Rickover told a naval court of inquiry: "Nuclear reactors in submarines and surface ships are designed to minimize hazards under any conditions."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Record Turnout In Italy Vote

ROME (AP)—A record voter turnout was indicated today as Italy wound up nationwide elections to pick a new Parliament and pass judgment on government cooperation with the left.

Voters who didn't cast ballots on the first day of polling yesterday had a final seven hours today.

In 14 hours of polling yesterday 80 per cent of the 34 million eligible voters went to the polls. This compared with 77 per cent for the first day of balloting in 1958, when the election ended with a record turnout of 93.8 per cent.

Six persons were injured in a series of pre-dawn bombings Sunday in Milan's central railway station. Police blamed agitators for greater local autonomy in the Alto Adige (South Tyrol), a north Italian area that once belonged to Austria.

Hoffa Wins In Key Election

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—International Teamster President James R. Hoffa has won a two-to-one victory over the AFL-CIO in a key representation election—one of the stiffest challenges to his leadership in the nation's largest union.

Hoffa

The official count in the National Labor Relations Board election was 4,893 for the Teamsters, 2,550 for an insurgent group known as the "Voice of the Teamsters," which had the public support of AFL-CIO President George Meany.

At stake in the four-day election which ended last night was the right to represent 8,200 over-the-road truckers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, members of four Teamsters locals.

A jubilant Hoffa, in Philadelphia for much of the past 15 weeks directing his campaign, received the news of his victory by thrusting two figures downward.

"The Voice down," he said. "Down the Voice."

Criminals Executed In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—Firing squads killed three Cubans during the weekend in the first application of a new law authorizing the death penalty for common criminals.

The government announced the executions yesterday and said the men had been convicted of posing as state security police to carry out a series of house robberies and holdups.

'Mrs. America' Still In A Daze

Mrs. America

"I'm still in a daze," said Mrs. Mitchell. "I had the winner all picked out and it wasn't me."

Mrs. Mitchell, who was the California entrant, will receive $30,000 in prizes, including a personal appearance tour.

Her husband, R. Lyle Mitchell said, "I guess I'll be a baby sitter for the next year, but I don't mind because she is doing what she wants to do."

Runnerup in the field of 51, was Mrs. Minnesota, 36-year-old Virginia Firnschold of Rochester.

Artificial Grinners For Bossy

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP)—There's an 8-year-old cow down Tombstone way that can flash a shiny set of choppers with every moo.

Dr. Charles Behney, a Bisbee, Ariz., veterinarian, fitted the cow with a set of stainless steel teeth Sunday in an effort to prove his claim that cows will be healthier, happier and more productive of calves if they have dentures to replace teeth worn down and decayed after years of grazing.

The dentures cost $20 a set and are expected to last from three to five years. The experiment is being conducted on the Jack Duran ranch near here.

Missile Success

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — A mighty Titan 2 missile—the most powerful in the nation's arsenal—was right on target after a 4,000-mile flight over the Pacific Ocean, the Air Force says.

Officers described Saturday's launching as the first successful West Coast firing of the giant 103-foot missile from its underground silo.

Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths the first three months this year — 8,460, including a record toll for March —was the third highest ever reported for the period by the National Safety Council.

The council said the record January-March toll was 8,615 in 1937 and the second highest was 8,546 in 1956. Traffic fatalities in March totaled 3,120, topping the old March record toll of 2,940 in 1956.

The council reported 300,000 persons suffered injuries in traffic accidents from Jan. 1 to April 1.

Boardwalk Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — A wind-whipped fire roared out of control last night along two blocks of Coney Island's boardwalk.

The fire, of undetermined cause, broke out in an unoccupied restaurant at 20th Street and the Boardwalk and spread quickly.

A bathhouse and swimming pool and eight Boardwalk stores and concessions were destroyed.

Smoke, rising in columns as high as 150 feet, was visible for miles, drawing thousands of curious to the scene.

The cost of a loaf of bread went from 13.5 cents in 1947 to 20.9 cents in 1962.

Tornado Lifts Car Carrying Nine, Girl Dies

AUBURN, Neb. (UPI) — Mrs. Fred Schilling, 37, was driving with her eight children yesterday when a tornado swooped down and lifted her car from the highway.

The swirling funnel hurled the auto through power lines and bounced it across an open field, dumping its occupants at intervals of 400 to 500 feet.

One child, Diane, 14, died. The mother and her other seven sons and daughters today fought for their lives.

The car was demolished.

Diane died on an operating table in an Auburn hospital last night four hours after the mishap. Mrs. Shilling was hospitalized in Lincoln, and her seven other children were in hospitals in Auburn and Nebraska City.

Cal Gamboni, motor company operator from Nebraska City, said he was driving a short distance ahead of the Shilling car. He and his wife, Esther, said they saw the car hurled off the highway and through the power lines.

The force of the twister turned over the Gamboni vehicle but Gamboni and his wife escaped serious injury.

Gamboni notified authorities and helped with the rescue work.

"The car popped over a hill and there it was—they didn't have a chance," Gamboni said.

All the victims were unconscious when they were admitted to hospitals.

At Fort Worth, Tex., damage today was estimated at more than 1.5 milloin dollars in the wake of a small tornado and 92- mile an hour winds that struck yesterday.

A flood watch was being kept on lowlands of the Trinity River, swollen by heavy rains the last four days.

Dozens of persons were injured, none seriously.

The tornado ripped through a five-mile stretch of the city, tearing up trees and sections of street pavement. Electric wires from uprooted utility poles snapped and crackled in the streets.

FIDEL SPEAKS — Cuba Premier Fidel Castro, watched by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, spoke from Lenin's Tomb in Moscow's Red Square yesterday. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Moscow)

40,000 Greet Castro In Moscow But Big Show Not Enthusiastic

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev led 40,000 Russians through a Red Square welcome to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro yesterday, but the elaborate show failed to whip up the frenzied enthusiasm Westerners had expected.

The bearded Cuban leader proclaimed that, except for the Soviet Union, his revolutionary regime could not exist. He heaped praise on Soviet economic and military aid.

Castro, wearing a fur hat against the chilly winds, was relatively restrained in manner.

Khrushchev opened the proceedings from the reviewing stand atop Lenin's tomb and set the tone.

He donned steel-rimmed spectacles and slowly and dryly read a welcoming speech which —one more time—said the Soviet Union was lined up shoulder - to - shoulder with Cuba against the United States.

Castro, who towered over his host, read a Spanish translation while Khrushchev spoke.

The crowds, conveyed to the square in army trucks, applauded mostly on signal from Khrushchev.

Khrushchev claimed that Soviet support for Cuba during last Autumn's crisis had avoided a clash with the United States that could have touched off World War III. Saying that the Soviet Union would stick by Cuba, he added, "it is not Cuba that threatens the United States but the United States that wishes to take away the freedom the Cuban people won for themselves."

Castro did not refer to the Soviet missile withdrawal and brushed over the crisis with the brief statement that "the imperialists would not have stopped short of an open invasion of our country if it were not for the Soviet Union."

Khrushchev was out at blustery Vnukova Airport when Castro arrived by plane from the arctic port of Murmansk where he spent yesterday morning inspecting the northern sea fleet.

Castro and Khrushchev, who Assembly in New York in October 1960, embraced but did not kiss as they greeted one another.

They drove into the gaily decorated city in a motorcade through lines of schoolchildren waving Soviet and Cuban flags.

College Y.R. Group Finally Splits Open

SANTA ROSA (AP) — The threatened split of the California Young Republican College Federation into moderate and right wing units finally appears to have happened.

Randolf Seifkin, moderates' choice for president of the federation, said he was pulling out of the organization and taking 1,500 of the 2,800 members with him.

He made the announcement at the close of the California Young Republicans executive board meeting in Santa Rosa.

Seifkin, a student at University of California at Santa Barbara, said the moderates would meet in Sacramento June 14 to establish their group as the California College Republicans.

The Y.R. executive board on Saturday voided Seifkin's election by the college federation's moderates during the recent state convention in Fresno.

The board ratified by 53-20 vote the election of Trent DeVenny, a Pepperdine student, who was chosen by the right wing faction in Fresno. DeVenny had support from Robert Gaston, right wing La Canada attorney who heads the Y.R. state organization.

Seifkin said the executive board "denied the majority ... the right to freely elect their leaders," thereby destroying the federation's effectiveness.

He said the new group would work for election of all Republican candidates and that members of the group would remain Y.R. members on an individual basis. Seifkin added that the moderately controlled Republican State Central Committee would be asked to sanction his group.

A plea by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael), that the Young Republicans sight their guns at the Democrats instead of fighting each other, got a cool reception at the group's luncheon session.

At its dinner meeting, the convention had as principal speaker Slobodan M. Draskovich, a member of the national council of the John Birch Society.

Legislature Has Eight Weeks To Go—Governor's In Trouble

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Mounting criticism by leaders of both parties pointed up Gov. Brown's second-term woes in the legislature today.

With only eight weeks of the session left, much of the governor's program is stalled, his "tax reform" plan jeopardized and his budget under steady fire.

What's behind it?

The reasons aren't hard to find:

The Democratic chief executive has lost the close tie-in he had with majority Democrats during his high-riding 1959-62 period. The honeymoon is definitely over.

Many Democrats feel that with so much accomplished in the two previous sessions, it's time to coast and to avoid any big new undertakings. A don't-rock-the-boat" mood prevails.

Senat Majority Leader Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) Brown's strong right arm before, has broken bitterly with him on budget policies and other issues.

Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) is exercising strong control over the Assembly—and it doesn't always go Brown's way. Unruh has shown lukewarm support for the administration's 1963 goals.

Business lobbyists, who didn't buck Brown too hard the first time around, are out to scuttle his proposed tax revisions, primarily a withholding system on income taxes.

The governor's own staff has lacked the experienced hands and the drive that marked the Democrats' return to political power in 1959. His office has gone through several complete turnovers of key personnel.

Senator Burns dramatized Brown's troubles last week by turning against his requests for new or increased services and accusing the administration of "political dishonesty" in its budget practices.

The Assembly's two Republicans kept up the barrage in weekend statements.

Don Mulford (R-Piedmont) accused Brown of basing revenue estimates on nine assumptions which the Assembly Republican caucus chairman called "either vague, unsound or over-optimistic."

The minority floor leader, Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks) assailed new programs proposed by the governor. He said they may involve modest costs at the outset but eventually will run into millions of dollars.

Additional taxation becomes inevitable. The initial appropriation is just a foot in the door.

LAOS FIGHTING LULL IN ITS FOURTH DAY

VIETIANE, Laos (AP) — The lull in the Laotian fighting went into its fourth day today with neutralists and pro-Communists apparently biding their time during diplomatic negotiations.

The Communist - controlled Pathet Lao held fast to the territory it seized from the neutralists on the strategic Plaine des Jarres but made no new advances.

Leaders of the two factions were scheduled to meet again tomorrow to renew peace talks which have so far been unsuccessful. Pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong has demanded they be broadened to include such topics as neutralization of Vietiane and not be limited to the Plaine des Jarres crisis.

Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma has not indicated whether he would agree.

Souphanouvong enlarged the scope of the conflict Saturday by charging that the United States had flown 500 Laotian right-wing troops to reinforce the neutralists. The U.S. Embassy and neutralist Gen. Kong Le denied this. The charter company Air America was alleged to have done the transporting.

Watching closely were representatives of the International Control Commission for Laos, made up of India, Canada and Poland. They make periodic trips to the Plaine des Jarres, 120 miles northeast of Vietiane, because the Pathet Lao has refused to let them be stationed permanently in the area.

PROPOSED SHOPPING CENTER — Ground will be broken tomorrow noon for this three-million-dollar Value World Center at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive in Larkspur. The center is designed by and will be constructed by Stolte, Inc. Oakland contractors. Completion is expected by Sept. 1.

Value World Shops Groundbreaking Set

Ground will be broken tomorrow noon for the long-awaited Larkspur Plaza shopping center at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive.

The three-million-dollar, all-under-one-roof center will be known as Value World. It will be built and operated by Value World, Inc., a new corporation headed by William S. Lee of Ignacio, executive of the Lee Brothers supermarket chain.

Lee and other officers of the corporation will host city and county officials at an informal lunch at the Blue Rock Inn following brief groundbreaking ceremonies.

Value World will, of course, include a Lee Brothers Market. Under the same roof on the four one-half acre site will be camera, hardware and paint, jewelry, liquor, candy, drugs, snack bar, shoes, sporting goods, sundries, women's and infant wear shops.

The same conception of one-roof shopping center will be used by Lee Brothers in the Crossroads Center in Novato.

Construction plan encompasses 60,000 square feet over-all, with 48,000 square feet of selling space. Work will begin immediately following ground breaking, with completion scheduled for Sept. 1. Stolte Inc. of Oakland is contractor for the project.

The building will be contemporary modern with exposed aggregate exterior panels featuring "Pacific gold" rock. The window wall entry overlooks the parking area with 300 stalls. The building will be completely air-conditioned. Interior decoration will feature vinyl asbestos flooring and an "acoustic spray texture" ceiling.

There will be automatic check stands, four-decker upright frozen food cases, and the latest in refrigeration equipment — dairy cases with air-curtain doors.

Officers of Value World, in addition to William S. Lee, are his brother Robert N. Lee, vice president; William H. Lamm, secretary-treasurer; Leon J. Sayous and Gil Johannessen, directors. Firm headquarters are in Hayward.

The shopping center will complete the 11-acre Larkspur Plaza development, being surrounded on three sides on the remaining seven acres by apartment buildings. The plaza plan was first submitted to the Larkspur Planning Commission in October, 1961. Plans for the shopping center were approved shortly thereafter, but plans for the apartment area went through several alteration before construction began.

Man Jailed For Knifing At Christening Party

A Novato man was booked in Marin County Jail yesterday for allegedly slashing the face of his step-son during a quarrel at a family christening party.

Alfred Brooks, 20, of Palo Alto, told Novato police that his step-father, Andrew Louis McGue, 42, attacked him with a kitchen knife at McGue's home at 620 Arthur Street, Novato.

Brooks was treated at Novato Hospital for a gash on the left side of his face and neck. The knife narrowly missed his jugular vein, hospital attendants said.

Police said Brooks was at the home of McGue and his mother, Mona McGue, for a celebration following the christening of his half-brother. The argument which led to the knifing was the result of a long feud between McGue and Brooks, police said.

McGue was released from jail on $525 bail and ordered to appear in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday to answer a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

ICE CREAM SHOP CURRENT CUT —YOU NOW WHAT HAPPENED

Steven E. Meuse of 17 Circle Road, San Rafael, just about melted when he opened his ice cream shop in Terra Linda yesterday.

He reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies that when he got his Herbert's Sherbet Shoppe in the Terra Linda Shopping Center ready for what he thought would be a good day's business he discovered some prankster had pulled a power switch outside, cutting the current to the shop's freezers.

All the ice cream—several dozen gallons—had melted.

Lost Deaf Mute Found On Tam

A deaf, mute woman was lost on Mount Tamalpais Saturday for nearly three hours before she was discovered wandering down a trail by a Marin County fireman.

Franklin Smith of San Francisco told sheriff's deputies he and his girl friend, Marcia Ellis, 25, of San Francisco had parked their car at the Mountain Home Inn on Panoramic Highway at 3:45 p.m. and started hiking up a nearby fire trail.

He returned to the car for a moment, and when he went to join Miss Ellis, she was missing. He telephoned the sheriff's office, and preparations for an intensive search, including bloodhounds, began.

After 6:30 p.m., Frank Raymond, fire warden of the county's Throckmorton Ridge unit, saw the woman on the trail to Boot Jack Camp, more than a mile from the area where Smith had last seen her.

Miss Ellis, unable to hear or speak, sat down and wrote her thanks to Raymond and deputies, adding she was "sorry I caused so much trouble."

Organ Concert

Wilbur Russell, associate professor of music and organist at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, will give an organ concert at the Interstake Center of the Latter-day Saints Church in Oakland at 4 p.m. May 5.

The pistol said to have been used by Aaron Burr in his duel with Alexander Hamilton is on display at the old Capitol Building in Frankfort, Ky.

HARLOW

HAIR and Scalp CONSULTANTS

Coast to Coast Home Treatment System

WILL BE IN SAN RAFAEL, VILLA RAFAEL HOTEL, TUESDAY ONLY

If you are totally bald, there is nothing Harlow can do for you. Harlow or no other treatment known is of benefit to excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. Neither of the persons shown above suffered from male pattern baldness. Therefore, Harlow continues its policy of refusing all hopeless cases. Baldness is slow and gradual, even in the most common forms.

If you suffer from dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excess oiliness or dryness, or itchy scalp, or if your scalp is still creating hair, we urge you to take a few moments of your time to see the Harlow consultant and find out what you can do for your particular hair and scalp problem.

Results are guaranteed by the Harlow company. You don't have to take our word—you will be given a written guarantee from the beginning of your treatments through its completion on a pro-rated basis.

For 8 years many thousands from coast to coast have received complete satisfaction from the new Harlow Home Treatment method. You, too, can have healthy hair and scalp. Why not make it a point now to see the Harlow consultants and find out how thousands of others have been helped through this outstanding new method of scientific scalp treatments that you apply in the privacy of your home.

Just go to the Villa Rafael Hotel in San Rafael, California, on Tuesday, April 30, between 1:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and ask the desk clerk for J. D. Welch's room number.

You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Consultations are free and given in private. "DON'T PUT IT OFF TIL IT'S ALL OFF."

ARREST IN NOVATO

They Just Didn't Pay For Their Groceries

"My wife always pays for the groceries," Bernard Gideon Anker explained to William J. Wallace, assistant manager of the Lee Brothers Market at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue, Novato.

"I thought my husband paid for them," said Mrs. Anker.

The trouble was, Wallace told Novato police, that nobody had paid—and the way the $41.62 worth of groceries were removed from the store made him think nobody planned to pay.

It went like this, said Wallace:

Anker took several large bags from the checkout stand, wheeled them around the store, and filled them with groceries. Then he left them near an exit and disappeared. In came Mrs. Anker, picked up the bags and carried them out to the car.

Anker had $43 in his pocket, said police; Mrs. Anker had $22.66 in her purse.

The Ankers, who live at 1274 Denlyn Street, Novato, were jailed on $262.50 bail each on charges of petty theft.

Drunkenness And Suicide Linked By Scientists

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science has long had evidence of a connection between drunkenness and suicide, and now it has the sad and appalling truth.

Fifty would-be suicides were carefully investigated as they were brought into a general hospital, one by one. Thirty-one of them were either a little or very drunk.

Most of them denied they had been drinking when they made pass at ending it all. But intoxication was established by blood alcohol levels and there is no disputing their meanings.

Previous investigations depended mainly on the would-be suicide's own statement of whether or not alcohol was mixed in with his gesture. For that reason their conclusions were left open to doubts.

The three scientists who made this new study suggested that drunkenness has a more important part in suicides than is supposed, particularly "if the patient's own unsubstantiated account is accepted."

They found that self-destructive drinkers will deny the drinking for reasons which seem good to them. One is that the admission "adds to their embarrassment or shame." Another is the fear that the admission might cause doctors and nurses to take them less seriously.

The study was made in the Royal Perth Hospital in Perth, Australia, and reported to the Center of Alcoholic Studies at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J., by Drs. I. Pierce James, D. N. Scott-Orr and D. H. Curnow.

Of their 50 subjects, 16 were men and 34 were women. They ranged in age from 15 to 69. All 13 of those who were under 20 or over 59 had been drinking. (Statistically those are not the usual suicide ages.) Only half of those between 20 and 50 had been. (That is the common suicide age bracket.)

Only six of the men and one of the women were classified as chronic alcoholics, and in three of the seven the blood alcohol levels were low when they made their suicide attempts.

The seriousness of the attempts were rated on a scale which showed that the threat to life had been "nil or slight" in 29, "definite" in 17 and "serious" in four.

The scientists found "no significant relationship between blood alcohol level and severity of the suicidal act." They found that the great majority of the 50 were mentally ill. They reminded of "the complexity of motivation to attempted suicide. It is an unwise simplification to divide those who commit a suicidal act into some who wanted to die and others who never intended to kill themselves."

As for the connection of alcohol and suicide—"The temporary effect of alcohol intoxication on a person's judgement and attitude to life may be profound. Alcohol may induce depression and lability of mood. It may arouse hostile feelings or self-pity. It may decrease the inhibitions and self-preservatory tendencies which guard the melancholic from suicide."

CAPTURE

entered about three cars and began driving off.

The deputies radioed for help and chased the trio's car down Mount Tamalpais, stopping it on a curve. One of the suspects tossed out a purse, which had been stolen at the summit.

Martin told Sergeant Irving he is on federal parole for forging money orders. But Martin and his two companions denied the car looting, Irving reported.

Officers found curved knives and bent wire clothes hangers, which are believed to be the tools used to enter cars.

When asked why he carried a curved knife, Greenlee was quoted as saying, "I use it to dig rocks, man."

About the time the victims realized their cars had been entered, the two deputies drove back up to the summit to assure them the suspects were in custody.

Union Aide Held In Traffic Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -- A 73-year-old pedestrian was knocked down, run over and killed yesterday in a caroming six-car collision at 19th avenue and Rivera street.

The victim was William Stockfleth, a retired Municipalrailway operator.

William D. Handelsmann, 44, an organizer for the Seafarers International Union was charged with exceeding a safe speed and driving with an altered license plate.

Span Directors Name Assistant Auditor

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, meeting in Ukiah Friday, appointed Margaret Wagner, assistant district auditor, to replace auditor Lee F. Lynch of San Francisco, who has resigned effective tomorrow.

The temporary promotion includes a $50-per-month raise. The appointment was recommended by James Adam, district general manager.

Drapes Are Stolen In Santa Venetia

Two panels of beige colored drapes, worth $200, were stolen from the living room of a home in Santa Venetia, contractor Wesley Tanzi of Lagunitas reported to the sheriff Saturday.

Tanzi is refurbishing a home at 95 Sunny Oaks. He said windows at the home had also been damaged with rocks.

Reds Gain In Model U.N. Session

If the real United Nations were anything like the model U.N. conference held in San Jose last week, the Communists would make all kinds of gains.

The debating abilities of 10 students from Dominican College in San Rafael, representing Poland, helped advance the cause of the Communist bloc.

Joanne White, a junior who was chairman of the Dominican delegates, said nearly all Communist bloc resolutions passed. The conference, known as the Model United Nations of the Pacific West, brought 1,100 delegates from 108 colleges.

The Dominican delegates were seated on several committees and succeeded in such measures as admitting Red China and France to full disarmament debates and condemning Portugal for its actions in Angola.

Miss White said there is no way of telling exactly how the Dominican group did until next year. "If we get our first choice of a country then, we will know we did well," she explained.

Others on the team were freshmen Colleen Buxton and Virginia Sturdevant, sophomores Roberta Munro and Lally Kineen, and juniors Lynda Clark, Helen O'Brien, Hilary Jenkins, Helen Purcell, and Reka Feketekuty.

Salesman Hurt As Auto Rolls

A 27-year-old Berkeley insurance salesman suffered scalp cuts last night when his 1962 Volkswagen rolled over on Highway 1 about seven miles south of Olema, righted itself on the road—but then crashed into a bank.

Charles Reece Ware was treated at Marin General Hospital.

California Highway Patrolman Arthur Krebb said Ware was southbound at about 9:30 p.m. when his car flipped. He cited Ware for failure to maintain control.

High Court Agrees To Decide On Barnett

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to decide next fall whether Gov. Ross R. Barnett is entitled to a jury trial on federal criminal contempt charges growing out of the University of Mississippi rioting.

The court announced that it has notified attorneys in the case that arguments probably will be heard during a two-week period beginning Oct. 14. A decision would be handed down later.

Tried To Enter, Arrested As Prowler

John E. Powell, 34, of Irvington, N. J., was arrested on suspicion of prowling early today by Sausalito police after he was reported to have tried to enter the home of Nina Koulischer of 14 West Court.

Miss Koulischer telephoned police at 3:30 a.m. after she heard someone try to enter the front door and then the kitchen door. Powell told officers he was looking for a place to sleep.

Ned Rankin Wins At Sausalito Show

Ned Pankin was winner of the popular vote yesterday at the third annual art show of the Sausalito Woman's Club for his water color, "All My Dreams Come Back To Me."

Pankin received 43 votes. Close runners-up were Robert Shinn for his sculpture, "The Bear," which got 42 votes, and Bruce Balfour's painting, "Portrait of a Boy," which got 41 votes.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

OBITUARIES

Von Tagen, Bag Firm Owner, Dies

Walter von Tagen, 78, owner of the Novato Bag Co., died yesterday in a Petaluma hospital after a short illness.

Von Tagen, a native of Martinez, moved to Novato from Petaluma about 28 years ago and established his business on Davidson Street. Previously he had worked for the Bemis Bag Co. in San Francisco.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters of San Rafael and the Petaluma Fuchsia Society. Von Tagen was an ardent fisherman.

Von Tagen is survived by his wife, Lela; three sons, and one daughter, James and Leland Hill of Novato, Walter von Tagen of Morgan Hill and Mrs. Florence Luishen of Santa Cruz; a brother, Richard von Tagen of San Francisco and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Chapel of the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

Brothers Hurt As Scooter Skids Off Highway

Two Woodacre youths were injured late yesterday when their motor scooter ran off Shoreline Highway into rocks about a mile west of Stinson Beach.

Theodore Douglas Booth, 21, driving the scooter, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on his right leg and hand. His brother, James, 19, suffered lesser bruises and was not hospitalized.

The youths told the California Highway Patrol they were headed east on Shoreline about 5:30 p.m. when they were approached head-on by a car driven by Frank Liuzza, 18, a drugstore deliveryman of 45 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo. They swerved off the road to avoid a collision.

Liuzza was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road.

Carpenter Arrested On Checks Charge

Marshall Everett Dixon, 28, a carpenter of 346 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, was booked into Marin County Jail Friday night on suspicion of passing nearly $100 in worthless checks.

Inspector Harold N. Hockett of Corte Madera police said he and patrolman Howard Bailey arrested Dixon at his home on a felony warrant with bail at $2,625. Dixon was to appear in Marin Municipal Court late today.

Israel Celebrates 15th Anniversary

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel celebrated its 15th anniversary today, still threatened by the hostile Arab nations which tried to conquer it by force in the first hours of its birth.

Highlight of the anniversary celebrations was the military parade in the seaport of Haifa where Israel's new supersonic jet fighter—bombers and anti-tank missiles were displayed publicly for the first time.

Battery Stolen

A battery was stolen from his car parked at Nave Lanes in Novato Saturday night. James A. Hanley of 757 Beechnut Court, San Rafael, told sheriff's deputies.

Tourist Measure

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly today passed a bill creating a state tourist agency over Republican objections that the state couldn't afford it.

MAUDE LAMOREE

Mrs. Maude M. Lamoree of 427 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, died yesterday in her home after a long illness.

Mrs. Lamoree, a native of Alameda, lived in Marin County for 57 years.

She is survived by her husband, sales manager for Stauffer Chemical Co. of San Francisco; a son and daughter, Jefferson D. Lamoree of Belvedere and Karen L. O'Conner of Tiburon, and a sister, Eleanor N. Birbeck of Oakland.

Private family funeral services will be held tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. The family prefers memorial gifts to the heart fund.

AGOSTINO DEL RE

A Requiem Mass for Agostino Del Re, 85, of Fort Bragg, who died at a Fort Bragg Hospital Friday, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, Fort Bragg.

He was the father of Peter Del Re of San Anselmo.

Del Re and his wife, Mary, who survives him, celebrated their golden wedding in February, 1960. Survivors include four sons, Ed, Reno and William Del Re of Fort Bragg and Peter Del Re; a daughter, Erma Haven of Ukiah; three grandchildren and one great-grand child.

Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at Cain, Grove and Haverfield Mortuary, Fort Bragg.

E. D. JOHNSTON

Ernest D. Johnston, 54, of 75 Laurel Drive, Fairfax, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Johnston, a native of Michigan, lived in Marin County for 20 years. He worked as a maintenance mechanic for the 666th Radar Squadron on top of Mt. Tamalpais.

He was an Army staff sergeant in World War II and a member of American Legion Post 179 of San Anselmo.

Johnson is survived by his wife, Margaret; a son and daughter, Donald Munton of San Anselmo and Mrs. Glenn Buck of San Rafael, and a brother, Milburn Johnston of San Anselmo.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Entombment will be private.

VINCENT FINIGAN

Requiem High Mass for Vincent F. Finigan, a San Francisco real estate man for 64 years, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at S. Dominic's Church, Steiner and Bush streets, San Francisco.

Finigan, 80, died at his San Francisco home Friday after a short illness.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gertrude O'Connor. She was a resident of Ross when the couple was married in 1924.

Finigan, a native of San Francisco, was regarded as the dean of the city's real estate appraisers. He began his career at the age of 16 with the firm of Shainwald Buckbee and Co. He became president of the firm, by then Buckbee and Co., in 1948. He was a former president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board.

Survivors include his wife; a son Vincent F. Finigan Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas O'Connor and Mary G. Finigan; a brother, Joseph H. Finigan, and two grandchildren, all of San Francisco.

Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at Carew and English Mortuary, San Francisco. Burial will be private.

HENRY BASSETT

A Requiem Mass for Henry R. Bassett, 81, a native of Tomales, will be said tomorrow at 9 a.m. in St. Philip's Church, San Francisco.

Bassett died Saturday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. A retired bread truck driver, he was a member of the Bakery Wagon Drivers Union Local 484.

He lived in Tomales and Fallon for about 40 years; before moving to Petaluma and later to San Francisco.

Bassett is survived by one son and three daughters, Thomas Bassett and Claire Bassett of San Francisco, Mrs. Kathleen Dillon of Santa Rosa, and Mrs. Barbara Halsing of San Anselmo; a brother, Ralph, of Tomales, and 11 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. at Reilly Co. Mortuary, 29th and Dolores streets, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

CHARLES CROUCH

Funeral for Charles W. Crouch of Mill Valley, who died Saturday at a local hospital, will be held at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley, at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday under auspices of Mill Valley Lodge 356, Free and Accepted Masons. Inurnment will be private.

Crouch, 95, was a retired self-employed insurance agent. He had lived 87 years in California and for the past 12 years in Marin at 108 Homestead Boulevard.

He was a member of and past master of Calistoga Lodge 233 of Masons, and past patron of California Chapter 189, Order of Eastern Star. Crouch was born in Michigan.

He is survived by two daughters, Lelia G. Crouch and Mrs. G. E. Thomas of Mill Valley, and two grandchildren.

K. MacGOWAN

Kenneth MacGowan, 74, of West Los Angeles, who had been a critic, author, and movie play producer and teacher, died Saturday after a long illness.

Survivors include a son, Peter MacGowan of Tiburon.

Kenneth MacGowan was professor emeritus of the department of theater arts at University of California at Los Angeles, which he established in 1946.

He produced 35 plays in New York, including those of Eugene O'Neill. Some of his most successful movies were "Lloyd's of London," Alexander Graham Bell," "In Old Chicago" and "Lifeboat."

He produced the first Technicolor film, "Becky Sharp."

MacGowan also worked as a critic for the Boston Transcript, Philadelphia Ledger, New York Globe and Vogue Magazine.

He retired from the UCLA faculty in 1958. The university's theater arts building, MacGowan Hall, was named in his honor.

His books included "Theater of Tomorrow," "Continental Stagecraft" and "Footlights Across America." Just before his death, he completed proofreading a forthcoming book, "Behind the Screen."

Other survivors are his wife, Edna, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert Saxon of Chicago.

No funeral service is planned, but a memorial hour is being arranged at MacGowan Hall. MacGowan had willed his body to the UCLA Medical School.

Jazz Musician's Wife Injured In Accident

A jazz musician's wife, a teen-age girl and a little boy were injured at 6:45 p.m. yesterday in the head-on crash of two cars on Evergreen Avenue about 225 feet east of Linden Avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Darlyn Wierbach, 26, was treated at Marin General Hospital for right knee and ankle injuries after the car of her husband, David Penrose Wierbach, 32, of 71 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, a San Francisco musician, collided with that of Allan Carroll Osborn, 20, of 150 Octavia Street, San Rafael, a Greenbrae service station employee.

Kathleen Spaulding, 16, of 111 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, passenger in Osborn's car, suffered a broken left leg. Her condition at the hospital today was good.

James Lewis Wierbach, 5, was treated for a cut forehead.

The senior Wierbach was cited for failure to drive on the right side of the road.

Novato Pigeons Win In Race

Homing pigeons from the Gypsy Loft in Novato took first and second places in yesterday's race of the Tamalpais Homing Pigeon Club from Sparks, Nev., to Marin County and Petaluma.

The pigeons averaged over 46 miles per hour for the 190-mile distance. The next race will be held Snuday from Fernley, Nev., a distance of 210 air miles. The last race of the season will be held on June 22, a 560-mile course from Council, Idaho.

Windows Broken

Robert E. McCurdy, principal of Oliver Hartzell School, reported to San Rafael police today that eight windows had been broken in the school between 3 p.m. yesterday and 8 a.m. today.

Bay Artists To Exhibit In Marin

Creations of more than 100 Bay area artists will be exhibited at the opening of the Marin Society of Artists "Spring Art Rental Show on May 5 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Frances Young Gallery.

The Rental Show will remain open daily through May 31 under co-chairmanship of Eva Kemp and Genevieve DeMartini. Although the rental service is open throughout the year, the show offers a wider selection of new work, the chairmen state.

Paintings in all media and mood, and graphics and prints will be judged on opening day by a panel of Henry Rasmusen, John Lynch, Ken Potter, Gwen Stone and Edwin Cadogan.

Crafts and decorative arts to be displayed will be judged by three Marin County craftsmen, Myra Falch, Bernice Brown and Clara Bass.

Officials estimate that over 200 new works will be presented at the show.

Civic Affairs Unit To Work For Marin Rapid Transit

Major immediated effort of the Marin Council of Civic Affairs will be toward putting Marin County back into the movement for rapid transit, if necessary through creating a special county district, it was decided at last night's annual meeting in the Civic Center.

Keen interest also was shown indevelopment of the second phase of the Civic Center, a topic scheduled for discussion by county supervisors Wednesday.

The meeting elected 25 directors. New officers will be chosen at the first directors meeting, time and place for which will be announced.

Directors chosen were:

Present chairman Harold Stockstad, Morris N. Finisy, Robert Heyer, Steven H. Kaufmann, Franklin J. McClain and Milen C. Dempster, all of Mill Valley; Thomas E. Stanton of Belvedere; Gibbs Lawson of Tomales; Claude R. Witzel, Mrs. Peter P. Yarish and Charles Davies of Novato; John G. Kelley of Nicasio; Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon; Mrs. Russel R. Killian, Mrs. Herbert Appenzeller, James Fletcher, Nathaniel B. Guyod, Robert Mertle and Frank Solomon Jr. of San Rafael.

College Art Club To Display Photos

The art club at the College of Marin will have a display of photographs, paintings and prints at the campus open house on May 11.

By arrangement between Byron Trott, president, and Charles Vento, director of the instructional materials center of the county school superintendent's office, the display later will be shown at the county Civic Center.

Novato Boy, 14, Runs From Home Again

Bruce Crawford, 14, has done it again—run away from home, that is.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford of 12 Nave Court, Novato, reported to Novato police at 9 p.m. yesterday that her son Bruce had vanished two hours earlier. He was still missing today.

The boy, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 160 pounds and with dark brown hair and green eyes, was wearing a white T-shirt, dark brown jacket and blue jeans, said his mother.

He has run away repeatedly, most recently on April 13 when he returned after 36 hours.

Vet Hospital Is Sought In San Anselmo

An application for a veterinary hospital near United Markets in San Anselmo will come before the San Anselmo Planning Commission at a meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

George Bond of 341 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, seeks a use permit for a veterinary hospital on a strip of land between the Miracle Mile and Redhill Avenue.

A continued public hearing is set on Robert Ryan's application for rezoning from multiple dwelling to planned development for property north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the end of Sonoma Avenue.

Morris Burch will resubmit his plans to remodel a building at 75 Ross Avenue into six units.

Library To Have Record Department

San Rafael Public Library's first musical record department will be established from the proceeds of a book sale to be held May 24 and 25 on the library lawn by the Marin County Retired Teachers Assn.

The books are being obtained from donations of friends and members of the association. They will be sold at prices ranging from 5 to 50 cents with a few selling at the top price of $1.

Largest donations to date, according to sale chairman Eleanor Murray of San Rafael, are from Walter E. Zurcher of San Rafael, Madeline Waddell of Mill Valley, and Valerie Ansel of San Anselmo.

Fiction, non-fiction, sets, children's books, paper backs, foreign language, poetry, science, the arts, and mathematics are acceptable for donation. Anyone wishing to donate books may notify Mrs. Murray of 1018 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

'Lost Weekend' For Juanita

Singing the blues over a "lost weekend" today was Juanita Musson, whose plans for getting her Galley restaurant afloat by last Saturday ran aground when county sanitary inspectors failed to show up on Friday.

Mrs. Musson declared today that all violations of sanitary code had been remedied and she had hoped for clearance first Friday, then Saturday, but nobody came except hopeful customers who had to be turned away from the ex-ferryboat Van Damme at Waldo Point.

"So I missed out on the best chance yet to get some money in the till," she said. "What a weekend I lost! Here come four people walking up the gangplank right now. Can't feed you, kids, but look around."

Petaluman Jailed On Driver Charge Hit Two Cars

A 23-year-old Petaluma man was charged with felony drunken driving last night by San Rafael police after the car he was driving damaged two parked autos on Lincoln Avenue at 9:15 p.m.

Barbara Arlene Bradley, 20, of 38 Ridge Road, San Anselmo, a passenger in the car driven by Richard Wendall Reichmuth, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a scraped left knee after the accident.

Reichmuth, driving north on Lincoln, missed a sharp left turn in front of 1446 Lincoln Avenue, and hit a parked car belonging to S and C Lease Plans of San Francisco. This car, in turn, was pushed into one belonging to Reginald T. Miller of 1446 Lincoln Avenue, according to police.

Reichmuth was jailed on $550 bail to appear in court on Wednesday.

Car Sandwiched; Boy, 6, Injured

A 6-year-old Ross child was injured Saturday when a car in which he was a passenger was sandwiched between another car and a Greyhound bus.

Jeffery Manson, son of Dr. William G. Manson, 42, of 45 Baywood Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut face and lip. Also treated at the hospital was Mary Minto, 43, of 29 Archangel Court, Fairfax. She suffered bruises on her left arm.

According to San Anselmo police, the brakes on Mrs. Minto's car failed and it hit the car driven by Dr. Manson, pushing it into the bus driven by Richard B. Moore of 230 Elm Street, Mill Valley.

Moore had stopped for a red light at Redhill Avenue and Sequoia Drive at 3:18 p.m.

Rafferty Speaker

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, will be the main speaker tomorrow night at a Republican dinner.

Rafferty, who kept alive his running battle with assembly speaker Jesse Unruh over a bill designed to halt school dropouts, is scheduled to speak at the fifth annual dinner sponsored by the 43rd Assembly District Republican Buck and Ballot Brigade.

Vicuna Rug Taken

Theft of a $500 vicuna rug, imported from Peru, and a $50 salad bowl was reported to San Anselmo police yesterday by Mrs. Helen Benioff of San Francisco, who maintains a summer cottage at 1 Summit Avenue, San Anselmo. She said the two items were last seen on March 28.

HELPING COUNTY SUPERVISORS

After a visit to the Civic Center and after hearing county supervisors ponder over a problem, eighth graders at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur went back to Douglas Lindauer's social studies class and came up with a suggestion. The day the class made its visit, supervisors were wondering how to protect the open light wells in the civic center without having an unhightly rail. The eighth graders suggested using clear plastic panels. Here (from left) Anita Gronzo, Linda Kaplan, Cris Gondak and Robert Wayne look at a cross-section sketch of their idea. Supervisors have referred the suggestion to the county safety committee.

School Board, Teacher Rift Warning Made

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — "School board members are learning the hard way that teachers can no longer be taken for granted, can no longer be pushed around," an Arizona educator said today.

Prof. Daniel R. Davies of the University of Arizona added, "If school boards and teachers don't learn how to work together, we will get into an era of jungle warfare of the type that industrial and management once went through."

THEY'RE WORRIED

Davies spoke in an interview at the annual meeting of the National School Boards Assn. NSBA delegates are frankly worried that the determination of teachers to have more voice in decisions about their salaries and conditions is a threat to local control of education.

The situation in Utah, Davies said, is a case where "each side has gone almost too far for there to be any hope of friendly agreement being reached."

Dr. W. Dean Belnap, president of the Utah School Boards Assn, said yesterday that Utah's public schools are almost certain to remain closed next fall. unless a special session of the legislature votes additional school funds.

Neither the teachers nor Gov. George D. Clyde has shown any sign of budging an inch, Belnap said.

TEACHER EXPENSE

Davies noted that "about 70 per cent of the current expenses in a school budget is for teachers' salaries, and most of the rest is for fixed expenses which school board members can't do much about.

"If local boards, such as those in Utah, are not allowed to make the basic decisions on finance, there is little left for them to do."

The National Education Assn. and its various state affiliates have been urging what they call "professional negotiations" in setting salaries and working conditions. The smaller but more vocal American Federation of Teachers plumps for collective bargaining.

Marin Youth Orchestra Packs Them In

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

One of the highest compliments deserved by the Marin Youth Orchestra is that it is worth hearing as an orchestra —not just a youth orchestra.

In its spring concert last night at San Rafael High School auditorium, which was almost filled to capacity, some of the reasons for this were evident.

Much credit is due conductor Hugo Rinaldi because of his impeccable musicianship and gift for directing and dealing with young people. But just as important was the intense interest and effort reflected in the eager faces of the 70 musicians. And there was unanimity of technical achievement made possible only by long hours of practice.

The orchestra played well in its three numbers—Symphony No. 3 (First Movement) by Franz Schubert, "Merry Wives of Windsor" by Otto Nicolai, and the "Emperor Waltz" by Johann Strauss. And its performance was properly controlled in accompanying the two soloists, soprano Jan McCready and violinist Sharon Johnson.

Both of these girls should have a bright future in music if they want it enough to cultivate the other attributes necessary in addition to talent.

Jan has a lovely and remarkably mature voice and appearance for a 16-year-old, with a flair for dramatic rather than lyric expression. For this reason her second number, "Ma Chiamano Mimi" from "Puccini"s "La Boheme" was more successful than the first, "Ave Maria" by Luigi Luzzi.

It was interesting to note that the arrangement of the latter was by James Watkinson, a former youth orchestra member who is continuing his studies at San Francisco State College.

The playing of concertmistress Sharon Johnson in Max Bruch's Violin Concerto in G Minor was notable for a flashing attack and vigor not often achieved by feminine violinists.

4-Year-Old's Frog Leaps For Top Prize

Mill Valley youngsters have a way with frogs.

Four-year-old Shannon Mullins of 117 Rising Road prodded her entry in yesterday's frog jumping contest at Sabella's Restaurant to the five-foot-seven-inch mark, taking the top prize for the greatest distance traveled in three hops. Last year, another Mill Valley youngster, Fred Myers, won first prize.

Placing second in this year's contest was the frog entered by Donald Eastes 8, of Terra Linda, scoring a distance of five-feet, one-and-one-half inches. Right behind him was 11-year-old Lindy Long's frog, with five-feet, one inch. Lindy is also of Mill Valley.

Shannon's older sister Brigid had the frog scoring the top jump of the day with six feet, four inches in the preliminaries, but it failed to make a finals.

Besides receiving the award for Marin's best 1963 frog jumper, Shannon automatically becomes eligible to enter the finals in the traditional Calaveras County Frog Jumping Jubilee at Angels Camp May 16-19.

Some 65 youngsters from all parts of Marin County had frogs in the jumping contest which Sabella's has featured for three consecutive years.

Barriers Down

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Racial barriers were lowered yesterday at 10 downtown and suburban churches. At 29 other churches, Negroes were turned down. There were no disturbances.

Negroes first attempted to attend white churches Easter when two churches desegregated and three others did not.

General Plan Hearing In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. today will hold its second hearing on a revised general plan designed to serve a population of 13,000 by 1980.

The meeting in town hall will take up seven recommendations made April 19. If the commission approves the plan tonight, town mgr. Arhtur H. Brandow is to set a town council hearing for May 16.

Man Arrested For Pointing Rifle At Golden Gate Span Toll Collector

A Golden Gate Bridge motorist, who allegedly pointed a rifle at a bride toll collector and declared he was not going to pay his quarter, was arrested yesterday in San Geronimo.

Donald F. Loranzetti, 40, unemployed, of San Francisco, when apprehended shortly before 5 a.m. by Marin Sheriff's Sgt. Kenneth Irving, said he had money, but "I didn't want to pay." He said he intended to jump from the bridge but "didn't have the guts."

A county-wide search for Loranzetti began at 4:01 a.m. after toll collector John McAllister told the California Highway Patrol a man, northbound in a white Ford sedan, shoved the barrel of a rifle in his face and said, "I'm next customer. I won't pay," then sped across the bridge.

At 4:10 a.m. Ward Evans of Muir Beach told the highway patrol he was northbound on the bridge when he saw someone throw a rifle from the car in front of him. He followed the car and got the license number before it turned off the Sausalito exit.

After he was stopped on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Geronimo, Loranzetti admitted tossing out the .22-caliber rifle after threatening the toll collector. The rifle, picked up later from the bridge pavement, was unloaded.

Loranzetti, according to the patrol, has been under psychiatric care for eight months. He was held in San Francisco City Hospital for observation.

Students Watch As Woman Doctor Leaps To Death

While 47 high school students watched, a woman doctor leaped to her death from Golden Gate Bridge Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Clara K. Levine, 36, of Hayward became the 242nd known suicide from the bridge at 1:34 p.m. She was the mother of three children, aged 2, 6 and 8, and was the wife of Dr. Julius Levine, operator of his own hospital in Hayward, founding director of Mount Eden Hospital in Castro Valley, and former chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Alameda County.

C. Frank Schell, 16, told the California Highway Patrol that he and 46 other King City High School students were on an outing and had stopped on the east side of the bride's south tower to watch a seal play in the water below.

"Someone said, 'Look,' and I saw this woman put one leg over the rail," Schell said. "Then she put the other leg over and just pushed herself away . . . I turned away. I didn't want to see it. . . . Then I heard her hit."

Mrs. Levine's body was picked up by the Coast Guard an hour later from a moat at the base of the tower and taken to the San Francisco coroner's office.

She had worked with her husband at the Levine General Hospital in Hayward but had recently been under treatment at a Belmont sanitarium following a nervous breakdown.

Her Cadillac sedan was parked in the bride's toll plaza lot.

New Gomez Trial Set For June 17

The second trial of jeweler J. Robert Gomez of Mill Valley, accused of conspiracy-robbery, will begin at 10 a.m. June 17 in Judge Francis McCarty's department of San Francisco Superior Court.

The first trial ended Feb. 7 with a hung jury. The vote was seven to five for acquittal. Gomez, whose shop is in San Francisco, is accused of masterminding burglaries of $112,000 in jewels.
